OUTLINES.

Yesterday was eulogy day in Congress: in the Senate Mr. Quay, Mr. Barbour. Mr. Plumb, Mr, Daniel, and a number of others paid eloquent and touching tributes to the memory of Hon. Samuel J, Randall, after which, as a mark of respect. an adjournment took place; in the House the journal of Tuesday last was unanimously passed, together with that of the three following days, all of the Democrats voting in the affirmative; the restof the session was occupied in the delivery of eulogies to the memory of the late Senator James B. Beck, of Kentucky; Mr. Breckinridge described in beautiful language the character and ability of the dead Senator, and he was followed by a number of other members, all of whom delivered most appropriate addresses; an adjournment followed the delivery of the eulogies. -- A conference was held at the Sub-Treasury in New York yesterday between the Secretary of the Treasury and a number of prominent financial men relative to the monetary situation, and a long consultation was held yesterday by telegraph between the President, who is at Cresson, Pa., and Treasury officials relative to the stringency in the money market; the President expressed a desire to arrest a panic and said none will be permitted to occur if the Treasury Department can prevent; Secretary Windom telegraphs to the President from New York, that "there appears to be considerable stringency, but no reason to apprehend serious consequences." -The formal consideration of the tariff bill with Senate amendments was begun vesterday by the ways and means committee of the House, and all of the dutiable schedules acted upon. -- The strike of dock laborers at Southampton has virtually ended; a few of them resumed work vesterday, and the balance will do so to-morrow. -- Heavy and continuous rains have caused a great flood in Western New York; the railroads have been greatly damaged, much property has been swept away, and many acres of good farm land are under water. - Ex-Governor Cameron, of Virginia, has anounced his withdrawal from the Republican party, --- New York city has a population of 1,513,507. an increase of 307,303 since 1880. --- New York markets: Money easy; cotton quiet; middling uplands 1034 cents; middling Orleans 10 15-16 cents; southern flour steady and quiet; wheat lower and heavy; No. 2 red $1 0414@ 1 041% at elevator; corn dull, unsettled and weak; No. 2, 59 cents at elevator;

French engineers say the Sahara desert can be reclaimed and made productive by boring artesian wells from which an abundance of flowing water can be secured.

Under the new law in New York the police arrest boys under sixteen years of age caught smoking cigarettes. They pounced down on a youngster the other day, and lugged him to the station house, when he turned the joke on them by proving that he was nearly forty years old.

Mr. Trotter, a wealthy New Yorker, while taking a bath at Bath, Me., was rescued from drowning by George Morse. He presented Mr. Morse with a nice gold time-keeper as a grateful token of his timely action in prolonging his time on this mundane sphere.

Fred Douglass thinks he has boxed the race problem the solution of which, he said in a recent speech in Washington, lays in the ballot-box, the cartridge box and the knowledge box. If the colored people listened to such mountebanks as Fred they would get themselves into a worse box than the race problem.

Martin Luther Smyser is his full name. He has been selected by Mr. McKinley as chairman of his campaign committee. McKinley wanted a man with a good deal of cheek and that's why he took the fellow who held stock in Raum's refrigerator and then had the gall to sit as one of the committee to investigate

Can it be that Judas Iscariot had some friend who secured the suppression of Kennedy's speech from the Congressional Record? A New York preacher some time ago delivered a sermon in which he held that Judas was a very much abused and slandered man. This does not seem to be the opinion held about Boss Quay.

undertaken a big job, for a lady of her advanced years. She purposes to enter upon the work of reforming the British aristocracy. If all accounts be true she can begin at home and try her hand on her own boys. The Prince of Wales and that boy who was sent to India to let some shocking scandals blow over, would give her a job that would last some time.

A lady of wealth in Boston who had a tender feelin' for the feline tribe, left a large sum of money to establish a home for decrepit, invalid, homeless and friendless cats, and a fiue acre tract of ground, sursounded by a high fence, upon which is to be erected suitable buildings, has been purchased for this purpose. Boston benevolence takes queer shoots sometimes.

