That Los Angelos, Cal., veteran who returned his pension because he was able to earn his living, could make his fortune by exhibiting himselt in some museum.

The story that the Governor of Montana eats pie with a knife is indignantly denied as a malicious slander. He grabs it with both hands and disdains a knife.

When Mr. Grigsby introduced his bill in the State Senate requiring dealers in sheep to adopt a brand and have the same registered, he should have coupled it with a provision requiring dog dealers to do ditto.

Augusta, Ga., is looming up as the second greatest inland cotton market in the United States, Memphis, Tenn., being the first. This season's receipts it is estimated will reach 260,000 bales, against 203,814 last

Dr. Gallinger, Senator elect from New Hampshire, will be the only doctor in the next Senate. He should come in now for there never will be a sicker set of Senators than the foiled Force bill and gag Republicans who are now there.

The press looms up in its preper proportions in the State of Wisconsin. Four out of the eight State officers now running the State machinery are or have been editors, The Governor and Secretary of State were also practical printers.

That resolution of the North Carolina Legislature instructing our Representatives in Congress to do all they can to defeat the Force bill was somewhat belated. The resolution should have instructed them to lend a helping hand to remove the remains and bury them.

Miss Drexel, of Philadelphia. who will take her final religious vows on the 12th inst., has an income of $500,000 a year. She proposes to devote her life and her income to missionary work among the Indians and negroes. She will found a new order of Sisterhood for this purpose.

Mr. Herbert Welsh contends that if the Indians had been educated as they should be the recent sacrifice of more than five hundred lives in 41°. Prevailing winds, northwest; total Dakota never would have been made. The Indian needs to be educated to the art of digging his living out of the ground like other people.

Senator Hoar, is a very, very ob-Stinate man. He says if the Legislature of Massachusetts had unanimously condemned the Force bill, it would have made no difference with him. In this he is a typical Republican. The typical Republican always puts himself and the party above the people.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XLVII.--NO. 115.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1891.

Uncle Jerry Rusk is a remarkably modest man. He says he is not a candidate for the Presidency, because he does not feel qualified to fulfill the duties of the office. The signal failure of Mr. Harrison, has had a discouraging effect on Uncle Jerry, which has doubtless been somewhat intensified by the performance of the sovereign people at the ballof boxes last fall.

A Republican contemporary remarks that the President can find no riper statesman to fill the place of the late Secretary Windom than Mr. McKinley, the Ohio man of tariff celebrity. The people of his district concluded that he was ripe enough to pluck last fall and they accordingly proceeded to pluck him.

The New York Herald rises to remind David B. Hill that if he holds on to the Governorship and the Senatorship too he will be "a dead duck long before '92." As there are not offices enough to go around holding on to both of these does look rather like hogging it, and it isn't very Democratic either.

The Wilmington and Seacoast Building and Loan Association.

This institution, with only one series of stock and only four months old, has already loaned nearly $4,000, and so far all loans have been secured by mortgage on city property. Its charter, however, provides for the lending of money on property at Southport and at the Sounds as well. Another small series has been put upon the market, and there is no doubt that a few days will suffice to see the whole amount-250 shares-subscribed. Some of our best business men are upon the Board of Directors, and it being the youngest local association and the one with the most liberal charter, it will doubtless benefit by the experience of the others. Those wishing stock will see Mr. W. M. Cumming, the Secretary and Treasurer.

The Oyster War. The schooner Nellie B. Dey, Captain John Dudley, has been chartered by the State to be used in executing the oyster laws against dredgers and non-resident oystermen. The Newbern Journae says she left that place Monday last for the oyster grounds with patrolmen in charge of Capt. Adam Warner, of Washington. She is abundantly supplied with arms and ammunition, and the men are to be secured from the different points in the oyster growing counties. The two who left from Newbern are Messrs. S. F. Hurtt and J. G. Brinson. All violators will be arrested and taken into port for

Eli Perkint Perkins will lecture next Wednesday night at the Opera House under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. OPERA HOUSE.

"The Hermit" by the Marie Greenwood Comp ny.

The Marie Greenwood Opera Company presented "The Hermit" to a fair audience last night. The performance was if anything better than the one of the night before. The opera itself is of a high order; it is tuneful, its melodies pleasing, but it is something more than a succession of a few chords. Its harmony is brilliant and truly representative of the sentiment of the words. It appeals more to the intellect; winning the appreciation of the cultivated by its merit as a composition, while pleasing others by its melodious airs. The interpretation was what was expected of Miss Greenwood's Company, the best. The chorus was very effective, and here a word of praise is needed. It is seldom that fault cannot be found with a comic opera chorus, but to criticise this one would be hypocritical. Miss Greenwood sang excellently and increased the estimation of her ability that had been previously formed. Mr. Martin sustained his part in a decidedly amusing manner. Miss Ernest as Marcello was very good. Altogether, nothing in the operatic line ever produced here has given such general satisfaction. We hope Miss Greenwood will again visit us.

Concert at the Opera House. An interesting event in the annals of music in Wilmington will be the concert to-morrow night for the benefit of the Shelter of the Silver Cross, which bids fair to be one of the best concerts ever heard in this city. - It will be almost entirely rendered by members of the Wilmington Amateur Vaudeville Company, which scored such a great success last month with its variety show. They will be supplemented by the best talent in the city in the musical line. Miss Chasten will play a Gottschalk piece, arranged by Joseffy; Mr. Holden will sing a bass solo; Miss Gabrielle DeRosset, Prof. Miller and Mr. Murchison will play a trio, opus 55, by Hofman; the Arion Quartette will appear twice; our own comedian, Mr. Henry Newman, will sing "Miss McCarthy's Ball"; Mr. Murchison will play the mandola; Mr. Geo. Miller will appear in a cornet solo, with brass quartette accompanists, and there will be string quintettes and quartettes by the Messrs. Miller and Murchison.

There is no more beautiful music any where then that of stringed instruments.

This attractive programme, together with the worthiness of the charity whom it will benefit, should draw a large audience. The Vaudeville Company earned a fine reputation by their recent performances, and we have no doubt that they will sustain it in their concert tomorrow night. Reserved seats, fifty cts, will be on sale at Yates' this morning.
