OUTLINES.

Business on the calendar was considered for an hour in the Senate yesterday. after which the conference report on the railroad land forfeiture bill was considered until adjournment; in the House Mr. McKinley reported back the tariff bill with Senate amendments, with recommendation that they be non-concurred in, and at the same time he reported a resolution from the committee on rules for the immediate consideration of the bill; the resolution gave rise to a lengthened discussion in opposition thereto, after which the amendments were non-concurred in by a vote of 120 to 82; the rest of the session was consumed in the discussion of a resolution offered by Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, repudiating and condemning the speech of Mr. Kennedy, reflecting upon the character and integrity of the Senate as a body. - The ways and means committee of the House yesterday rushed through the consideration of the remaining Senate amendments to the tariff bill, and made report to the House; non-concurrence was recommended in every case; Mr. McKinley's special rule for the consideration of the bill and amendments was adopted. - The speech of Mr. Kennedy, of Ohio, attacking the Senate and Senator Quay, which created such a sensation when delivered, ten days ago, appeared in the Record with the language somewhat modified, but still of an offensive character. - The Treasury Department has issued a circular proposing to purchase $16,000,000 of bonds of the four per cent. loan of 1907, on September 17. --- Palmyra, Wisconsin, reports a fall in temperature within three days of sixty-five degrees, and two successive frosts; last week the heat was so

It is an absolute discourtesy when the customs officers of the country pounce down upon the smuggled jewels of an aristocratic Englishman who comes to cut a swell and then rudely cut a $20,000 lot down to 877, as they did last week in New York.

Getting it Down Fine-Not Who Will Be. but Who Will not Be Collector of the Port of Wilmington.

Much speculation is being indulged in concerning the Collectorship of the port of Wilmington, and the numerous aspirants are anxiously awaiting the result. The STAR has some information which, while somewhat speculative, is believed to be in the main correct. This information, as will be observed further on, does not indicate who will be appointed, but it rather tends to show who will no

The matter has been postponed until October 1st., and the "steering committee" have not yet decided who will "sit at the receipt of customs." But it may be pretty safely assumed that Mr. William Henry Harrison Chadbourn will not get it, he having already been nominated for the 'most lucrative office in New Hanover county, to which he thinks he will be elected. There seems to be little doubt that he is practically out of the fight for the Collectorship. Our revered neighbor-in-law G. Zadoc Zachariah French becomes a "back number," as he is so expert in the handling of the mails that Bargain Counter Wanamaker would not think of dispensing with his services. Mr. S. Vancouver Amringe will positively "get left," as he is already a candidate for a moderately "fat' office; ut, although among the "mentioned," it is not believed he has really applied for the Collectorship. Judge Daniel Lovable Russell, it is believed, could secure the "plum," but his aspirations are not running in that line. He weighs 250 pounds, and is too big a man to potter over Import Entries and Outward Foreign Manifests. Colonel Wilhelm (comdon't want and wouldn't accept the position, as be is now making "cords of money" in the more congenial pursuits oi private life. Deputy Collector John E. ALL ABOUT RICE.

The Sayannah News says:

Prospects and Prices-The Planters Advised to Hold for Higher Prices.

WHOLE NO. 7.476

Rice is coming in rather slowly. The rains of last week and the showers of the present week have retarded the rice harvest. Some rice from the Altamaha and the Savannah river rice plantations has come to the mills and a little has found its way to market from the Ogeechee, but planters are interested more in caring for their crops than rushing the grain to the market, and especially so as the prices of two weeks ago have not been maintained. The market, however, is fair, good being firm at 5%. The News and Courier of Thursday reports the Charleston markets firm at 5% to 5% for good. The New Orleans Times-Democrat's report of Tuesday says: The receipts of rough rice were liberal, and as the demand was good and millers took hold freely prices were fairly well maintained. Clean rice was also in fair demand and firm. The turnout of the mills is large, but the takings of the trade are also liberal. Good is quoted at 51/4.

The Louisiana Planter, an authority among rice men, in a review of the rice position, last Saturday, says: Signal proof of the accuracy of the views of the Planter has been given during the past two weeks. With the first sign of a glut the market tumbled precipitately, falling a dollar per barrel, and $3.90 was the top price. A few rainy days intervening discovered an active demand for clean rice and inadequate supply of rough, and the market jumped up again $1 per barrel, and sales were made at $5 and above. There come now again signs of glut, and forced sales are made at low prices, notwithstanding the fact that the rice markets prices high. There is but one way for the rice planter to resist all this and to get a fair price for his rice, and that is to stubbornly hold on to it until it brings a price that exhibits a proper parity with the general markets of the world, all things considered. No good rough rice should be sold under $4, and if held long enough, say two, three or four months, it will surely bring that price. The best rice arriving is now bringing $4 and something above, but not much of it brings this, and free receipt's are certain to further depress prices unless the rice is ordered into Virginia Peanuts. A Norfolk correspondent of the Cincinnati. Commercial, referring to a circular issued by a firm at Smithfield, Va., in regard to the peanut supply, says: "The statement that there was 20,000 bags of peanuts in Virginia, one-fifth uncleaned, is combatted vigorously by the whole trade. That there was any uncleaned, beyond 1,500 bags, is impossible, and that comprised one lot held for a very heavy advance, since sold at seller's own price. The stock of cleaned goods laid in three mills, and at that date could not have exceeded 5,000 bags. Since that date, August 20, the total visible stock in Virginia has been reduced to not over 8,000 bags, all sorts, and prices advanced 1/2 %c per lb. As to carrying any over, it is impossible. The stock is practically used up already, with six weeks' demand before new stock. As to the growing crop, the prospects are certainly bright, never

Hundreds of persons visited the Sam. Jones tabernacle Sunday, and the comments of the visitors were as numerous as they were varied. The general opinion, however, is that the building will answer the purpose for which it is intended. It is only a temporary structure, and will probably be pulled down soon after the close of the meetings. An active and zealous member of that denomination informed a STAR representative that the Methodists would bear almost the entire expenses of the meetings, including the Tabernacle, for which they will pay a rental of $1,700 for ten or eleven days, though they are promised a few contributions from outside sources,