The question has been asked, who runs the Congressional Record?" That interesting speech of Congressman Kennedy on Boss Quay has not yet appeared. If that speech had been made on a Democratic Senator, Judas Iscariot would have gotten a chance to figure conspicuously among Republican names and it wouldn't have been so much out of place either.

Reed's friends have declared war upon Blaine and knifing is now to proceed in earnest. Reed has a pretty big abdomen, however, for Blaine's knives to jab at.

Sudden Death of Mr. B. F. Platt.

Mr. Benj. F. Platt, son of Mr. John T. Platt, died of a congestive chill yesterday morning at his father's residence on Mulberry street. The deceased was employed at Messrs. Burr & Bailey's machine shops and was at work there Friday, seemingly in good health, but drank copiously of icewater in the afternoon, while overheated, and this it is supposed, caused the fatal sickness. Those who knew him say that he was a young man of excellent character and was held in highest esteem by his employers and his associates.

The funeral will take place this morning at half-past nine o'clock from the First Baptist Church.

Fifth Street Church. Work will be carried on this week on the new Fifth Street M. E. Church, both night and day, if necessary, so as to have the building ready for use by the third Sunday in this month, the 21st. The kalsomining will be finished in a few days, the chandelier in the auditorium is being put in, and as soon as this is done the carpet will be laid, and the seats-opera-chairs-will be placed in position. Workmen are getting everything ready for the chimes, which will be put up as soon as possible.

Opera House-Bell's Marionettes,

The Norfolk Ledger says of Bell's Marionettes, which will begin a week's engagement in the Opera House here to-morrow evening: "This entertainment with the accompanying gift distribution, filled the Opera House at two performances yesterday, and as usual was received with pleased delight, especially by the younger portion of the audience. It will hold the boards nightly until the close of the week, with a matinee Saturday afternoon."

Postponed.

The Sunday School Convention for this district which was to have convened next Friday in Bladen Street M. E. Church, has been postponed on account of the Sam Jones meetings.

The Steamship Picton With 7,459 Bales of Cotton for Liverpool.

The British steamship Picton, 1,561 tons, cleared yesterday for Liverpool, Eng., with a cargo of 7,459 bales of cotton, weighing 3,794,094 pounds and valued at $385,000. Vessel and cargo by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son. The Picton was the first of the cotton fleet this season. She arrived here September 2nd, and went into berth at the Champion Compress, Her cargo-nearly five bales of 500 pounds weight each to the registered ton-shows the good work accomplished by Wilmington compresses and Wilmington stevedores.

The first steamship last year was the Bourguen (Spanish) which arrived September 12th and cleared September 21st with 2,470 bales cotton and 1,200 barrels

The Charleston, S. C., papers, speaking of the largest steamship now in that port-the Thordisa, 1,539 tons register -say that last season the Thordisa sailed from Charleston with 6,664 bales of cotton-about four and one-third bales to the registered ton.

A DARKEY AND HIS PISTOL. A Shooting Scrape in a Shoemaker's Shop on Second Street.

A shooting scrape took place yesterday afternoon about two o'clock, in a colored shoemaker's shop on Second between Market and Princess streets, but the only sufferers were the man who did the shooting, who shot himself in the hand, and a bystander who received a flesh wound in the leg. The man who did the shooting was Wm. Stewart, colored, a porter in Mr, Dingelhoef's store. During the forenoon yesterday he got into a difficulty with a colored youth named Wm. Suggs, and struck him on the head with a piece of plank. Suggs made complaint at the City Hall and a warrant for the arrest of Stewart was issued and given to police officer Howland to serve. The officer was in search of Stewart and when opposite the shoemaker's saw both Stewart and Suggs in the place. Just as the officer entered, Stewart pulled his pistol and snapped it twice at Suggs; the third time he pulled the trigger the weapon fired, but the ball missed Suggs and hit a colored boy named Horace Adams in the leg, near the ankle. making a slight flesh wound. Officer Howland seized Stewart, and the latter attempting to fire again at Suggs, shot himself while cocking the pistol, the ball passing through the middle finger of the right hand. The officer had to use his club on Stewart before he could make him surrender, but finally disarmed and took him to the City Hall where he was locked up, but was afterwards transferred to the county jail. The case will be investigated before Mayor Fowler to-morrow. PINE STRAW BAGGING.

