The Past Season-Suggestions to Planters.

Messrs. Dan Talmage's Sons, in a communicatson to the STAR, give the following summary of the last season's crop with suggestions to planters as to the approaching season.

The past season (1890-91) has been one of more than ordinary success so far as maintenance of values is concerned. In spite of the unfavorable weather during harvest, the crop of the United States was a very large one, and has been marketed at prices averaging 1/2c to 1/4c per pound above previous, years of like production, or in the aggregate netting the planters from $700,000 to over $1,100,-000 more than ordinary. The encouraging feature in the whole matter is that this extra amount, in the main, went into the hands of, or inured to the benefit of the planters, and not to the speculators, who "reap when they have not sown, and gather where they have not strewed.'

The market opened under unusually favorable circumstances. For some weeks, owing to the partial failure of the crops of the world, rice had been a scarce article, and prices legitimately advanced to a very high plane, and distributors throughout the country had allowed stocks to run down to a minimum, in the hope that with the advent of the enormous new crop, prices would recede rapidly to somewhat near the basis of previous years of like promise as to yield. This expectation was never realized. In the first place, the necessities of dealers were so pressing they could not wait until prices had reached the lowest point, and hence the market was buoved up by continued large purchases, which absorbed the crop as fast as it was offered, and the usual period of low prices in December was passed. with only slight depression of values, being all the more remarkable, considering the stringent money market prevailing during the latter part of the year. This unusual and unlooked for condition and satisfactory result to planters, while in part owing to favoring conditions of the market at the opening of the crop, was mainly attributable to the wise course pursued by planters themselves in not forcing their crop upon the market regardless of price, but feeling the demand, giving buyers all they would take, without crowding the market at any one time. This lesson, if learned by the planters, is a valuable one, and having paid dearly for their experiece of previous years, when crops were simply slaughtered, regardless of values, it is pleasant to contemplate the satisfactory out-turn of the crop of 1890-91. $1,000,000 saved to the rice planters of the United States is no mean sum.

As the season for seeding the new crop is approaching we would urge upon our friends the wisdom of aiming for the Plant the best seed which can be gotten. It costs no more to cultivate first quality than common or ordinary, while the money result is much greater. Keep the ground free of foul stuff, seed-plants, or grasses and the like. More black seeds can be grown in six months than the miller can take out in an hour, and what he leaves in after he has done his best, will deteriorate the value, from $6.00 to $10.00 per acre, or enough to pay a profit on the crop, or McKee Rankin To-Morrow Night in "The Canuck"-Sale of Sests this Morning.

Mr. McKee Rankin has several times visited Wilmington, and always with a strong play, and supported by a first rate company. The piece to be presented to-morrow night was first produced in New York, at a leading theatre, and had a run of 106 nights. It has been steadily successful thoughout the country, and will be interpreted by competent actors. If we remember aright, Mr. Rankin's first appearance here was in "The Danites," and his splendid supporting company on that occasion numbered among its members Louise E. Sheridan. Every visit since has increased the first and favorable impression, and every production of his was met with liberal patronage and given universal satisfaction. The sale of seats for Friday evening's performance commences this morning at Yates'.

New Chimes for Fifth Street M. E.

A new set of chimes has been ordered by Mr. Ino. C. Davis for Fifth Street M. E. Church, to replace the set now in use, which have not given satisfaction. They were from the McShane foundry, at Baltimore, which agreed to receive them back and furnish others, and Prof. VanLaer was engaged by Mr. Davis to visit Baltimore and test the new set; but being unable to do so on acount of sickness, Mr. Davis wrote to Mr. L. L. Curtis, formerly choirmaster of St. James' Church, but who is now resident in Boston, asking him to go to Baltimore and inspect and test the new bells. This Mr. Curtis did, and vesterday Mr. Davis received a letter from him saying that he had gone to Baltimore and made the inspection and test. He enclosed a certificate to that effect. Mr. Davis has ordered the bells sent out at once. There will be ten chimes in the new set.

Population of North Carolina. A press dispatch from Washington, D. C., says the Census Bureau announces the population of North Carolina by races as follows: Whites, 1,049,-191; colored, 567,170; 1,571; Chinese, 15. Total, 1,617,947.

Lost His Arm.

Joe Darden, a white lad employed at the Wilmington cotton mill, got his left hand and arm caught under the elevator at the mill last Tuesday. The poor fellow's arm was crushed to a jelly, and the physicians at the City Hospital. where he was taken for treatment, found that it was necessary to amputate it.

Liquor License Law.

The liquor license section in the Revenue Act, as it passed the Senate yesterday, recites that "The board of commissioners shall upon satisfactory evidence of good moral character of the applicants, issue an order to the sheriff to grant such license," etc. As the bill came from the House the section read, "The board of commissioners may," etc.

Ladies' Evening at the Y. M. C. A. Those in charge of the Ladies' Evenng this week have decided to issue invitations. The large attendance at recent occasions has made it necessary, as the rooms are too small to accommodate all those who wish to attend.

Yesterday's Weather. The weather records of the Signal Office give the following report of the range of temperature, etc., yesterday: At 8 a. m., 52°; 8 p. m., 54°; maximum temperature, 63°; minimum, 51°; average 57°. Prevailing winds, northwest. Total rainfall, .01.
