OUTLINES.

It is again affirmed that no effort will be made in Congress to bring up the Closure rule and the Elections bill. A revolution broke out in Oporto, Portugal, yesterday; three regiments of infantry revolted, the purpose being to proclaim a republic; later reports are that the revolt was suppressed and order restored.

ZACH SIMMONS.

Arrest of a Colored Man Who is Wanted in Jones County. A colored man who gave his name as Zach Simmons, was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Mills. He is charged with shooting a negro through the mouth while he was assisting an officer in taking Simmons to jail in Jones county some time ago. At that time Simmons went by the name of Thos. Bryant.

Simmons denies that he is the man wanted, and claims to have been living in Wilmington for twelve months past. His wife, however, "gave him away" to the officers, who upon inquiry of the sheriff of Jones county found that her story was true. Zach, it seems, had abandoned her.

The prisoner was lodged in jail, to await the action of the Jones county authorities. He has been in the employ of John Whiteham, at the latter's brick-yard near this city. His wife says that in Jones county he was known as Thomas Bryant, in Newbern as Thomas Cox, and here as Zach Simmons.

Not True. The Norfolk Ledger says: "The report that the schooner Frank S. Hall, Capt. Harris, from New York to Wilmington, had been beached near Cape Hatteras, with rudder gone, is untrue. The vessel arrived in Hampton Roads this morning, and Capt. Harris, who was in the city to-day, reports the vessel all right."

A Mass Meeting of Colored People. A mass meeting of colored people will be held in St. Stephen's A. M. E. Church Monday night at 7.30 o'clock, for the purpose of taking action with a view to securing the location of the proposed Industrial School for Colored Children in this city.

WILMINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY.

The Crack Company of the Second Regiment of the N. C. S. G.—Words of Praise from Adjutant General Glenn.

We have before us the annual report of Adjutant General J. D. Glenn, and find in it much of interest for Wilmingtonians and members of the Second Regiment. Speaking of our Wilmington company, Gen. Glenn says:

Company C, Second Regiment, deserves special credit, as this company had a new uniform, lately bought, of a very handsome and costly design, made of the historical gray that had been for years the uniform of this company; yet it was ever the most of duty during the four long years of civil war, when the very souls of men were tried; now an officer of the State Guard, who yields ready and cheerful obedience to the orders of his superiors, though some of them were boys when he was manfully battling for his country's rights. Well may the young Colonel of the Second Regiment be proud of such a company and its commander.

And we may add that the young Colonel is proud of the company and its commander; and not only he, but all of our citizens are proud of our soldier boys, and the record they have made under the commander above referred to.—Capt. W. R. Kenan.

In the report quoted is Col. Jones' report, in which we find the following: "It affords me pleasure to state that on a hotly contested field at Charlotte on the 20th of last May, the Wilmington Light Infantry came off victorious and brought with it the first prize offered for the best drilled company by the good citizens of that progressive city. And again, the companies of the Second, as did its commander, justly felt proud of this fine organization in Richmond on the parade of the 29th of May, when they represented their regiment so well, and by their gentlemanly conduct and soldierly bearing caused praises without number to be showered upon them."

In speaking of the Second Regiment Gen. Glenn says: "While I think comparisons are odious, and certainly in their drills, dress parades and guard mounts the regiments are nearly equal; yet I must confess that never before since my long connection with the Guard have I seen a regiment march out of camp with such splendid order, appearance and numbers as the Second Regiment did on the morning of the 12th of August."

WILSON TO FLORENCE.

The Last Link in the "Short Cut"—The Contracts Set and Tracks to Run Through by August First.

The Fayetteville Observer gives the following particulars concerning work on the "Short Cut":

The last link in the Atlantic Coast Line's "Short Cut" to the South, via Fayetteville, will soon be welded by the ties of steel, the contracts for grading the remaining 43 1/2 miles between Fayetteville and Rowland having been let out to contractors on the 23rd inst.

The work has been divided into nine sections, in order to expediate matters, and from one of the authorities we learn that the contracts were awarded as follows:

Sections 1, 3, 4 and 5 to the State pentitentiary. Section 2 to Col. R. L. Coleman, of Union, S. C. Section 6, 7, 8 and 9 to Mayrant & Jackson, of Cheraw, S. C.

Trestling and piling contract to R. A. Simmons, of Philadelphia, Pa. The contracts stipulate that all work is to be finished on or before the 1st of August next, so that next winter's Southern travel can take advantage of the "Short Cut" to the South over the Atlantic Coast Line. Grading will commence at once at both ends of the line and the convicts are expected this week. As soon as the first ten miles are graded track-laying will commence.

OPERA HOUSE.

Marie Greenwood in Boccaccio Tuesday Night. We clip the following from the St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch:

The Marie Greenwood Opera Company scored a success last night at the Newmarket, in the charming opera, "Boccaccio." The performance introduced here a singer whose equal in comic opera has not been heard in many years. The singer was Miss Marie Greenwood; she possesses a rich and finely cultivated soprano. She sang the role of Fiammetta with a brilliancy in execution and sweetness of tone that delighted the audience. The supporting company was more than equal to all demands made upon it.
