it was considerate in Mr. Carnegie that he didn't make the farmers America pay for the cutting of that big diamond which he presented is a bridal gift to Mr. and Mrs.

Superintendent Porter estimates the population of this country, from the figures of the census just taken, at 64,500,000. Wonder if he has made due allowance in this for the transands of people who were jumped.

Judge Tourgee rises to remark that "the American people will never admit that gold is the proper motive power or the mainspring of party ac-No, indeed. But it is the motor that runs the Republican party, all the same.

It is said that Hon. John Sherman has expressed his determination to retire from public life at the end of his present term. When the Ohio Convention galvanized the remains of Foraker Mr. Sherman became real sad and dispirited.

The Pennsylvania Republican Convention endorsed Boss Quay, and the Ohio Convention endorsed the remains of Foraker. A Republican politician must get very low down before a Republican Convention refuses to endorse him.

The Boston Gazette, Rep., says that James Cr. Blaine, Jr., is troubled with a case of enlarged head. James G., Ir. is probably only trying to imitate the distinguished gentleman in Washington who is trying to fill his grandfather's hat.

With the condition of the crops in all the Western States except Minnesota unpromising, from the long drought, a tariff which increases the cost on everything which the farmer has to buy will not be a cheerful thing for him to contemplate.

Autocrat Reed has issued his ukase agaist any more public buildings this session. This is somewhat belated, considering the fact that the bottom is knocked clean out of Uncle Sam's bank account and a great big deficit is looking him square in the face.

The Philadelphia News, Rep., says the naughty Democratic papers are spreading false statements about the surplus being wiped out, etc." As the Democratic papers simply quote the figures of Senator Allison and other Republican statesmen this remark of the News seems to be a cruel reflection upon their veracity or arithmetic, or both.

TRIED AND CONVICTED.

Ed. Edwards Sentenced to Ten Years in the Penitentiary for Assaulting and Robbing L. A. Mills.

Ed. Edwards, colored, one of the highwaymen, was tried, convicted, and sentenced yesterday, in the Criminal Court, to ten years imprisonment in the State penitentiary, for assaulting and robbing

Mr. L. J. Mills on the 10th of June last. Mr. Mills is a farmer, living on the Federal Point road, a few miles from the city. He was attacked on the road while on his way home, by a colored man who overtook him and his son Louis, a boy of twelve years, and accompanied them about a mile. Mills was knocked down, robbed, and cut on the head severely, with his own knife which the robber took out of his pocket. On the description given of the robber, Edwards was a few days afterwards arrested and was identified by Mills and his son as the Edwards had no counsel. but he introduced two witnesses for the defence-Dempsey Sneed and Charley McArthur, both colored.

Edward Edwards, assault and battery Dempsey Sneed testified that Edwards, the prisoner, was at work at her place-the Hewitt farm near Jumping Run-on the day the robber occurred.

Charley McArthur testified that he was working at the same place, on the day mentioned, and saw Edwards off and on through the day.

Edwards testified in his own behalf: he was hired by Sneed and went to work Monday the 9th of June, slept at the place at night. The prisoner admitted that he was an escaped convict from the workhouse, was sent there for cutting a man with a knife in a fight. The jury was out only a few minutes and returned a verdict of guilty. Judge Meares sentenced the prisoner to ten years in the State penitentiary.

An Exciting Runaway. When the train with the troops arrived at Wrightsville yesterday, it backed Two carts were driven up to take the baggage before the train had been placed as it was wanted, and both horses became frightened at the engine and one of them turned and ran with headlong speed out on the pike towards Mr. H. M. Bowden's place. We could not learn what damage was done to that team, but the other frightened horse attempted to turn and run the other way, right in front of the postoffice, when the cowcatcher struck the rear of the cart and, lifting it up, threw it and the horse all in a heap together, the animal badly demoralized and the cart badly smashed. Fortunately no person was hurt, and the horse was more frightened than

THE NORTH CAROLINA STATE GUARD.

ALL THE TROOPS IN CAMP.

Arrival of Companies of the First and Third Regiments--- A Busy Day--- The Y. M. C. A. Tent.

