Corporal Tanner and his mouth ware at the encampment of the G. A. R. at Boston last week. The Corporal made a speech in which he paid a high compliment to Southern women. If it hadn't been for the spirit they infused into the fight, he said, the North would have triumphed in onefourth of the time. The Corporal should remember that it takes superb women to mother the kind of boys that bore the Stars and Bars through fire and blood and slaughter in those memorable days.

The Post Office authorities are trying to settle the question, which comes up in the case of the Paducah, Ky., postmaster, who is charged with gambling, whether a man can be a good Republican, a good postmaster and a good gambler at the same time. He may be a success in all three, but he cant be "good" while he is addicted to the vices of Republicanism or gambling.

It is somewhat significant that the resolution endorsing Senator Vance in the Wake county Democratic Convention was presented by the Secretary of the State Farmers' Alliance and unanimously adopted. Persons who have tried to reconcile the varying records of the street thermometers and the Signal Service office instruments may be glad to learn that even these variations follow a sort of rule. From 35° to 75° the thermometers keep pretty well together. About 75° the street thermometers begin to leave the government instrument behind, and the higher the temperature the greater is the variation. Similarly, below 35° the street records are lower than those of the Signal Service, the difference increasing in proportion to the cold.

AN APPEAL FOR HELP.

A Disabled Confederate Veteran Suffering for the Necessaries of Life.

WILMINGTON, August 18, 1890.

Editor Star-—The following appeal for help comes from D. H, West, a gallant soldier of Company C. 3d North Carolina Infantry, as to whose condition a friend in Fayetteville, who is in a position to know of which he writes, says: "Poor West is indeed a most pitiful case, so far as physical suffering is concerned. Still, his pension is quite liberal, all things considered. As to his eye-sight, I would say that he is very nearly blind. The sight is weak from long suffering and taking morphine. He is drawn out of shape from rheumatism and neuralgia, and loss of sleep has no doubt affected his sight. He has a wife and three small children and none able to do more than wait upon him. Perhaps he exaggerates his necessities, but it would be impossible to exaggerate his physical

DEAR COMRADES AND FRIENDS—As my circumstances compel me to beg, and as I am in a suffering condition for the necessaries of life, I come to you, dear friends, for help. To all that has got any feeling for suffering humanity or is sorry for a poor invalid Confederate soldier, I appeal for help. Do, dear comrades and friends give me a little assistance in this trying hour of distress. Six years ago I had to take my bed and there I have been ever since. I have been down so long that I have exhausted all my means, and to-day am suffering both with my wounds and for the necessaries of life. Dear comrades, don't let me lie here and suffer in this condition after I have given the best of my days to my country and offered my life as a sacrifice to defend our homes and firesides from the invasion of our enemies. Yes, here I lie in a helpless condition, with my limbs all shrunken and my body in a terrible state of emaciation, nothing but skin and bone, and with it all I am fast going blind, sinking down into darkness and no one to help me; penniless and poor I am, with nothing to depend upon but the little pension the State gives me, and the charity of the good people of the State. Dear comrades and friends, my life is fast ebbing away, my days on earth are short, and I again appeal to you-don't let me lie here and spend the remaining days of my life at the poor house or at the gates of starvation. Do if you please don't let me be sent to the poor house, much dreaded. Death is preferable, dear friends, and I hope that the good people of Wilmington and the State will pity my helpless condition and give me a little help. The citizens of Wilmington seem dear to me; yes, God bless them! There are the Mearses, the Cowans, the Thurstons, the Cummings, the De Rossets, the Parsleys, Dr. Wood -O! how glad I would be to see their faces once more; and besides those whose names I have mentioned there are in Wilmington many old members of the old Third N. C. S. troops; may God bless them! They are as dear to me as brothers; yes as fathers. There are ties of affection and love for each of them in my bosom that nothing can disturb but death. And now dear comrades and friends, in conclusion, may God bless you and may you live long is the heartfelt wish of your afflicted comrade. D. H. WEST, Late Co. C, Third N. C. S. Troops.
