OUTLINES.

Two Internal Revenue agents were shot from ambush in Stokes county while breaking up an illicit distillery; one was killed and the other mortally wounded. — Memorial services for the eleven Italians lynched in New Orleans were held by their countrymen in New York yesterday. — George Nelson, thirteen years old, accidentally shot and killed himself while gunning at Greenville, N. C. — Active work is being done on ships for the U. S. Navy at Camp's ship yard. — The "grip" has caught Milwaukee and other towns in Wisconsin. — Revenue raiders surprised and captured a moonshine distillery in Putnam county, Ohio. — Gen. Jos. E. Johnston died last night at his residence in Washington, D. C. — Another disastrous break is reported in the Mississippi levees. — Several persons were seriously injured at Augusta, Georgia, by a supposed explosion of dynamite. — New York markets: Money easy at 2½ per cent; cotton steady; middling uplands 9 cents; middling Orleans 9-16 cents; Southern flour firm and quiet; wheat 1½-1½ cents up firm and dull; No. 2 red, 1½-1½ cents at elevator; corn higher, quiet and scarce; No. 2, 76½-76½ cents at elevator; rosin dull and firm; strained, common to good, 57½-61 60; spirits turpentine quiet and firm at 40½-41½ cents.

Mr. Ingalls thinks the Alliance is a coming power and that it is going to get in some political work in the future. It got in some work when it killed him.

The sudden death of Lawrence Barrett, the great actor, breaks up the Booth-Barrett combination. Booth's health is breaking rapidly. He smokes too many cigars.

Mr. Lodge would like to have the House bill made the issue in '92, which is to say Mr. Lodge would like to come into a little more prominence than he enjoys at present.

The New Foundland fisheries question is looming up as a probable cause of grave complications between England and France. And it is a sort of a sardine business, too.

Mr. Harrison deprecates the continued agitation of the McKinley tariff. We should think so. He will deprecate it more when the returns of the next Presidential election come in.

Col. Tipton has severed his connection with the Raleigh Capital, and it is rumored contemplates starting a daily paper in Salisbury. As a paper starter the Colonel has achieved success and fame.

Joe Howard asks in the New York Press if the "average man is an idiot." If the average Republican editor was an average sample, we should be disposed to answer somewhat in the affirmative.

The Philadelphia Times is authority for the statement that there are not less than 10,000 cases of consumption in Philadelphia, and that the deaths from that disease alone number 3,000 annually.

The internal revenue business in this country is flourishing. The revenue for the past seven months of the fiscal year shows an increase of $7,152,696 over the corresponding period of the preceding year.

In the Maine Legislature every Democratic member voted for the Australian ballot system, and every Republican against it. They didn't propose to take any chances on turning the State over to the Democrats.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, MARCH 22, 1891.

WHOLE NO. 7,635

LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted.