Yesterday morning's sun rose from its ocean bed clear and beautiful, and at the regular hour for legitimate sun-rising, the only company in camp (Co. G.) gladly hailed its coming. The night passed peacefully and with tolerable quietude, although we learn that one young soldier, who was all unused to the deep anthem of the ocean, awoke in the night and aroused his comrades by shouting, "I say, you'd better hurry up and come down stairs, for there's a cyclone coming, and we shall all be blown away!" It was the roar of the ocean that astonished him.

As there was but the one company in camp, there was no regular guard mounting yesterday morning, but the regular morning and afternoon drill exercises were gone through with very creditably on the large parade ground. The company arrived in heavy marching order, with knapsacks and blankets, so that the members had comfortable 'sleeping arrangements. The cooking arrangements were convenient and ample; the food was well cooked and served and the men ate with a relish, as hungry men usually do. Though few in number the company is a fine body of young men. The following is a list of the officers and men:

Captain-J. F. Thomas. First Lieutenant-T. H. Myers; Second Lieutenant-W. Z. Morton, Jr. First Sergeant (acting)-H. A. La-

The troops arrived in camp at a late hour, and every officer and soldier was soon busy in preparing for their supper and getting ready for needed rest; at least all but the men for guard duty, as the guard lines were established, and the guard posted after the arrival of the

The tent is under the charge of Mr. L. A. Coulter, State Secretary, and Mr. G. M. Busey, Secretary of the association of this city. In addition to the large amount of reading matter, there will also be a plenty of stationary and writing material for the convenience of correspondence, so that the "soldier boys" may write as often and as much as they please to their friends at home. The tent is also supplied with the surrounding trees in the immediate | coming a law.

vicinity, where the tired or sleepy may indulge in a delightful rest or a quiet "snooze." Mr. Coulter will be constantly in attendance, and Mr. Busey will be there a good deal of the time.

- Delightful weather for the Encampment.

- The soldiers are here, and the enemy will soon be "bottled up." - Col. W. C. Jones, of this city, was a visitor in camp yesterday. - Camp Latimer has been thoroughly policed and looks neat and tidy. - The "fresh-fish alliance" has concluded to give a hearty support to the

- Col. W. T. Gray, of the Third Regiment, arrived in camp early yesterday afternoon.

- Commissary General J. T. Cantwell reported at headquarters for duty yesterday afternoon. - There were 1,061 tickets sold to passengers over the Seacoast railroad on Monday last. Ho, for the Sound!

- The first installment of "fakirs" arrived in camp vesterday afternoon with watches, rings and other jewelry, "sheep, mine friend, very sheep."

- Mr. H. A. Latham, editor of the Washingson Gazette, is in camp. He is acting first sergeant of Co. G., and is a clever, good-looking gentleman.

- Captains Riddle and Gilmer, of the Quartermaster's Department, are efficient officers and indefatigable in the discharge of their onerous duties.

- The members of Co. G looked lonesome vesterday until the arrival of other companies in the afternoon, when the camp put on a livelier appearance.

- Private Claude Jordan, Co. G, is the reporter for the Washington Gazette and he is a true soldier, a clever gentleman and is mighty good-looking withal. - Col. W. L. DeRossett, of this city, and Capt. W. R. Kenan, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, were pleasant visitors at Camp Latimer yesterday af-- Col. F. A. Olds, Quartermaster

General, is almost ubiquitous, so quick are his movements to see that every detail of his department is just as it should be, in "apple-pie" order. - Sergeant Hatcher, with a corporal and seven privates of the Second Artillery, U. S. Army, arrived here from Fortress Monroe, Monday evening, and will have charge of the artillery practice. - Gen. Glenn and Maj. Smith, of the Adjutant General's department, intend to make the present encampment eclipse all its predecessors, and are leaving no stone unturned nor pains spared to accomplish that object. - There is nothing in the army regulations or general orders to prevent lovemaking, and if there were, we imagine the soldiers, who are not already mortgaged, would find a way to dodge the prohibition. "None but the brave deserve the fair." Lieut. Col. Bogart, of the First Regiment, arrived in camp yesterday evening with the Washington Light Infantry. The Colonel looks well and always enjoys camp life; it is no new thing to him. He has the vote of being the handsomest officer in the First Regiment.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.

