OUTLINES.

A train in which the Czar was traveling, on his return from a hunting trip to Poland, was fired at from a railway station at Gradino. A bloodless duel was fought Tuesday by two members of the French Chamber of Deputies; personal epithets in a speech the cause; one fired and missed; the other, the insurer, refused to fire, when the matter was settled.

A young man in Savannah tried to play smart with a street car conductor by presenting a hundred-dollar bill in payment of his fare. The conductor, who was an accommodating sort of a fellow, took the bill, stopped the car, stepped into a store and brought back the young man $99.95 in silver and nickels, and the young man had to hire a cart to haul it home.

The Augusta Chronicle comments on the fact that Secretary Proctor, who declined to lower the flag on the War Department when Jefferson Davis died, did so on the death of Gen. Belknap, who was a convicted bribe-taker. Being a convicted bribe-taker never did lower a man's standing much in the estimation of the men who run the Republican party.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STAR OFFICE—Babbitt metal. G. M. BUSEY—To contractors. MUNSON & CO.—The time to buy. J. C. WINDER—Notice to builders. CRONLY & MORRIS—Real estate sale.

Trial of the Parties Engaged in the Row on the Steamer Maggie.

The persons engaged in the row on the steamer Maggie Monday last (as reported in the STAR) were arraigned before the Mayor yesterday.

Henry Cromartie, the colored pilot, who assaulted police officer Brinkley, was fined $25 for resisting the officer, and in default of payment of the fine was sent to the chain-gang for thirty days. There were other charges against Cromartie—one for disorderly conduct and fighting Mr. R. McCabe, and one for disorderly conduct and fighting in the afternoon. In both of these cases judgment was suspended for thirty days.

W. H. Council, the colored fireman of the Lisbon, was fined $20. Richard McCabe and Ed Hawes, charged with refusing to assist the officer, were discharged.

A Dead Dog Creates a Stir. There was some excitement yesterday afternoon at the Southwest corner of Tenth and Campbell streets, where chickens scratching in a lot unearthed the remains of what was supposed to be a colored child. A crowd gathered, and Police officer Howland went in search of Dr. Potter, Superintendent of Health, to get him to investigate the matter. Health officer McGowan examined the find, and gave as his opinion that it was not the body of a child, and Dr. Potter who afterwards arrived and made an examination, quitted the growing excitement by saying it was the remains of a defunct dog.

Weather Forecasts. The following are the weather forecasts for to-day: For Virginia: Fair weather, followed by increasing cloudiness, rain, and continued cool northeasterly winds. For North Carolina: Fair weather, followed by rain, continued cool easterly winds. For South Carolina: Increasing cloudiness and rain, brisk northeasterly winds and stationary temperature. For Georgia: Rain, increasing cloudiness, easterly winds, stationary temperature in western, and slightly colder in eastern portion.

Cotton Belt Bulletin. The Signal Service Bureau corrects its report about frost in the Wilmington district on the 20th. It was in the Charlotte district. The Bulletin issued yesterday for the 24 hours ended at 6 p. m., reports frost again at Charlotte and also at Cheraw and Raleigh, with a minimum temperature of 38 degrees at Charlotte and Cheraw and 40 at Raleigh. The mercury was down to 38° at Lumberton, Weldon, Newbern and Cheraw, 40° at Wadesboro, 43° at Wilmington, 46° at Florence, and 50° at Goldsboro.

Larceny of Money. Alex. Smalls, the colored man arrested for stealing twenty-two dollars from Mrs. H. Westermann, was committed to jail yesterday in default of bail in the sum of $100. Smalls was employed by Mrs. Westermann, and took the money from a wardrobe. Part of it was found in his possession, beside a patent cork-screw that was also taken from the wardrobe. It was found also, that Smalls had expended some of the money for a banjo and a guitar.

The Collectorship. The "white bosses" of the Republican party boast that their visit to Washington resulted in the utter destruction of Young's chances for the Collectorship to which he was appointed. They are now bamboozling Taylor's friends by assuring them that Taylor will be "all right." To a "man up a tree" it looks very much like a trick all through and that it will end in the appointment of another "white boss."

LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted.

