Geo. Schwartz & Co., private bankers, Louisville, Ky., failed; liabilities half a million. —One man perished in the fire at the Elizabeth (N. J.) Cordage Works; the loss to the company is estimated at $700,000. —Eleven patients at Johns Hopkins Hospital, treated with the Koch lymph for lupus, have been cured. —Rev. Howard McQuary of the Episcopal Church, Cincinnati, has been suspended for six months for heresy. —Chas. N. Felton was yesterday elected United States Senator from California. —The master of the steamship Utopia has been arrested at Gibraltar, charged with negligence and mismanagement. —Henry Aveling, an actor, committed suicide in New York yesterday. —Chicago is in the grasp of the grip; the street car service, the fire department, the police force, the mail service, are all badly crippled. —Workmen in the Richmond Va. Locomotive Works have struck. —Locheil Iron Works, Harrisburg, Pa., have shut down. —Parnell, it is stated, has decided to resign his seat in Parliament, in accordance with his challenge to Healy. —New York markets: Money easy at 2 1/2 @ 3 per cent; closing offered at 3; cotton quiet; middling uplands 9 1/16 cents; middling Orleans 9 1/2 cents; southern flour dull but steady; wheat quiet and lower; No. 2 red, $1.18 1/2 at elevator; corn stronger and fairly active; No. 2 7/8 cents at elevator; rosin steady and quiet; strained, common to good, $1.55 @ 1.60; spirits turpentine quiet and steady at 40 1/2 @ 41 cents.

Since the passage of the law in France prohibiting betting on horse races, the value of racing stock has fallen forty per cent., and the horse men are kicking at that.

The Oxford Day, a bright, newsy and interesting paper, has entered upon its fourth volume. It keeps a sharp eye on Oxford, and is doing good work in pushing the town forward.

Chauncey M. Depew, speaking commendably of Tom Reed's Congress, said a Republican Congress did not defend its acts nor apologize for anything. It couldn't defend and didn't have the politeness to apologize.

There were two secret societies of Italians in New Orleans, one the Camorra, the other the Mafia. The feud between them cost fifty-two of them their lives within the past two years and in near New Orleans.

The Republican convention in Rhode Island last week didn't adopt any platform. The Republicans have smashed so many platforms they hardly know how to go about making them now.

Mrs. D. P. Osgood, of North Penobscot, Maine, although 70 years of age, makes a good and active postmistress, personally superintending the distribution of the mails three times a day, as she has been doing for twenty-eight years.

Ex-Premier Crispien de Wier is employed by an Italian steamship company as counsel at a salary of 50,000 lire, and this was before they learned that he carried a revolver in his hip pocket. A counsel with a hip pocket attachment of that kind ought to be worth some more lire.

Editor Shepard of the Gotham Mail and Express says the Waterston letter to Gov. Hill has split the Democratic party into pieces. When Bro. Shepard learns that Henry Waterston has got the grip he will doubtless consider that the Democratic party is not only split but that the two halves are quite sick.

The Springfield (Ill.) Republican is willing to bet a dollar that Tom Reed is counting on having some fun in the next Congress. As Tom won't have much to do with legislation in the next Congress he will have plenty of spare time for fun, if he can find any one in his lonesome corner of the house to frolic with him.

The Philadelphia Telegraph, sensible Republican, tells its party that "great principles, great patriotic purposes will do more to achieve Republican success in 1892, than vast funds for the corruption of the ballot box." But the g. o. p. has relied so long on corruption funds that it wouldn't know how to handle great principles if it should try.

Kentucky has incorporated a provision in her new constitution on which the convention is now working, which prohibits duelling and disqualifies the sender, receiver or bearer of a challenge from holding office and makes him amenable to such further punishment as the General Assembly may prescribe by law. If it had further provided that the sender, bearer or receiver of a challenge should be forever deprived of wearing the title of Colonel this provision would have been a clincher.