A Crippled Negro Robbed and Nearly Killed by Highwaymen.

Reports were received early yesterday evening from Wrightsville, that a man had been robbed and murdered near the permanent encampment grounds, by two colored men who assaulted and beat him to death with clubs.

Later, more reliable intelligence was received; that the man-a mulatto with a wooden leg, whose home is on Middle Sound—had been robbed, beaten and left for dead in the road, but had regained consciousness, and had been sent to his home. He was found by one of the field hands employed by Mr. H. M. Bowden, lying in the road near Mr. Wm. Larkins' place. The injured man had been at Wrightsville nearly all day, and is said to have had about $20 on his person. His name could not be learned nor the extent of his injuries.

Cotton Belt Bulletin. The maximum temperature in Wilmington yesterday was 79°, at Charlotte, Raleigh and Wadesboro 78, Weldon and Newbern 80, Goldsboro 82, and Cheraw and Florence 84. The min mum temperature ranged from 54 at Weldon to 66 at Florence. There was no rain yesterday in this district; but in all other districts of the cotton belt with the exception of Augusta and Charleston, rain was reported.

Joint Meeting. A joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange will be held at the rooms of the Exchange at noon to-day, to consider the question as to joint action on the part of Southern chess, chequers and conveniences for commercial bodies in the event of the games, and hammocks are swung on Force bill, now before Congress, be-

Destructive Fire in Laurinburg.

WHOLE NO. 7,429

A fire in Laurinburg, N. C., yesterday morning destroyed several business houses. It broke out at 12:45 a.m. in the cellar of Phillips & McDougald's store and spread to the building next door occupied by M. G. McKoy, then to the store of G. H. Sanford, the drug store of E. D. Covington, an unoccupied warehouse adjoining the drug store and owned by M. G. McKoy, and the large store of Alex. McKinnon & Co. Al were brick buildings and all were totally destroyed, Most of the goods were saved, but in a more or less damaged condition. The total loss is not known, nor the amount of insurance, though all the sufferers had some insurance. By hard work of the citizens the fire was prevented from extending farther than it did. There are no engines or other fire apparatus in the town. The origin of the fire is not known. It was in the most prominent business part of the town, and some of the leading merchants were burned out. Messrs. Phillips & McDougald are the heaviest losers by the fire.

Laurinburg has suffered heavily by destructive fires in the last few years.

Big Rolling Stock Contracts.

The Raleigh Chronicle says: "The Seaboard Air Line has contracted with the North Carolina Car Company of Raleigh, for one hundred new freight cars, and the same company will have another hundred built at the Seaboard & Roanoke railroad shops. The R. & Gaston shops here will build a large number of new cars this year. All this is to be done to supply the Seaboard Air Line with the rolling stock which will be needed on the completion of that important road, the Georgia, Carolina & Northern. This last line has ordered a number of large ten wheel consolidation locomotives."

For the Alliance.

The Atlantic Coast Line will have round trip tickets on sale, August 10th to 13th inclusive, and good to return until August 19th, from Wilmington to Asheville, on account of the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance. Price of tickets $9.70 for the round trip.

The Rockingham Spirit is moved to remark that it is "proud (this is a OUTLINES. remarkably 'proud' spirit by the way) to say that there is not a man in North Carolina who would stand the ghost of a chance of getting a nomination at the hands of the Republican party, for even the smallest county office, who would hesitate an instant to sign every demand of the Alliance." Of course they'll sign. That's just what we said. The average Republican candidate would sign anything but his death warrant, if it presented a chance of election. They are built that way. Mr. Carnegie's bridal gift to Mr. Stanley and his bride was a great uncut diamond. When Mr. Wanamaker presented Mrs. Harrison with that Cape May cottage he said it was from "unknown friends." Mr. Carnegie might also have informed Mr. Stanley and his bride that this great diamond was the gift of unknown American farmers, who had paid for it in the protected iron and steel which they bought from him. The Oxford Day says "Baldy"

Williams is not called Baldy because his head is innocent of hair, but that it is an abbreviation of Archibald, his first name. The man who runs against him will be much more abbreviated than that before "Baldy" is done with him, or Baldy has lost his grip, which does not appear up to this writing.
