The tariff bill was further considered in the Senate yesterday, but very little progress was made; there was a general debate in which both sides of the Senate were charged with the consumption of time in the consideration of the bill, but it passed off with very little clashing in the House Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, made the point that the Journal of Saturday was incorrect, but it was finally approved by a vote of 90 to 75, the Speaker counting a quorum; the conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill was then agreed to, after which the floor was accorded to the committee on the District of Columbia, but no progress was made.

At a point near "Foster's Station" on the Ocean View Railroad, the organization in Wilmington, bearing the above name, have erected a building for those unfortunate poor who have been sick and have become convalescent. The name given to the building is, "The Shelter of the Silver Cross," as that is the badge adopted by the order. The organization is entirely unsectarian, and the work is supported by the King's Daughters, and by voluntary contributions of public spirited and benevolent minded Christian people. The "Shelter" faces the ocean, on a line with the other buildings on the beach. Entering the front or ocean end of the building, the first room to the right is a memorial room, furnished throughout by Mrs. Liebman as a memorial of her deceased son. The dimensions are 15 by 15 feet. In rear of this is a sleeping room 10 by 15 feet, and the next is the dining room 15 by 15. Next in rear of the dining room is the pantry, 8 feet square, and then the kitchen, 12 feet square. The main hall is 10 feet wide, and 40 feet long. On the opposite, or westerly side of the building the first is the matron's room, the next the dormitory, bath and servant's room. All the rooms will be thoroughly furnished with every necessity and comfort for the convalescent, who may avail themselves of the comforts and blessings of the institution, which is especially designed for the benefit of the children of the poorer class who cannot afford the expense attendant upon the ordinary needs of children who have been sick but are getting better and need a change of air, diet and atmosphere. To such this is, indeed, a most munificent benefaction. The officers of the "King's Daughters" in Wilmington are as follows: President—Mrs. J. W. Murchison. Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. C. H. King. Mrs. Fannie Hayes has been selected for the position of matron of the "Shelter," and she is a lady eminently qualified for the onerous duties of the position. The reporter is under deep obligations to the secretary and treasurer for valuable information regarding the institution and its work. The building will be completed, dedicated and ready for occupancy next Friday and the public generally and especially all circles of the "King's Daughters" in the city, are invited to be present. The dedicatory services will take place in the afternoon. Persons wishing to give donations for this commendable charity are requested to send all light articles to Mrs. Jewett's store on Princess street, while heavy articles, such as furniture, etc., may be sent to Mr. W. A. Dick, at the Princess street depot of the Seacoast railroad.

A Cutting Affray.

Willie Shepherd and Thomas Day, two young white men living in "Brooklyn," were on a "tear" together Saturday night and after having two or three "scrapping" matches in the lower part of the city, engaged in a fight near the corner of Sixth and Bladen streets in which a knife was used and Tom Day received a severe cut across the left forearm at the wrist, which will disable him for some time. The men are brothers-in-law, having married sisters. They were each required to give bond in the sum of fifty dollars for their appearance at the Criminal Court.

A Lively Sunday Morning.

The police had a lively time of it early Sunday morning. They made twenty-two arrests between 2 and 6 o'clock. Besides several cases booked as "disorderly conduct," there was a "cutting scrape," in which two white men were concerned, and a "shooting frolic" among negroes; one of the crowd getting a pistol ball in his back.

SHOT IN THE SHOULDER.

A Colored Man Wounded in a Row at a Disreputable House. Dave Hawkins, a colored man well known in police circles, was shot and severely wounded last Sunday morning between one and two o'clock, at a house in Wallace's Alley near Red Cross and Fourth streets. He reported the matter at the City Hall, shortly afterwards, and said that he had been fired at three times, from an up-stairs window in the house. One of the balls struck him on the left shoulder, ranged downwards and was found under the skin on his back and extracted by the physician called to attend him. Police Sergeant Flanagan with officers Smith and White, at once made a raid on the house and arrested all the inmates, colored men and women, and locked them up in the city prison—Charley Burnett, John Faison, Carrie Boston, Annie Smith, Sophia Young and Louisa Sheets. Shortly afterwards, upon information given by Hawkins, the wounded man, the same officers captured Thad. Hurst and John Harris, colored men, who were at the house when the firing occurred. "One of these men, after being taken into custody by the officers, threw something over a fence into a lot on the corner of Fourth and Chesnut streets, which the officers recovered and found to be a pistol of large calibre and a razor. These prisoners were also locked up at headquarters. Investigation of the case will probably take place at 10 o'clock this morning, if Hawkins is able to attend the Mayor's Court.

Thanks are also due to the officers of the railroad company for their kindness in transporting the troops without expense to the State. (Signed) DANIEL G. FOWLE, Gov. and Commander-in-Chief. H'Q. QUARTERS 2D REG'T, N. C. S. G. August 11th, 1890. General Order No. 6. It is the desire of the commander of the Second Regiment to express his high appreciation of the faithful services rendered by the staff, officers, non-commissioned officers and men of his command during the present encampment. Their ready and cheerful obedience to all orders, their prompt observance of the hours of service, their earnest desire to perform well the duties imposed upon them, would reflect credit upon any troops in the world, and our worthy commander-in-chief and the citizens of their respective sections should be proud of and encourage in every possible way the fine companies composing the command, who always hold themselves in readiness to answer any call made upon them by country, State or county. W. C. JONES, Col. Com'd'g Second Reg't N. C. S. G.

