OUTLINES.

A resolution was presented in the Senate yesterday from a colored mass meeting in Birmingham, Ala., against the passage of the federal election bill; the wool paragraphs of the tariff bill were considered, and Mr. Daniel made a speech in favor of an amendment to strike out the paragraphs and place wool on the free list; a vote being taken the motion to strike out was lost by a strict party vote; the paragraph relating to woollen and worsted yarns was then taken up and debated, but no action was reached; in the House the bill for the adjustment of accounts of laborers arising under the eight-hour law, was, after amendment, passed; the bill amending the alien contract law was passwithout opposition; several other bills were also passed. -The engineers on the Southern Pacific road threaten to strike and stop every train between San Francisco and New Orleans, unless a fireman, who was appointed engineer on a passenger train is removed; this has brought about trouble between the brotherhoods, and committees have been sent to San Francisco to confer with the western members of the order; if it should be in favor of the firemen, they defy the engineers to stop the trains. -The emperors of Russia, Germany and Austria will meet September 4th, during the manœuvres in Siblesia, and the opinion continues hopeful of a definite solution of the Balkan troubles before the end of the year. --- Heavy rains continue in Switz8rland and many bridges have been carried away; a landslip has occurred in St. Gothard pass. -- F. L. Bond, a wellknown citizen of Tarboro, in this State, wandered ftom his home Thursday night, and after a long search his body has been found in Tar river; his mind was thought to be unsettled. --- Another call has been issued for the redemption of $20,000,000 additional four and a half per cent. bonds. -- In Cincinnati yesterday a lineman caught a live electric wire and was instantly killed. --- Gen. Jose Maria Barundia, claimed to be an enemy to the government, was shot and killed on board of a steamer at San Jose, while resisting arrest -New York markets: Money easy at 2 per cent.; cotton quiet; middling uplands 11 cents; middling Orleans 11 3-16c; southern flour quiet and easy;

Within the past decade the production of pig iron in the South has increased from 350,436 to 1,780,909 tons. Isn't Dixie getting there on the iron schedule?

In favoring an increase of duties on imported liquors, perhaps Senator Plumb believed that aristocratic Republicans should be compelled to drink American liquor.

The crop reports from Illinois are very discouraging. But still it must be consoling to Illinois farmers to know that they have a protective tariff on farm products.

The Democrats of the Tenth Ohio district nominated a man who ought to scoop the deck. First his name is Smith, then he is a tariff reformer and an Alliance man.

Tariff builder McKinley, of Ohio, the great wool protector, has been re-nominated for Congress. He will now proceed to try to pull the wool over the people of his district.

From the present progress of the Republican statesmen on the line of reciprocity, it will not be very long before they will be tumbling over on the free trade side of the fence.

Peace reigned in the House wing of the Capitol Friday. The Republican brethren did not make any faces at each other nor call each other brutes, blackguards, nor anything of that kind.

The Republican Senators sat square down on the proposition to put salt on the free list Friday. They should not do this. They will need plenty of salt when the remains are stirred up next fall.

Walt Whitman don't seem to have a very large opinion of President Harrison. He is quoted as saying that Mr. Harrison has "inaugurated the day of small things." Mr. Whitman is mistaken. The Republican party inaugurated the day of small things when it inaugurated Mr. Har-

A Good Suggestion. Mr. G. Z. French, the postmaster, has written a letter to the President of the Chamber of Commerce, suggesting that the Chamber have a standing committee appointed to be called the "Postoffice Committee" and that this committee confer with the postmaster from time to time upon the subject of increased mail facilities from points tributary to Wilmington. This idea is a good one, and it is to be hoped that some action will be taken in regard to the matter. There is every indication that the coming fall season will be a very busy one and increased mail facilities will be of great benefit to our merchants.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING. Heroic Rescue of Two Ladies at Wrightsville by Young Men from Wilmington. Two ladies had a very narrow escape from drowning while bathing in the surf on Wrightsville beach yesterday afternoon, and only the courage and heroism displayed by Mr. Thos. M. Webb and several other young men who went to his assistance, saved them from a watery

The ladies were Mrs. J. J. Hayes, whose husband keeps the Atlas House, near the pavilion at Ocean View, and her sister, Miss Irene Jackson. Both are good swimmers, but they were caught in the undertow and carried out beyond the outer shoal and into deep water before their cries for help were heard. No one else was in the surf, but Mr. Thomas M. Webb of this city, who had just come out and was in the bath house changing his clothes, heard their cries and ran to their assistance. He picked up a life-preserver on the beach, and first reaching Miss Jackson, put it on her and swam with her to the shore; and then, seeing that no one had gone to the assistance of Mrs. Hayes, plunged again into the sea and swam out to her. Mrs. Hayes had become completely exhausted, had lost consciousness and sank beneath the waves just as Mr. Webb reached her, only the skirt of her bathing dress being visible. Catching the skirt, Mr. Webb succeeded in getting Mrs. Hayes' head above the water, but was himself so exhausted with the exertion that he was forced to relinquish his hold upon her. Mr. E. E. WEATHER FOR SEPTEMBER. Prof. Hicks' Forecast for the Month-A Cold Winter Predicted. Rev. Ira D. Hicks, the St. Louis meteorologist, sends to the Philadelphia Press the following weather forecast for September:

Cool nights, with probable touches of frost to the northward, will prevail in most parts at the opening of the month. From the 3d to the 7th storm conditions will develop and run their course from west to east. By the evening of the 5th or 6th these storm movements will have passed the centre regions of the Mississippi vailey, and a cool wave will follow. A dash of cool northwest wind and weather will supplement each disturbed period in September. It will grow warm and threatening, with reactionary storms on and next to September 10th and 11th. From these reactionary days forward until we pass beyond the center of the earth's equinox, about the 22d, general storms and gales may be looked for. From the 14th to 17th we count danger days. Seafaring folks who fail to exercise a prudent watchfulness may pay a heavy penalty.

From about the 19th very warm days may be expected in the west, growing warmer and traveling eastward, with very active storms on sea, lake and land from the 20th to 23d. Note this period -be prepared for the sudden and perhaps severe developments it may bring, and do not be caught altogether unawares should a cold wave with frost and some early freezing follow in the days immediately behind the storm area. Earthquake phenomena at and about this time, also, need be no cause for surprise or alarm.

From the 26th to 30th the elements will undergo the last storm movements of the month. We name the 27th, 28th and 29th as probable danger days. The month bids fair to end in cool nights, with cold and frost to the northward, sufficient to justify proper watchfulness and preparation against damage to immature vegetation.

In answer to numberless inquirles from all parts, we state here that we believe the early autumn will bring very cool weather, and that the coming winter will be much more severe than last. Such conclusion is only a part of deductions drawn and printed six years ago, call for the wet seasons and the mild winters through which we have passed, and for the change to dry, warm summers and colder winters for at least three years, dating from the solstice in June,