— Doctor? Have you registered? — Tuesday, November 4, is election day.

— Colonel? Have you registered? If not, why not? — Registration closes Friday, October 24th, at sundown. Don't "get left."

— Hours of registration, from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m., and from 3.30 p. m. to sunset.

— Apples from Mount Airy retail at fifty and sixty cents per peck in this market.

— Tommie? See here. You forgot to register yesterday. Don't forget it to-day.

— Look here, Cap'n! There is no time to be lost if you have not already registered.

— Don't wait until Saturday and then say you forgot that registration was to close Friday evening.

— Wednesday, Thursday, Friday. Three days. See that every Democrat is registered during that time.

— Very little wood coming in. The price has advanced to 90 cents and $1.00 a dry-load from flat-boats.

— Say, Major? Have you registered? If not, do so at once, or you cannot vote on the 4th of November.

— Spirits turpentine sold yesterday at 88 1/2 cents per gallon and common rosin at $1.07 1/2 @ 1.12 1/2 per barrel.

— Rev. F. D. Swindell will conduct the usual Wednesday evening services at Grace M. E. Church to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

— Oh! ye unredeemed, unregenerate, unregistered Democrats. What must be your portion if you fail to do your duty in the crisis now upon us?

— The poor farmers of New Hanover county will not forget that Mr. W. H. Chadbourne, while a member of the Legislature, voted for the no-fence law.

— Prof. Kobben and daughter visited the Marine and City Hospitals yesterday, and performed on the cithara, for the pleasure of the inmates of those two institutions.

— A musical entertainment will be given at the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium to-night by the Kobben family, the proceeds of which will be used in adding to the apparatus of the Gymnasium.

— High Private? Have you registered? If not, look to your laurels. The Colonels and Majors and Captains are making a rush for the registration books now, and you must not be behind.

— Germania Cornet Band marched up Front street last evening for the Carolina Central depot, where they took the train for Maxton. They will furnish music for the Fair which opens there to-day.

— While Mr. W. H. Chadbourne is feeding the colored voters on honeyed phrases, let some of them ask him if he ever voted for a single colored man for a political office; and if so, when and for whom?

— B. F. Turlington and R. G. Darden, who engaged in an affray on North Fourth street last Monday (as reported in the STAR), were bound over in the sum of $100 each to answer at the next term of the Criminal Court.

— Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D.D., Rev. F. D. Swindell and Rev. R. E. Peeler, addressed the meeting of colored preachers at Shiloh Baptist Church yesterday, on the Prohibition question. The meeting adjourned until Tuesday next at 10 a. m., at St. Stephen's A. M. E. Church.

— A party of colored men in a carriage, returning from a political meeting in the county, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, were arrested, on Harnett street for creating a disturbance by singing and hallooing. They appeared before the Mayor yesterday afternoon, but the case was continued until to-day.

No-Fence Law. How would a no-fence law affect a poor countryman who has a sow and pigs and two or three head of cattle? Why, he would be compelled to keep them penned up the whole time, instead of running out and picking up their living in the sounds and swamps. William H. Chadbourne, now running for Sheriff, voted for a no-fence law for New Hanover county.

The Goldsboro Fair. A special dispatch to the STAR from Goldsboro, says that a grand balloon ascension took place yesterday at the fair grounds. It was entirely successful and the parachute leap from the clouds wildly thrilling. The balloon ascension by Sheriff, voted for a no-fence law for New Hanover county.

Speaking at Macumbers. Capt. S. B. Alexander, according to appointment, addressed a meeting of Democrats at Macumber's old store, yesterday. There was a good attendance and the meeting was enthusiastic.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

SEVENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL SESSION.

Opening Exercises at the First Church—Sermon from the Moderator, Rev. J. M. Wharey.

The Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina met in its seventy-seventh annual session in this city yesterday, and the opening exercises were held in the First Presbyterian Church last evening. After preliminary devotional exercises Rev. J. M. Wharey, Moderator, preached a fine sermon from the text, "I have glorified Thee on the earth; I have finished the work which Thou gavest me to do." John, 17th chapter, 4th verse.

