OUTLINES.

A bill providing for a bank of deposit was presented in the Senate yesterday at the request of the Farmers' Alliance: the tariff bill was debated by Messrs. Coke and Faulkner, and the proposed amendments rejected by the usual party vote: Mr. Evarts presented a memorial from the Grant Monument Association, protesting against the removal of the remains of Gen. Grant from the spot approved by him, dedicated by the city of New York, and approved by his family; bill defining lard discussed in the House, and its consideration extended to the night session. -

In order to relieve the money stringency the Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular to the effect that $10,000,000 of 415 per cent, bonds will be rdeemed at par at any time before September 1st. and after that date all interest will be prepaid to and including August 31 1891. -- A destructive storm prevailed in Philadelphia at an early hour last night; a street-car stable was blown down and several persons killed and others injured; twenty horses were killed. -The House special committee began the investigation of the charges made against Pension Commissioner Raum; Mr. Cooper, who made the charges, isked for some books, which Raum refused to produce, and the committee declining to compel their production Mr. Cooper picked up his papers and left the room; Raum was examined at some length, but nothing definite was elicited.

- The Quay "order of business" resolution was not taken up in the Senate vesterday, which was a great surprise, but it is understood that it will be called up to-day; a conference is to be held upon an order of business that can be supported by the whole Republican yote. —The refusal of the New York Central authorities to arbitrate wil doubtless cause a general strike of the employes on the Vanderbilt system, and the officials are preparing for it; they express the opinion, however, that a majurity of the employes will remain at work. - It is officially announced that Guatemala has signed a treaty of peace with Salvador; Vice President Avala has assumed power, and is arranging for an election for President. -The Thousands Islands Park hotel and twenty other buildings were destroyed by fire yesterday morning; the loss will reach $150,000. - Eight thousand miners in Belgium have struck, and as the Socialist leaders are fomenting discontent it is expected that the movement will spread. - New York markets: Money tight; last loan at 6 per cent. cotton easy; middling uplands 11%c; middling Orleans 11 15-18c; wheat dull, 34@ le down and weak; No. 2 red $1 071/2 @1 97%; corn dull and weaker; No. 2, 11 gc; spirits turpentine quiet and steady at 40 %c; rosin quiet and steady.

Secretaries Noble and Rusk manfully hold the fort in Washington, while the President and the remainder of the Cabinet are off recuperat-Hit.

A Democratic contemporary asks, what has the Republican majority achieved?" Infamy enough to send the party away down to the seventh

The Washington Post remarks that "Senator Vance's fences seem to be in excellent condition;" upon which we rise to remark that they never were any other way.

With a $50,000,000, or greater, deficit in the treasury staring the statesmen in the face there is not much chance of the passage of the bill to refund the direct land tax.

Ewart, Rep., has been renominated for Congress in the Ninth district, and Cheatham, colored, in the Second. The next thing in order will be for the Democrats to retire

When a Democratic procession carries banners bearing the device of "honest elections" it fairly riles the Republican organs. They feel like a man who had stolen something and is constantly reminded of it, when he would like to have it forgotten.

Real estate is valuable in most towns, but there is one town in Maine, where post holes are more valuable than real estate. Three men in Taunton received $1,200 from a telephone company for digging eight post holes and planting poles in their land.

Ex-Gov. Foraker, of Ohio, has declined to be a candidate for Congress. Foraker is not so dead that he don't know when it is good time to decline. As a corpse he feels a good deal more comfortable than he would being mashed by a great big Democratic majority. - dition Decidedly Worse. Telegrams received yesterday from Saratoga were not at all encouraging as to the condition of Rev. Dr. Hoge, the tenor of the dispatches, in fact, being such as to excite great uneasiness in the minds of his friends here.

The first dispatch, received in the morning from Mr. James Sprunt, said that Dr. Hoge was decidedly worse Tuesday and Wednesday; that his attendants were very anxious, but Dr, Bellamy, his physician, hoped for improvement by Thursday, A telegram received later in the day, however, reported Dr. Hoge's condition as unchanged.

At 3:30 p. m. a dispatch was received stating that his condition was about the samə; he was excitable and mind wandering; very weak and greatly emaciated. His temperature then was 101; pulse 106.

The Metoric Season.

Persons who watch the skies these nights may chance upon a brilliant display of meteors or "shooting stars," Commencing on August 10 the earth entered the meteoric zone, and during this season for at least a fortnight, those who are on the qui vive may witness some heavenly pyrotechnies. The August meteors are stated by astronomers to travel in an orbit of very nearly the same pathway as the comet of 1862, and the September shooting stars in that of the track of Temple's comet. It rarely but occasionally happens that meteoric stones are thrown off during these showers. At Melbourne, Australia, in the museum is preserved a stone of twenty-five tons in weight, which fell on a large plain near Melbourne during the year 1860. This meteoric stone fell with such force that it is stated to have sunk into the earth to the distance of six feet. The largest meteoric stone known to be in existence is preserved in Brazil, and exceeds thirty tons in weight. There are two others of immense size, one in the museum at St. Petersburg and one in the museum in