Good! — The Second Regiment band were sadly disappointed yesterday, as they intended to take a flying trip to Carolina Beach, but could not get permission to leave camp. — A regimental court martial has been in session nearly every day since the beginning of the encampment, for the punishment of those accused of violating military orders. — It will take thirteen cars to transport the troops from Wrightsville to their homes; nine from the Atlantic Coast Line, three from the Carolina Central and one from the C. THE NORTH CAROLINA STATE GUARD.

Sunday in Camp—A Quiet Day—Religious Services—Inspection—Arrival of Col. Martin, of the Fourth—Rifle Practice—General Orders, Etc.

The day in camp at Wrightsville, Sunday, was remarkably quiet and orderly. In the forenoon there were religious services at the pavilion, conducted by Rev. Dr. Carmichael, chaplain of the Second Regiment. His subject was "Courage," and was entirely appropriate to the occasion, and was highly appreciated by his listeners. In the afternoon the gospel service held in the pavilion was conducted by Mr. L. A. Coulter, of the Y. M. C. A., and at night services were conducted by Quartermaster Sergeant W. N. Prather, of the Fourth Regiment, which was largely attended, notwithstanding the rain, which fell in torrents at the time. The music was good at all the services, and especially so at the night meeting. The regular Sunday inspection was held at 6 o'clock that evening, and was highly satisfactory, the condition of the men as well as the camp betokening strict attention and care. This, with the dress parade, closed the military exercises for the day, further than some interesting exercises in marching, wheeling and other evolutions—some of which were quite novel and interesting—by the Fourth Regiment band, whose movements were admirable and excited much favorable comment.

Col. J. G. Martin, of the Fourth Regiment, who has unavoidably been detained at home, but whose position has been admirably filled by Maj. Young, arrived Sunday night and was joyously greeted by his command. He is justly very popular with both the men and the officers of the regiment and is indeed a favorite with the entire State Guard. He was without uniform and consequently did not take command, contenting himself with receiving the congratulations of his friends and looking around and admiring the arrangements of the camp. Yesterday morning both regiments went to the battery to indulge in rifle practice and to see the manner of handling guns as exemplified by Sergeant Helcher and the detachment of United States soldiers under his command. Both the drill with the siege guns and the rifle practice showed a marked improvement over former efforts, and were quite satisfactory to all concerned. Major Young, who has been in command of the Fourth Regiment, went home last night and Colonel Martin took command. Both of these officers are very much beloved by their men.

Just before dress parade Colonel Jones, of the Second Regiment, with his staff and the line officers, preceded by the band, marched in a body to the headquarters of the Fourth Regiment and paid their respects to Colonel Martin, of the Fourth Regiment, after which the Second Regiment held their dress parade, at which the following general orders were published to the men: HEADQUARTERS N. C. STATE GUARD, CAMP LATIMER, Aug. 11, 1890. The Governor and Commander-in-Chief desires to express to the State Guard who attended the encampment at Camp Latimer during the months of July and August 1890, his high appreciation of their soldierly conduct while in camp. Their improvement in drill and discipline, the superiority of their appearance, now that all are clothed in their country's uniform, the prompt obedience to orders, and the cheerful acquiescence in all measures of a sanitary character, have made the regimental encampment of 1890 memorable in the history of the State. Officers, non-commissioned officers and privates of the North Carolina State Guard, your State has just reason to be proud of your conduct! To the officers of the General Staff, each in his own department, is to be attributed special praise for the energy, capacity and faithfulness with which their manifold duties have been performed. The presence of that accomplished officer, Capt. S. G. Blunt, of the Ordnance Department, U. S. Army, has been highly appreciated, whilst the non-commissioned officers and privates detailed by the Government for our assistance and instruction in the battery, have added greatly to the interest of the occasion.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

Liberal Contributions for the Extinguishment of the Church Building Debt. Last Sabbath was a grand and happy day for Grace Methodist Church of this city and its congregation. In the morning, after a very impressive sermon by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Creasy, an appeal was made to the congregation for the liquidation or payment of the church building debt. Almost immediately responses were made by several individuals to give two hundred dollars each and other pledges for different sums until over fifty-four hundred dollars was subscribed or paid in, causing the remark from one present that it was the "givingest" congregation he had ever seen, and others said they had never witnessed anything like it before. It seemed as though the people would never stop giving, and sometimes there would be three or four persons standing up for the purpose of announcing their subscriptions at the same time. One of two Chinamen present paid five dollars in cash. A gentleman from Greensboro not only subscribed for himself, but afterwards subscribed one hundred dollars for Greensboro Female College. A gentleman, not a member of the church, gave the liberal sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, notwithstanding he had given liberally before. Persons not only gave themselves, but would subscribe upon the memorial list in the names of Doctors Yates, Mann and other former pastors, and in the names of deceased members of the church or relatives; such as W. M. Parker, C. L. Graffin, W. J. Yopp, and others. That sainted mother in Israel, Mrs. Catherine G. Kennedy, was also remembered; one of her old Sunday School scholars made a subscription in her name, and another increased the amount and still another made the subscription still larger. Members of the Church and congregation who were not present yesterday, some of whom are absent from the city, will increase the amount subscribed. The pastor and people are rejoicing. The storm at night prevented a large gathering, but the fifty-odd souls who were present heard a good sermon on the "King's Highway."
