OUTLINES.

The Senate yesterday concurred in the House amendment to the bill to prevent collisions at sea, and the bill making an appropriation for additional clerical force in the Pension Office was passed; the tariff bill was debated by Mr. Gray and Mr. Gorman, both in opposition to the increased duty on tin plate: a bare quorum could be obtained in the House, and the proceedings were of no general interest. - A caucus of Republican Senators will be held to-night to discuss the order of business and the pending proposition to change the rules. -The strike situation on the New York Central road is practically unchanged; freight frains are moving on time and the running of passenger trains has resumed its normal condition; the old hands will not be employed under any circumstances; numerous applications from men on other roads are being received. - The cholera is decreasing in Jeddah and Mecca. -- The Tillmanites secured the organization of the State Convention, which met in Columbia, S. C., yesterday. ——Of the four hundred postment who engaged in the recent strike in London only fifty will be again employed; a large number of the men are immigrating. —There is much | Tuesday to arrest absent members. reticence at the Treasury Department relative to silver transactions, and no information can be obtained from the officials with regard to offers for the sale of silver bullion to the government which may have been received under the circular of August 1st; it was learned. however, from another source that the offers aggregated nearly one million ounces at rates slightly in excess of $112.54. —— It is believed that the strike of machinists in Pittsburg is the first of a movement to sweep over the bushel of wheat nor another barrel country. -- N.Y. markets: Money easy at of pork." He wasn't thinking about 1@10 per cent.; cotton quiet: middling uplands 12 1-16c; middling Orleans 1214c; southern flour strong and in fair demand at $3 00@5 65; wheat unsettled and higher: No. 2 red $1 041/2@1045/8 at elevator; corn moderately active but weaker: No. 2, 55@554c at elevator; spirits turpentine quiet and steady at 41 @411/2c; rosin steady and quiet.

It costs the Western farmer $1.75 for $1.00 worth of tin to cover his house or barn, but he can shingle his farm with mortgages on which there is no tariff duty.

Tuesday was a good day for pairing in the House. There were one hundred and forty-eight of 'em paired. A system under which so much pairing is done is evidently in need of repairing.

Fifteen millions of dollars a year is a pretty heavy tribute the American people are compelled to pay to the "foreign producer" while somebody is getting ready to start a tinplate shop in this country.

Under the wool tariff the American manufacturers can't afford to import much fine wool, but they can import lots of filthy rags from Europe to be worked up into woolen garments for American purchasers.

Senator Evarts must look to his laurels and hump himself. Mr. Gladstone recently delivered a speech in the House of Commons, in which there was one clear cut sentence containing two hundred and fourteen words.

As Mr. Sherman admitted in his remarks Monday on the slow progress which the Senate was making 58° to 72° for the minimum. In this with the tariff bill that the Democrats "occupied but a fair proportion of the time," he must have been trying to freeze Plumb out.

Patrick Peters, of Portland, Maine, says he has invented a flying machine with which he can travel through the air at a speed of ten miles an hour. If this be so, P. P. is in a fair way to raise in the world from an ordinary clod-hopper to a high-flyer.

A woman in Columbus, Ohio, last week vomited up a live frog which she had been carrying around with her for five or six years. The frog Stephen called Georgiana Foster, colwas seized with a desire to see some of this beautiful world and concluded to climb out. A doctor was called in who assisted the frog's exit with some strong emetics.

The judge who held the last term of court in Perry county, Ky., made his will and took along a guard of two companies of State militia. It is always a wise precaution for judges who hold court in the Republican counties of Kentucky, if they have any earthly possessions, to make their wills before they go and to take along two or three companies of militia.

ANOTHER SHOOTING SCRAPE.

A Young Colored Woman Shot and Dangerously Wounded by a Colored Man.

Clara New, a colored woman eighteen or twenty years of age, was shot and dangerously wounded yesterday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock, by a young mulatto named Julius Bloodworth. The shooting took place at the woman's house on MacRae's alley between Sixth and Seventh near Taylor street. The weapon used was a 32-calibre pistol, and it was held close enough to the woman's person to burn a hole in her dress. The ball struck the woman in the abdomen on the left side about an inch below the navel. Dr. Potter was called to attend the woman about half an hour after the occurrence and probed for the ball but was unable to find it. Believing the woman to be dangerously wounded he sent a message to the City Hall asking Mayor Fowler to take the woman's deposition. The Mayor went to the place but as she then seemed to be in no immediate danger her deposition was not taken.

There were no witnesses to the shooting, although two other women-one of them a sister of Bloodworth-live in the same house. They said they were not in the room when the shooting took place, but hearing the pistol fired, ran in just as Clara New was falling to the floor and as Bloodworth ran out of the house with the pistol in his hand. From all accounts the cause of the shooting was jealousy. Bloodworth had been living with Clara New, and recently had taken up with another woman. On this account Clara and Bloodworth had several quarrels and she says he had threatened to shoot her. Yesterday when he called to see her she was teasing and playing with him, she says, when he told her to get away and let him alone, and suddenly drew a pistol from his pocket and shot her. Julius Bloodworth is a young fellow about twenty years of age, a very light mulatto, of slender build and will weigh about 130 pounds. He is a farm laborer and has been working for Mr. W. T. Alexander, on Topsail sound about ten miles from Wilmington. He escaped from the house immediately after shooting the woman and nothing has since been heard of him.

A great crowd of negroes soon congregated in and around the house where the wounded woman was lying, but upon the arrival of the Mayor and police officers the place was cleared and the crowd ordered to disperse. One man, however-Henry Herring, colored-refused to move when ordered to leave, and was arrested and locked up.

Encampment Echoes. The Raleigh Chronicle of yesterday,

Four car-loads of soldiers returning from the Fourth Regiment Encampment at Wrightsville, passed through the city yesterday evening. The boys looked somewhat sunburnt, and reminded one of the days when active service in the field brought uniformed military upon almost every train. They were in the best of spirit, and expressed themselves as having enjoyed the Encampment hugely.

Excursionists from Rutherfordton.

A party of about five hundred excursionists arrived here yesterday evening about 7 o'clock, from Rutherfordton and other places on the Carolina Central railroad. They came on a special train of seven coaches, and will remain until to-morrow evening, visiting the Sound and Carolina Beach.