- Don't register to-day.
- No City Court yesterday.
- The Norwegian barge Brage arrived in below yesterday.
- There will be fine music at Fifth Street M. E. Church to-night.
- The Register of Deeds issued six marriage licenses the past week.
- The British steamship Craigmore, hence, arrived at Liverpool, March 19th.
- Under the new law it is unlawful to shoot or trap partridges between March 15th and October 10th.
- Six prisoners go up from the Criminal Court of this county this week to the State penitentiary at Raleigh.
- The "by-joe" theatre, on South Water street, gave its initial performance last night to a "crowded house."
- But three more days for registration, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Why not register to-morrow?
- There was a hail-storm at Weldon Friday evening; it did no damage, but the hail-stones were as large as walnuts.
- Large numbers of Northern tourists are now on the "homeward fly" from Southern resorts. They are mainly from Florida.
- Complaint is made in the lower part of the city of hogs running at large, and that several flower gardens have been ruined.
- Registration is backward in all the wards. There are but three days left in which this important duty can be attended to.
- Stormy weather last night. There was rain, thunder and lightning, and a heavy blow from the north, shifting to the eastward.
- The Board of Magistrates will meet to-morrow to consider the question of building a new court house—something very much needed.
- Bad colds seem to be prevalent all over the city; the effects of "La Grippe," which has been getting in its work for the last month or two.
- Internments the past week are reported as follows: Oakdale, one adult; Bellevue, one adult; Pine Forest (colored) two adults and four children.
- The Mutual Insurance and Aid Society have a handsomely fitted up office in the building on the northeast corner of Front and Princess streets; up-stairs.
- The election to be held next Thursday is a very important one, but you will have no voice in it, if your name is not on the new registration book of your Ward.
- If those who favor the appropriations do not register and vote their full strength, there will be no general system of sewerage and street improvements for many years.
- Travel on the Seacoast road is improving as the mercury crawls up. The cars were well filled yesterday, and the indications now point to an exceptionally profitable season.
- The employees of Messrs. Fore & Foster's planing mills presented their foreman, Mr. Geo. Zeigler, with a very handsome gold pen yesterday—his 38th birthday—as a mark of their esteem and appreciation of his efficiency.
- Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1 will celebrate their twenty-second anniversary on the 25th of this month with a banquet at the Purcell House. Invitations have been issued to the city officials and officers of the other companies.
- The juvenile sportsmen, and some of the veterans, too, have had fine fun recently, shooting robins near the city. These favorite birds of the amateur gunners have been here in larger numbers than usual this season, and bags of twenty to forty birds have been easily made.
- The editor of a very prominent religious paper of this State, in a letter to the editor of the STAR, says: "The MORNING STAR is my favorite secular paper. I honor you for what you have done for journalism in the South and heartily wish you even greater success in the great work."
- The Industrial Works of this city have received from Philadelphia, an order for 15,000 fruit crates, and from a point on the W. & W. R. R. an order for one thousand more. Small industries pay when properly managed, and Wilmington should have more of them.
- Mr. Geo. W. Hardwicke, of the STAR, who has been in Baltimore, Md., for several weeks past undergoing treatment for an affection of his eyes, returned to Wilmington last evening. He derived much benefit from the treatment, and his friends will be glad to know that there is every assurance of a speedy and complete recovery from the ailment.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

Communication from Mr. Chase Supplemental to the Report of Mr. Hering.

EDITOR STAR:—I have been requested by the Chairman of the Special Committee on Sewerage to supplement the preliminary report of Mr. Hering with a statement of the area to be covered by the proposed system of sewers, its probable cost, &c.

While the plans to be submitted will show a scheme for disposing of the sewerage from every street in the present city limits, on the east side of the river, it was not deemed necessary after careful consideration to provide a necessary sewer outside of the district bounded by Nixon and Wooster streets, Sixth street, north of the railroad, Tenth street between the railroad and Market street, and Eighth street between Market and Wooster streets. In addition thereto, it will be an intercepting sewer for the city of the district bounded by Nixon and Wooster streets, Sixth street, north of the railroad, Tenth street between the railroad and Market street, and Eighth street between Market and Wooster streets. In addition thereto, it will be an intercepting sewer for the city of the district bounded by Nixon and Wooster streets, Sixth street, north of the railroad, Tenth street between the railroad and Market street, and Eighth street between Market and Wooster streets.

The amount of pipe required to do this work will be about 132,000 feet, or 23 miles, varying in size from 8 inches to 24 inches, and the estimated cost at seventy cents per foot, (which covers the cost of all manholes, lampholes, flush tanks, &c.) will be $92,400.

It may be interesting in this connection to say, that the sewer system of Raleigh, completed about a year ago, had 21½ miles of pipe, costing complete a little less than $75,000, an average of 66½ cents per foot.