He said: Perhaps there is no spot in this universe where God has been so dishonored as on this earth. For 6,000 years sin held high carnival almost unchecked. Once, for a little while, God seemed to make His presence known, when He deluged the earth, but Noah and his family soon peopled the world with a sinful people.

The question arises, will this last always? It must be that God's justice shall be vindicated; it is necessary that it shall be so. It seems strange that Jesus, the Jew, the humble Nazarene, should claim to have glorified God on earth, and yet if we will study the character, words, and life of Jesus, we will find that He has done so more than any man who ever lived.

How has He achieved this work? By presenting to men God's attributes, and their relations to men, as they never had it from any other source.

The doctrine of Incarnation is one found in almost every system man has adopted. There is a longing for a conception of God as a God of sympathy. We must imagine Christ a perfect man, bearing all the attributes of God. His wisdom, that excited the admiration and wonder of all who heard him, and outwitted the astute lawyers who sought to entrap Him. His power to heal the sick and raise the dead, but above all His perfect Holiness, exemplified the attributes of Divinity.

Rosseau, a French infidel, said, "Socrates died like a philosopher, but Jesus Christ like a God." Simply view Christ's death without His God-like qualities and it does not differ from other men. To reveal the attributes of God to men was but one of the things He came to do. He came to destroy the work of the Devil and restore to God a world redeemed from the dominion of sin, to become the cure of the divine law, and to make a complete atonement for sin on the cross, thus glorifying God. When we view His death from this point I will subscribe to the saying, "He died like a God."

I cannot understand why he shrank from death in Gethsemane, and uttered that cry of distress on the cross, except that the Father hid His face and treated Him as a sinner, in whose stead He stood. All the most striking attributes of God are not in the heavens or earth, but in the Cross on Calvary. Justice, wisdom, goodness, power, are all in accordance with the revealed will and accord with God.

But the last scene in this sublime tragedy will not be enacted in this world. Once more, when this earth shall have melted with fervent heat, He will come, not as a weak infant, not as a Lamb to be slain for the children of men, but in the pomp and power of Divinity, to rend in pieces His enemies. Before Him will all people be gathered, and there He will openly declare God's justice, and show that the Lord God Almighty is true and righteous in all His judgments, and that every mouth that has accused Him of injustice may be speechless in His presence, and acknowledge He is right and true.

Brethren, it is our high privilege to preach this crucified and risen Redeemer, as the Savior of sinners, and to be used as instruments in His hands to carry out this great work. I could not preach out of this great work. I could not preach out of this great work. I could not preach out of this great work.

Alter prayer by the Moderator the report of the Committee on Enrollment was received and the organization of the Synod effected by the election of the following officers: Moderator—Rev. Alex. Sprunt. Clerks—Rev. A. R. Shaw and Elder H. M. Dixon.

The session of the First Presbyterian Church, through Rev. Dr. Primrose, in the absence of the pastor, presented an address of welcome to the delegates and visitors.

Elder A. M. McPheeters suggested that religious services be held at least once a day.

Dr. Hill moved that the last hour of each morning session be devoted to public religious exercises, which was concurred in.

Rev. W. S. P. Bryan stated that the Synod at Charlotte set aside Thursday of this session for the consideration of Foreign Missions.

It was moved and carried that the standing order placing the Communion on the evening of this day be suspended.

It was then moved and ordered that this service be held Wednesday evening. Friday was set apart for report on Evangelistic Labor.

The hours of meeting were fixed as follows: Meet at 9.30 a. m.; take recess at 12 m. for divine service; meet at 3.30 and 8 p. m., and adjourn at pleasure.

Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill of Maxton will conduct the divine service at 12 m. to-day.

Proposals Invited. Sealed proposals are invited for the construction of the Y. M. C. A. building on Front and Mulberry streets; to be built of brick and brownstone. Bids will be received until 12 o'clock noon November 11th, by the General Secretary, Mr. G. M. Busey, at the rooms of the Association, where plans and specifications can be seen.

What, Never? It is stated, and the statement has been denied, that Mr. William H. Chadbourne has said he never voted for a negro in his life. Then, why should he expect the negroes to vote for him? If Mr. Chadbourne has ever voted for a colored man, and will state when and for whom, the STAR will give him the benefit of the statement if he so desires.
