SPRITIS TURPENTINE.

—Winston Sentinel: The intelligence reaches here of the death of Rev. C. L. Rights, which occurred last Friday evening in Indian Territory, aged 70 years.

—Concord Standard: The farmers are now falling into line and the signs of industry may be seen everywhere. The farming lands are being turned and prepared for planting.

—Durham Sun: Our community was very much surprised this morning to learn of the assignment of the inimitable E. A. Whitaker, which was made this morning for the benefit of his creditors.

—New Berne Journal: We regret to learn of the death of Rev. Israel Harding, who died at his home in Kingston, Tuesday, January 18th. He was sixty-one years old, and had been engaged as rector at Christ Church in Kingston for the last ten years.

—Goldboro Argus: The indications are that truck farming will be extensively engaged in here about this season. Better shipping advantages have recently been secured, and it is hoped that the crop will be proportionately and prices "fig edged."

—Asheville Citizen: The Oakland Heights Sanatorium is now open and ready for guests. This house is the most desirable in the South in all ways for persons who need rest and medical attention. No hotel in Asheville has as well furnished rooms, and none any better cuisine. Only in this case of patients is the diet regulated.

—Maxton Union: Mr. J. R. Iffman left for Georgia yesterday with a lot of turpentine hands. This thing of labor going from this country is beginning to be a little serious. If all the horses and mules that are being brought to this market and others in this section find sale, there will be no money left for other purposes. We never saw like.

—Raleigh Chronicle: Some time ago the Chronicle stated that a mad dog had bitten one of Mr. W. B. Upchurch's (member of the House from Wake) fattening hogs. Some of the neighbors held the theory that the hog would not go mad because it had no veins. Mr. Upchurch put the hog in a close pen to feed. He fattened and did well for 20 days and the wound healed up. On the 26th day he failed to eat, and on the 29th day he got raving mad and gnawed the rails of the pen, and gave every symptom of madness. On the 30th day after it was bitten the hog died.

—Tabor Southern: While it has not been officially proclaimed, it is pretty generally known among railroad employes that work very soon will begin on a railroad from the A. & R. Junction near Bethel to Washington. B. F. Eagles says that there is more corn and more meat in the Barterfield section than in any other section of the State. This is one of the big and hominy sections of the country, too. There is also an unusual amount of bread and meat in every section of the country.

—Lenoir Topic: Mrs. Angus Fisher, aged nearly 90 years, the oldest person in the Granite neighborhood, died Thursday morning. Col. Cowles's little daughter, Laura Carson, aged three years, three months and twenty-eight days, died on the 28th of December. Last Wednesday week constable and deputy Sheriff Berry, of Lovelady township, arrested Enoch Hamby, of Wilkes, on a warrant from the latter county charging him with bigamy. This is the first time since the late war that M. A. Houck of Granite, informs us that the Russell Manufacturing Company of that town is doing a large business in working in wood, and that they are buying large quantities of lumber.

—Charlotte Chronicle: Solomon Hewitt, a native of this State, who was raised near Wilmington, and who moved from the State to Texas 29 years ago, was here yesterday en route to his native home. He stayed in Texas 27 years without seeing either of his parents or any relations. At the expiration of all those years he sent for his parents, who went to Texas several years ago. His father died there, and his mother died in the State home. Mr. Hewitt is here with her, on their return to the eastern part of the State. The little negro whose skull was crushed in by a kindly mule last week on the place adjoining Capt. Torrence's in Hopewell, was up two days after, playing on his harp—the golden one which it was thought he would soon handle.

—Raleigh News and Observer: The Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina convened in its one hundred and fourth annual convention in the Masonic Hall in this city last night, Tuesday, at 7:30 o'clock. Grand Master Samuel H. Smith, of Winston, presiding. There was a large delegation present, nearly all the lodges in the State being represented. Applicants for license to practice law will be examined before the Supreme Court on Friday and Saturday, the 30th and 31st insts. On the first Monday in February the court will sit to hear the appeals from the First District. Robert Johnston was arraigned in Wake Superior Court yesterday morning for the murder of F. P. Emry in New Light township on the 13th of December. After consultation the defendant and for the State that the defendant should submit upon a charge of manslaughter. The Judge accordingly ordered that a verdict of guilty of manslaughter be entered, and after hearing a few witnesses who related the particulars of the affair, he sentenced the defendant to a term of two years in jail.

—OUR STATE CONTEMPORARIES: The demand of the Granville Farmers' Alliance that the County Commissioners work our convicts on our public roads is one that meets with the approval of the people generally.—Oxford Day.

—Mr. Blaine is keeping the Behring sea controversy open with a view of making capital out of it for his miserable old party, now hanging on our public roads with but one claw, he may have occasion to be sorry for himself.—Goldboro Argus.

—They do say that Speaker Reed is a fair presiding officer this session. Well, Reed was never a fool, and unlike some Republicans, can read the hand writing on the wall when it is "write large," as it was in November. But then Reed hasn't reformed. O, no! He's just quit for a time.—Asheville Citizen.

—On of the most important bills of the session is an assignment law introduced —Mrs. Slimdick, (to new boarder)—Did you sleep well last night, sir?

New Boarder—Not very, Mrs. Slimdick. That bed reminded me so much of home that I felt sort of homesick.
"Indeed! Where is your home?"
"In the Rocky Mountains.—Racket."
—Miss—Mary, what are you doing with that clock.
John (with the servants' bedroom clock under her arm)—Plaze, mum, O'm takin it to a watchmaker's. It's all out of order, mam. I'vey morning at 5 o'clock it goes all to paces, an, makes such a racket O! can't sleep.—N. Y. Weekly.

—A member of an opera house orchestra has composed "a very pretty polonaise." Now, if he can only induce certain members of the opera company to wear it, he will have done something toward elevating the stage. He should also compose a mantilla for the fashionable ladies who occupy the boxes.—Norristown Herald.

—Why is it that the good are not always happy? was the question which a Sunday school teacher in an uptown church put to her class of boys last Sunday.
There was a dead silence for a moment, and then a little fellow piped out: "Because they're thinkin' of the fun they ain't havin'."—N. Y. Tribune.

—Briggs—While Robinson was reading a poem of his the other night at the Canvass Club, a lady in the audience faintly dead away. Robinson had a hard time of bringing her to.
Griggs—I don't see what Robinson had to do with it. I should have thought some of the audience would have helped her.

—Harper's Badger:—Our esteemed contemporary, the News, talks editorially of the worm which will eventually turn when "remorseless hand of fate." This simile is evidently mixed. The worm as the News will observe when it consults the authorities, turns when bruicitions proceed under the iron heel of the remorseless hand of fate. This simile is evidently mixed. —An excellent remedy.—Two of my children have been much troubled with neuralgia all winter. They used Salvo's Cure and a few applications produced a complete cure. I consider it an excellent remedy. John H. Jones, Inspector, Tobacco Warehouse, No. 4, Balto., Md.

—Out of this nettle, cold, we pluck the flower, cure, because we always use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and so does every wise man's son.
