THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XLVII.--NO. 35.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1890.

WHOLE NO. 7,516

OUTLINES.

The Census Office issued yesterday a bulletin giving the population of the country on the 1st of June, 1890; the populations of the several divisions, and the population of each of each State, given together with that of each State, and the grand total is set at 62,480,540--an increase in ten years of 13,324,757, or 21.7 per cent.

John Wanamaker merchant and John Wanamaker politician are too different individuals. Here is how John Wanamaker merchant talks on tinware: "Tinware is advancing in cost and very soon the manufacturers will have to pay very much more."

G. W. Childs, publisher of the Philadelphia Ledger, has a country place on which he spends a good deal of money, the pay roll of the servants alone averaging about $1,000 a month.

The women of North Carolina can't vote. They expect the men to do the voting for them. The Democrat who fails to vote will fail in his duty to them.

Chicago is a very bad city. Even the police are not safe from the foot pads. They held one up the other night and when they let him down he was minus star, club, watch, revolver and pocket book, and didn't feel a bit like a policeman.

As Commissioner Porter is an Englishman perhaps he didn't count the Irishmen in footing up his census returns, which may account for the shortage.

Mr. Harrison don't believe in cheap coats. But we incline strongly to the opinion that he wouldn't quit dealing with the tailor who charged him ten dollars less for a suit than another tailor charged.

The Republicans in McKinley's town in Ohio met the other day and resolved to boycott merchants who raised the price of goods on account of the tariff.

Mr. Nordenskjold and Baron Dickson don't intend that the South pole shall be slighted any longer, and are fitting out an expedition to go down and explore in that neighborhood.

Col. Snow is the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 9th Illinois district. He expects to snow the other fellow under. In his campaign he carries a little chest containing samples of the things taxed under the McKinley tariff, with the old and new prices.

"Tinware is advancing in cost and very soon the manufacturers will have to pay very much more. In view of this state of things we made, some time since, a large purchase of kitchen tinware at what was a low price then and would be far lower now, in the face of two advances in the makers' price-lists."

As politician, however, he booms the tariff, and pays his cash to elect high tariff Congressmen.

The U. S. Signal office gives us the following data based upon the records of observations at this place, during November, for nineteen years; and, while not given as a prediction it is noticed that about the same or nearly the same conditions prevail each year.

The highest temperature recorded in any November was 83° in 1877, and again in 1879; the lowest temperature was 23° in 1880.

AN IMPORTANT SALE.

Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Stedman Buys "Oakland Inn."

The Asheville Daily Citizen of Thursday says: "A few years ago the 'Oakland Inn' in Victoria was built by A. and R. U. Garrett, who opened it as a hotel. The hotel was run for one season and the building was afterward used for school purposes under the name of the Oakland Institute."

"Mr. Stedman has leased the building and grounds to New York parties, who will refit the inn and open it as a sanitarium, which will be the finest in America. Dr. Neefus, who will have charge, has lately been connected with the 'Dansville Sanitarium' in New York; he is a most experienced and eminent physician, and is thoroughly up on the times. The house will be elegantly and comfortably furnished. Two elevators will be run to accommodate the guests, and a most complete system of all kinds of baths will be put in."

The following are the voting places in the city for the coming election: First Ward--First Division: Thos. G. Williams' store, corner Fourth and Harnett streets.

Second Division--Building corner of Sixth and Campbell streets, recently occupied by Mr. James Lewis as a restaurant. Third Division--Unoccupied store on corner of Tenth and Walnut streets.
