It is said that Mr. Harrison is last' at the newspaper talk about that Cape May cottage gift by Mr. in mamaker. The newspaper talk won't hurt him half as bad as taking that house.

Mr. Blaine has evidently discoveled that the "home market" for the American farmer is not as big a thing as it was cracked up to be. It seems that the American farmer is discovcrug it, too.

Mr. Blaine informs Mr. Frye that "the balance of trade with Latin America is largely against us." This is no new discovery. But it will be always against us while the stupid, trule-destroying tariff exists.

Prince Bismarck says the German press is cowardly. When Bis was Chatcellor and cock of the walk he never failed to slap the muzzle on the press when it showed a disposition to be anything else.

Rev. J. M. Ruskin, of Georgia, who was nominated by the Thomas county Alliance, has written a letter to the Alliance saying that in his "putton this is not an opportune time for the Alliance to enter politics.

with neither noise nor smoke. It may be used also for artillery.

In his letter to Mr. Frye, Mr. Blaine gives the American farmer the cheerful information that "our foreign market for breadstuffs grows narrower." And still these stupid tariff builders go on to make the tariff wall still higher, and to make that foreign market for breadstuffs still narrower. What bright statesmen they are.

With the "balance of trade of Latin-America largely against us,' with our "foreign market for breadstuffs becoming narrower," will some subsidy advocate tell us how subsidies are going to build up American commerce until the tariff is brought down to a reasonable, business basis?

The constituents of Congressman Oates, of Alabama, have endorsed him for re-election. As Mr. Oates was the first Congressman to take position against the sub-treasury bill, this shows that his constituents appreciate an honest, square out Representative.

Boss Reed may be a very able Statesman and quite brave, but he isn't able enough to keep enough of his gang together to make a quorum. After a spasmodic effort to do something Monday, the House had to adjourn for want of a quorum.

Senator Frye is probably now willing to believe, with Mr. Blaine, that while the protective tariff is a good thing to enable them to "fry the fat" out of the American manufacturer, it also fries the fat out of the American farmer.

The Reed gang adopted the set of rules under which they are working to "expedite the transaction of the public business." They had better adopt another rule now to expedite a quorum to transact public business.

Weather Forecasts. The following are the weather forecasts for to-day:

Money Stolen A bold safe robbery was committed vesterday in a business house on the wharf, and during the busiest part of the day. Capt. J. I. Metts, produce broker, who has an office in the building on the wharf opposite Messrs. Hall & Pearsall's, on South Water street, left his place of business a few minutes before noon, leaving the outer door of his safe unlocked, and when he returned at 2 o'clock p. m., found that during his absence some one had smashed the iron door of the cash box, and robbed it of between eight and ten dollars in money, but fortunately had failed to open an inner compartment, where other funds were kept. The door of the cash box was broken to pieces, apparently with heavy blows of an axe. There is no clue to the thief.

WIL. LIGHT INFANTRY. A Grand Military Excursion to Carolina Beach

The committee appointed to make arrangements for the W. L. I. excursion to Carolina Beach have decided upon Thursday, the 16th inst., as the date. It will be an event full of pleasure for everybody. There will be a prize drill, music for dancing, a stereopticon entertainment, fireworks and a turtle eggs hunt, besides other attractions. The Sylvan Grove will make three trips during the day to and from the Beach, the last boat leaving on the return at 10 o'clock in the evening.

The Rice Crop. Messrs. Talmage's Son's latest report on the condition of the rice crop are favorable, and unless some untoward circumstances arise it is likely to be considerably larger, though later than the past four years. Crops in all tide water sections of North Carolina are in fine condition. The average is slightly larger and the outcome under favoring circumstances will show a considerable advance over last year. Upland is having a tough experience and, unless there be continuous and heavy rainfalls, is likely to prove almost an utter failure. Reports from South Carolina, Georgia and Louisiana are pretty much of the same tenor as the above. Special Rates to the Laurinburg Convention

The Carolina Central Railroad Company will offer special rates to delegates and others attending the Democratic Judicial Convention for the Seventh District, which meets in Laurinburg today, and also for the Congressional Convention, which meets at the same place on the 29th inst. The fare for the

In the case agaiust Horn for assault and battery with a deadly weapon, Alex. Moore, the colored farmer who was attacked on the Little Bridge road near the Prigge place on the 25th of June early in the afternoon and was beaten with a club, testified that Horn was his assailant; that he gave him (Moore) several blows, but ran off when he cried for help.

Louisa Moore, colored, passed the deendant sitting by the roadside near the Prigge place. Soon after, heard Alex Moore's cries, and went back and found him in the road bruised and beaten; was positive that Horn was the man she saw acres in corn this season besides a good by the roadside.
