The laws of Arkansas prohibit the selling of cigarettes to boys under sixteen years of age, under penalty of from $10 to $100 fine.

Some of the newspapers are talking about Succi's strong will. Succi's strong will isn't a circumstance to a woman's strong won't.

Wyoming reports the discovery of a six foot vein of silver ore which pays out $600 to the ton. Another reason against free coinage.

Senator Gray wants to know if reciprocity with Mexico is a good thing, why reciprocity with Canada wouldn't also be a good thing, and not, why not?

The climate of California must be changing. The rainy season which used to begin in October and last until May, failed to put in an appearance this year until a few days ago.

LOCAL DOTS.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean does not feel disposed to criticize the Southern people for their loyalty to their old soldiers, but remarks that the South should understand from this the feeling of the North towards her old soldiers.

The Lutheran parsonage is now being repainted. The young men's meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Rev. J. R. Sawyer will begin his appointment at Bladen Street M. E. Church tomorrow, with services in the morning at 11 o'clock. The snow-storm which set in on Christmas day at the North, it is predicted by the Signal Service men, will be the greatest for several years.

Prayer and experience meeting of business and working men at 7:30 o'clock to-night at the Seamen's Bethel. Seafaring men and ladies are also invited. Capt. Schlar, superintendent of streets, has gone to Charlotte on a visit; during his absence Mr. W. M. Hays, health officer, is acting superintendent.

Christmas was a quiet, pleasant day to most people in Wilmington. There was little stir on the streets. Some of the churches were open and well attended in the forenoon. A Christmas german, given by the L'Arioso Club at Concordia Hall last night, was attended by about fifty couples. It was a very pleasant affair, and the dancing was prolonged until a late hour.

There were twenty-three cases on the docket for trial in the Mayor's Court yesterday; nearly all of them of a trivial character; growing out of over-indulgence in the strong potations peculiar to Christmas frolicking. The awning in front of a store on Market street near Second was set on fire by fire-crackers during the forenoon of Thursday. It created some excitement for a time, but no damage resulted beyond the destruction of the awning.

Rev. F. D. Swindell, the Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District Methodist E. Church, South, will preach at Grace Church to-morrow morning and evening, it being the occasion of the first quarterly meeting for the new Conference year. Members of the Official Board of Fifth Street M. E. Church were pleasantly entertained Christmas night at the residence of Mr. Jno. LeGwin, on Orange between Sixth and Seventh streets. Presiding Elder Swindell and Rev. Mr. Sawyer were present.

A musical entertainment was given at the City Hall last night to the Sunday School scholars of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. There was a large crowd of the little ones out, and they enjoyed themselves very much. Refreshments were served free to the scholars. This was a Christmas entertainment. A ROBBERY FRUSTRATED. The Seacoast Railroad Office Broken Open—The Thief Caught. A negro known as Tom Mackenzie was arrested yesterday for breaking into and attempting to rob the Princess street depot of the Seacoast Railroad.

Thursday morning Mr. Phil Thomas, conductor on the road, went into the office to get his satchel. Not finding it in the place where he left it he looked around and saw a negro under the desk with the satchel over his shoulder. Mr. Thomas started towards the man when the fellow jumped out and ran; but in passing through the doorway the strap on the satchel caught on the door-knob, and at the same time Mr. Thomas seized him. The negro jerked away, however, and made his escape, leaving the satchel dangling on the knob. Upon further investigation it was found that the robber had left his hat and overcoat in the office, and that an attempt had been made to break open the desk of Mr. J. K. Collier, the ticket agent of the road. Shortly after these discoveries were made the same negro returned to the office and said that some one had stolen his hat and overcoat, and he had heard that they had been left at the office. The man was afterwards taken into custody at his house on Princess street not far from the railroad office.

A letter was found in one of the pockets of the overcoat, addressed to "A. Moore," in which the writer cautioned Moore to be careful as to who did his writing, or he might get both into trouble: The letter was postmarked "Brooklyn Nov. 20th," and is supposed to be from Mackenzie's wife, who is living North. The prisoner was fully identified by Conductor Thomas as the man he encountered in the office.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES.

