OUTLINES.

The United States Senate met yesterday in continuation of Thursday's session. Mr. Stewart took the floor on the Closure resolution; other speeches were made, but the Senate on Aldrich's motion, adjourned until Monday.

Twenty-two ballots have been taken for United States Senator in the Illinois Legislature with no election. Henry L. Benham, President of the Bank of Stevens & Co., Litchfield, Minn., who committed suicide Dec. 4th, is found to have been insolvent.

A little Utica (N. Y.) boy who had an ambition to play letter-carrier, raked out a big bundle of letters which his mother had stored away from the days of her courtship.

It is stated that by the expiration of the 100 year term of confiscation of the estate of the Earl of Tyrone, in Lickland, Col. John C. Taylor, of Kentucky, who emigrated to this country in 1835 succeeds to the estate and title.

In some portions of Europe this has been the coldest winter experienced since 1740. The English rivers were blocked with ice, while the ice was sixteen inches thick on the Seine.

Senator Ingalls is quoted as saying that the great blunder of his life was voting for the tariff bill. No it wasn't. The great blunder of his life was being born.

Dr. Galinger who succeeds Blair in the United States Senate from New Hampshire, may not match him in wind, but he is a great deal better looking man, if he is baldheaded.

South Dakota is a young State but as a would-be Senator incubator she is a success. There were no less than dozen aspirants for Senator Moody's shoes, which, however, he declined to shuck and still retains.

When Mr. Fitzsimmons, of Australia, knocked out Mr. Dempsey, of the United States, in the late mill at New Orleans, he raked in $20,000 as his share of the lucre, from which we infer that the milling business is quite profitable.

While Mrs. Potter was performing on the stage at Sydney, Australia, recently, a sailor created a sensation by adding a feature to the performance which was not down on the bills. He sprang upon the stage, drew a revolver and shot himself through the body.

Missouri's fruit crop last year brought from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. She has 5,000 fruit farms, employing 25,000 men. In point of natural advantages, Missouri as a fruit growing State isn't a circumstance to North Carolina, but she knows the value of fruit better.

When Gov. Fowle telegraphed to Gov. Tillman for some rifled cannon to shoot the oyster riffs, Gov. Tillman replied that he didn't have any rifled cannon. South Carolina was so badly rifled when the Radicals were on top in that State that she hasn't had any use for anything of the rifle order since.

The Legislatures of Tennessee and South Carolina have both tabled for the present, bills making appropriations for State exhibits at the World's Fair until they see how the Force bill is going to pan out.

The Tennessee bill provides for an appropriation of $250,000. A joint resolution was also adopted, declaring that if the Force bill passed, Tennessee would not be represented, the Democrats voting for it, the Republicans against it.

General Furlong, who was on Grant's staff, and was for years after the war a resident of Mississippi, says the Force bill is a great blunder, that a hundred force bills could not change the order of things in the South, and could not wrest power from the whites, who are and must be the dominant race, and although a Republican, when it comes to a contest between the whites and blacks he is for the whites every time.

A little Utica (N. Y.) boy who had an ambition to play letter-carrier, raked out a big bundle of letters which his mother had stored away from the days of her courtship, and distributed them throughout his end of the town. He had lots of fun, but when his mother discovered it he fell suddenly into the maternal embrace, and she caressed him so warmly that for four days that boy took his meals standing, and his mother ordered a new pair of slippers.

It is stated that by the expiration of the 100 year term of confiscation of the estate of the Earl of Tyrone, in Lickland, Col. John C. Taylor, of Kentucky, who emigrated to this country in 1835 succeeds to the estate and title. The title isn't worth much, but the title to the estate is worth $1,500,000. It would be about this much to induce even an adopted Kentucky Col. to part with his title.

In some portions of Europe this has been the coldest winter experienced since 1740. The English rivers were blocked with ice, while the ice was sixteen inches thick on the Seine. The sea was so much frozen along the Dutch coast as to interfere with navigation to and from the ports of Holland. Even as far South as Naples there were deaths from the severe cold.

A $3,000,000 company has been organized to run a tunnel under East river between New York and Brooklyn.

OPERA HOUSE.

The Peerless Salvini—A Splendid Attraction at the Opera House Wednesday Night.

Alexander Salvini, as has already been announced, will appear at the Opera House Wednesday night in "Don Cesar de Bazan." The Nashville American says of a recent performance in Nashville: "The numerous patrons of the Theatre Vendome were equally surprised and delighted last night with the initial performance of Alexander Salvini. The audience to whom the gentleman first made his graceful bow was composed of the most critical, as well as the most socially prominent theatre-goers. Salvini made an instantaneously favorable impression. As the action of the play proceeded and his consummate art and magnetic personality developed, he aroused the enthusiasm of the boxes, balcony and gallery. He deserves success. His methods are legitimate and give the evidence of a careful and intelligent study. His voice is flexible, well-modulated and resonant. His enunciation is clear, and his mastery of the English language is quite remarkable. His renowned and unapproachable father, Signor Tomaso Salvini, should be proud of the son he has given to the stage, and he will undoubtedly perpetuate in coming generations the greatness which he himself achieved. The breadth and fire displayed by Salvini in his acting are essentially the result of his Southern birth. He could not apparently make an ungraceful gesture. Reserved seats may be secured at Yates' Tuesday morning."

RIVER AND MARINE. Norwegian barque Zampa, and Norwegian barque Ariadne, for this port, arrived at Southport quarantine station yesterday.

Stedman, was sold privately yesterday by the firm mentioned to Mr. G. W. Williams for $25,000 cash. The property consists of Maj. Stedman's residence on Market street between Fourth and Fifth, and lots adjoining on Fourth and Princess streets.

At a meeting last evening of the Order of the Iron Hall, the new benevolent Order recently instituted in this city, the following gentlemen were chosen trustees for the year, viz: Messrs. H. M. Bowden, L. B. Pennington, R. R. Bellamy. The Order is in a flourishing condition, and its membership is steadily increasing.