Its Manufacture May Become a Great Industry in North Carolina-A Complaint that May be Eastly Remedied. Thousands of landholders in North Carolina are interested in everything pertaining to the manufacture of pine straw bagging, and the following, from the Savannah News, is reproduced for their

It is hardly probable that there is any defect in pine straw bagging that cannot be easily remedied. The slight stains observed in some instances on the cotton covered with this bagging are probably due to imperfect methods employed in its manufacture. If this is the case the manufacturers will be able, doubt less to find a remedy for the defect without much trouble.

Last year a good deal of cotton was covered with pine straw bagging and there were no complaints, as far as known, that it stained the cotton. The complaints this year are not such as to justify the conclusion that it will be found to be unsuitable as a wrapping for cotton. They are only such as are calculated to put the manufacturers of it on notice that it possesses a defect that they should set about correcting at once.

There is no doubt that both cotton factors and cotton exporters would be glad to see pine straw bagging, or any other bagging that would call into life another southern industry, come into general use. If pine straw could be made available for the manufacture of a wholly satisfactory wrapping for cotton hundreds and thousands of dollars that now go to the North for jute bagging would be kept at home. The forests of the South contain an unlimited supply of pine straw, and if a cloth could be made out of it that could be sold as cheaply as jute bagging many pine straw cloth factories would be erected at once. They would employ thousands of people, and other thousands would find profitable employment in gathering the straw. Indeed, the benefit to the South would be about as great as if a cheap process should be discovered for making a covering for cotton out of the fiber of the cotton stalk. It is surprising how much has been accomplished with pine straw in the short time it has been utilized for the manufacture of various articles which have come into general use. It has only been a year or two since it was suggested as a suitable material for making a wrapping for cotton, and now pine straw bagging is furnished almost as cheaply as jute bagging, and, with the exception of the one fault complained of, gives about as much satisfaction. That fault, it is pretty safe to say, is not one that cannot be remedied. Indeed, it is probable that it will be remedied as soon as the attention of the manufacturers is called to it.

New York Truck Market.

Mr. J. S. Palmer Commission Merchant, New York, reports prices for fruits and vegetables as follows:

The receipt of dried and evaporated fruits continues moderate and prices hold very firm. Apples, evaporated, 13 to 14 cents, N. C. sun dried, 9 to 10 cents; currants 7 to 8 cents; peaches, peeled, 16 to 20 cents; huckleberries 12 cents; cherries 28 to 30 cents; blackberries 9 cents; beeswax 26 cents; gensing $3 50; honey, market value not established-outlook favorable; eggs, southern 19 cents; sweet potatoes, Virginia. selling at $2 to 2 25 per bbl.

The rainfall throughout the cotton region continues heavy. In this district the Cheraw station reported the greatest amount of rain-1.15 inches. Wilmington recorded 72-100ths of an inch, Goldsboro and Charlotte 65-100ths, and other stations less amounts. The temperature averaged 84° for the maximum and 70° for the minimum.

The following are the weather forecasts for to-day:

For Virginia, fair preceded by light rain, colder, westerly winds.

For North Carolina and South Carolina, rain, cooler, northwesterly winds. For Georgia, rain, clearing in northwest portion, cooler, northwestly winds. For Tennessee, fair, clearing in eastern Tennessee, stationary temperature.