Pleasant Entertainments at Luther Memorial Building—Free Concert for Sailors—The Frost Queen Cantata by the Lutheran Sunday School. Luther Memorial Building Christmas night was crowded with seafaring men. A free concert and refreshments were given for the benefit and enjoyment of the seamen in port. Rev. Mr. Peschau delivered three short addresses, in three different languages—German, Scandinavian and English. There was a fine piano duet by Miss Maggie Peschau, and three fine vocal solos by Misses Annie Stalter, Rosa Zeigler and Linda Peschau. A pleasant and laughable song, entitled "Mixie by Sixie," was sung by six young ladies. A very pleasing song was sung by Master Chas. Schulken. Each piece played and sung was most heartily applauded. Mr. MacZilke, a German ship officer, rendered a very fine piano solo. Prof. Miller and his sons added most delightfully to the evening's entertainment by playing some German and Scandinavian airs and Christmas melodies.

Last night, at the Children's Christmas Cantata, Lutheran Memorial building was not only crowded, but crowded to overflowing, by an interested audience to witness the rendition of a beautiful Cantata, called the "Frost Queen," by some of the scholars of the Lutheran Sunday School and to the handsome Christmas tree and its fine adornment. There were recitations, solos, quartettes and choruses. Miss Maggie Peschau presided at the piano throughout the Cantata. Miss Kate Bremer personated the "Frost Queen," and with her fine elocutionary powers delighted the audience.

Two of the choruses were especially fine, and a duet by Louisa Strauss and Elsie Ortman was sung well. Christine Hinze sang a solo splendidly, and most of the participants did exceedingly well. At the announcement of the "Frost Queen," "Santa Claus" appeared in the centre aisle with a beautiful little team, absorbing all attention. Through him gifts were bestowed upon the children under the brilliant light of the handsome Christmas tree. The audience was highly pleased.

Master Ferdinand Peschau, the four year old son of Rev. Mr. Peschau, was called on to make a speech while waiting for some of the participants, and was introduced by Mr. Strauss, the Superintendent of the Sunday School, as Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, Jr., and favored them with a recitation entitled "Hang up the Baby's Stocking," and he was endorsed most heartily.

POLICE OFFICERS' POWERS. Have They the Right to Make Arrests for Misdemeanors Without Warrant. The trial of a case involving the right of a police officer to make an arrest for assault and battery or other misdemeanor without a warrant—where the officer is not an eye-witness of the occurrence—was tried yesterday afternoon at the City Hall before Capt. John Cowan, Justice of the Peace; the case having been removed from Mayor Fowler's Court on affidavit of defendants through their counsel, Mr. Marsden Bellamy.

Investigation of the case before the magistrate showed that two citizens Thursday evening about 6.30 o'clock became involved in a difficulty on South Front, near Market street. One of them struck the other several blows and broke a walking-cane over his head. The latter leaving his assailant standing on the street, met a policeman three or four minutes afterward and demanded that the officer arrest the man who had struck him. The policeman accompanied the man back to the place where the difficulty had just occurred, and (according to the testimony of several witnesses) told the man who struck the blows to consider himself under arrest. The officer was asked if he had a warrant for the arrest and replied that it made no difference, and the citizen then defied the officer, and seized him by the collar of his coat at the throat. The officer ordered the citizen to release his grasp, and drew his club as if to strike, when the club was seized by another citizen. While the parties were scuffling, another police officer came up and released the hold the citizen had on the officer, and the citizen and his friend submitted and agreed to accompany the officers to police headquarters, where charges were entered against them for resisting an officer in the performance of his duty. The police officer who first attempted to make the arrest made a statement a little at variance with the above details, claiming that he did not tell the citizen he was under arrest until he (the citizen) had defied him and seized him by the collar; that he simply told the citizen that his arrest had been demanded by the man assaulted.

The case was argued by Mr. Marsden Bellamy for defendants; that the police officer had exceeded his powers and had no right to attempt an arrest without a warrant; not being a witness of the affray or assault. And Mr. Du B. Cutler, city attorney, argued that the police officer was justified in his action and that it was his right and duty to make the arrest under the circumstances. The magistrate's decision was in favor of the defendants, and they were discharged. The case of assault and battery which led to the arrest was continued on account of the absence of witnesses, until Monday.