On the night of May 5th, 1890, six Sicilians, going home from unloading a fruit vessel, were driving in a wagon along the Esplanade, one of most frequented streets in New Orleans, when they were fired into. Four were killed outright and two died next day. It was in ferreting out the perpetrators of this slaughter that Chief of Police Hennessy incurred the wrath of the Mafia, which cost him his life.

Mr. E. A. Cannon, of Minneapolis has found a use for the worn out old rails of railroads. He proposes to convert them into ties to take the place of wooden ties. A thirty-foot rail cut in the desired lengths makes four pieces, two of which laid together by a plan which he has devised makes a tie, which he says will fill the bill.

If not, why not? — "Spring commences" to-day, according to the almanacs. — If you have registered forty times heretofore, you cannot vote in the coming election unless you are registered again. — A communication on the Sewerage question from Dr. R. D. Jewett has been received and will appear tomorrow. — Bob? Didn't your wife tell you to register yesterday when you went to dinner? You know she did. And yet you walked right by your registration precinct and forgot all about it. — The schooner Aldine cleared yesterday for Humacao, Porto Rico, with a cargo of 171,892 feet of lumber, valued at $3,578.38. Vessel by Geo. Harriss, Son & Co.; cargo by Edward Kidder's Son. — Col. B. R. Moore has been quite unwell for the past two days. During his absence from his accustomed place in the Criminal Court, Mr. Sol. C. Weil has performed the duties of Solicitor with marked ability. — A negro boy named Isaac Chadbourn was arrested on suspicion by the police early yesterday morning. He had a large bacon ham in his possession, which is supposed to have been stolen. He will be brought before the Mayor this morning for examination. — Notwithstanding the fact that the Durham Convention has necessitated the absence of several members, the ladies have arranged a most interesting programme at the Y. M. C. A. to-night. A guessing competition is to be held and visitors will kindly refresh their memories with familiar quotations. — The Southport Leader says: "The high tides of the past week, with the freshet from the upper river, made a very large volume of water in the lower Cape Fear river. Some damage was threatened for a time at the Orton plantation from the high water, but fortunately it did not occur."

CRIMINAL COURT.

The Business of the Term Concluded Yesterday—Sentences Pronounced, Etc. The motion made in arrest of judgment in the case of W. B. Coleburn and Becky Evans, convicted of unlawful cohabitation, was denied, and the Court sentenced Coleburn to sixteen months' imprisonment in the County House of Correction; in the case of Becky Evans, it was adjudged that she pay one-half the bill of costs and be discharged. The money was paid—about forty dollars—and the woman left the Court room.

Wm. Larkins, colored, convicted of larceny—robbing the tailor shop of F. H. Krahnke Tuesday night last—was sentenced to five years imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

Jno. Puckett, indicted for assault and battery with a deadly weapon, failed to answer when called, and judgment nisi was entered against him.

Maria Nixon, a young woman, who had been in jail for a month under commitment by the colored magistrate Thomas of Cape Fear township, for assault and battery with a deadly weapon, was ordered to be discharged; Thomas having disappeared and no complaint appearing.

E. Bache, a white man, charged with having set fire to an unoccupied house, and who had been in jail several weeks, was on motion of the Solicitor discharged, and the case not pressed.

Monroe Turner, convicted of larceny of eggs from Mr. B. F. Swann's store, was sentenced to 12 months in the State penitentiary.

Edward Weaver, white, convicted of forging a check, was arraigned for sentence. His counsel, M. Bellamy, Esq., prayed the clemency of the Court; the prisoner, he said, had made no attempt to pass the forged check, and he was in an intoxicated state when the crime was committed.

The Court said it was a case of technical guilt, and sentenced the prisoner (Weaver) to four months in the House of Correction, with the understanding that if he pays the costs he will be discharged.

A PLEA FOR "BILLY."

Some Things That a Goat is Good For, and What to Do With Him. "A Friend of Goats" has been investigating the characteristics of what he terms the much-abused animal. In Switzerland and Greece a man's fortune is measured by the size of his flock of goats. In Switzerland the kids are killed as soon as they are born, and skinned. After three or four days' life the skins become almost worthless. The skin of a new-born kid brings from 75 cents to $1, and is the most valued material for kid gloves. The kid glove industry is entirely dependent on the goat. The supply of skins is mostly drawn from mountainous countries, where no other animal could make its living except a goat.

The finest cashmere shawls are the product of the Angora goat, whose hair sells readily at $1 a pound, and cashmere shawls worth $1,000 are not uncommon.

Swiss and Neuchatel cheese can only be made from goat's milk. Many an invalid in Europe has regained his health after using whey from goat's milk.

Goat flesh is as good as mutton and is preferred by many. Goats are more hearty and more prolific than sheep. Some species yield a hair which will bring more money than wool. The Cashmere or Angora goat for instance. The goat, too, is the poor man's cow. A good goat will readily yield two quarts of milk a day, which is equal in richness to three quarts of cow's milk. The goat lives on very little and makes a hearty meal on a few sheets of brown paper.

"Will a boy who receives as a Christmas present his first goat and cart," asks a "Friend of Goats," "ever feel as proud in after life as he did then? I say no. He may own fast trotters and a stylish turnout, but it will never be with the same joyous heart and feeling experienced on receipt of his first goat-sulky. The goat has its proper place, which is certainly not in the streets of a city nor in the orchard of a farmer, and he should be kept where he belongs.

The climbing and jumping of the goat can be effectively stopped by boring a gimlet hole in the tip of his hoofs and inserting a small copper wire through both holes and twisting it together until it is tight.

If the hoof of a goat is examined it will be found to have on the inside a kind of saw edge, and by spreading the claws of the hoof it can hold on and climb almost anywhere and anything. Compelling the hoofs to be closed will give the goat a few falls and he will never attempt to climb again.

WEATHER FORECASTS.

The following are the weather forecasts for to-day: For Virginia, rain Friday, slightly cooler. East winds. For North Carolina, fair and cooler by Friday night. Variable winds. For South Carolina, fair, cooler by Friday night. Variable winds. For Georgia, fair, cooler, winds becoming north-westerly. For Florida, fair, slightly cooler except no change in temperature on Atlantic. Variable winds.

Butter Going Up. Housewives will have to be economical in the use of butter for the next few weeks. There is practically a famine in this commodity in New York, from whence most of the supply comes, and as a result, prices are rapidly advancing. All the dairies in New York State are tied up, and the stock of butter on hand cannot be replenished for at least three weeks. The causes for this state of affairs are several, the most particular of which is the late freeze.

King's Daughters. The State Convention of the King's Daughters will convene in Raleigh on Thursday, May 14th. The local committee desires to learn at once how many circles there are in the State, and how many will probably be represented in the convention—and the Leaders or Secretaries of each circle are requested to communicate promptly with Mrs. J. L. Foster, Raleigh, N. C.

The Appropriations. The STAR favors the appropriations to be voted on at the election to be held next Thursday. The system of sewerage and street improvements provided for must be undertaken soon if Wilmington is to become a growing and prosperous city, and the initiatory steps may as well be taken now as at a later day.

MR. STRAUSS ENDORSED FOR ALDERMAN. At a largely attended meeting of the Republicans of the First Ward last night, it was decided to support W. H. Strauss, the regular Democratic nominee. Mr. Strauss is a property holder, and has the confidence of all the people of the Ward, and for this reason we hope he will be supported by all good Republicans.

A Crazy Darkey. A crazy negro named Larrington, sent to jail for safe-keeping several days ago, grew very violent Wednesday night. Mr. King, the jailer, tried to quiet him and was attacked by Larrington. After a severe struggle, however, Mr. King overpowered the madman and put him in irons.

Spirits turpentine sold yesterday at 87 1/2 cents per gallon, and tar at $1.50 per barrel.