It is hardly possible to add anything to what Mr. Hering has said in regard to the sanitary and economical advantages to be derived by the construction of a system of sewers. It is questionable if the metropolis of the State can any longer afford to be behind its sister cities in entering upon a system of internal improvements that will not only contribute to the well being of the community, but, by properly disposing of the sewage, attract the attention of a class seeking a home that would not consider the question of settling in a city without sewerage facilities, to say nothing about the condition of our streets.

The following quotation from an editorial in "The Municipal Engineer," published in Raleigh, is very generally conceded to contain a great deal of truth. It applies to sewerage as well as to streets, and its conclusions can be illustrated in our own State by the growth in population and prosperity of Winston, Asheville and other smaller places. "In every community there are well-meaning people of the extremely conservative kind who think it is better to spend ten years twice as much for the repair of bad streets as it would cost to put down a pavement that would last a century, and that they are always ready with arguments for delaying improvements of streets until some indefinite time in the future after there has been done some particular thing that they propose merely as a subterfuge. It will be observed that in communities where this kind of conservatism prevails there is no such prosperity and business activity as in the progressive cities and towns where the people go ahead with improvements."

Enough has been already spent for sewers on more than four miles of our streets to have supplied them with a first class system, but seventy-five per cent. of the cost has been thrown away, as some of the streets have as many as three pipes, and others have one which is located so as to accommodate only one side of the street, and most of them are seriously defective in construction, in not being laid to a proper depth or grade.

JOHN C. CHASE.

WILMINGTON'S DEATH RATE.

As Shown by Dr. Potter's Annual Report and as Compared With Some Other Cities.

Mr. Editor—I did not intend to make out my annual report until the 31st of March—the end of the fiscal year—but the pressure at this time brings me forward with figures bearing upon the deaths in our city from March 1st, 1890, to February 28th, 1891.

I have noticed that quite a number of mortuary reports from a good many cities leave out still-births and accidental deaths from their statements. I have done the same in this report.

We had during the year mentioned 138 deaths among whites, minus 4 still-births, 2 killed and 4 drowned—118. Total deaths among colored—321, including 41 still-births, 2 killed and 7 drowned—leaving 271 the actual number of deaths for colored for the time stated.

This would be 22.58 to 1,000 colored; and white, 15.48 per 1,000, estimating our population at 9,000 for white and 13,000 for colored. I have heretofore made calculations upon a basis of 23,000.

I notice Milwaukee has death a rate of 15.48 to 1,000; Memphis, Tenn., 15.48; Chattanooga, Tenn., 21.00 whites and 37.20 colored, both white and colored, 25.40; Nashville, Tenn., 17.08 for white, 25.37 white and colored; New Orleans, white 38.74, colored, 42.04; both, 38.21 to 1,000.

For the want of time I have not been able to elaborate on the statistics of our and other cities. I hope to do so however at the conclusion of the year.

The vital statistics of Raleigh for the past fiscal year, as published by the News and Observer, show a total of 887 deaths as follows: white 101, colored 155, still-deaths 31. The remains of 47 people were brought to the city for interment, making the total interments during the year 384.

The Bicycle Club held a meeting Friday night, but no business of importance was transacted.

A BIG BLUNDER.

The Legislature Taxes all Incomes.

The Raleigh Chronicle of Saturday says: "The Revenue Act compels everybody to pay tax upon their incomes. This will apply to the cook who gets $5 a month; to the farm laborer who gets $10 a month; and to every person in receipt of a salary or wages."

"Chapter 322, Laws of 1891 (now in press) is the Revenue Act. Section 5 of Schedule A reads:

"On the incomes and profits derived from any property not taxed during the year preceding the first day of June in each year there shall be a tax of one per centum, without exemption. On incomes derived from salaries or fees during the same time there shall be a tax of one-half of one per centum."

"That is the law as it stands to-day, and as it will stand until another meeting of the General Assembly. The law, as it has been heretofore, taxed all incomes except $1,000."

St. Matthews' Mission.

The St. Matthews' Evangelical Lutheran Mission on Fourth street, between Bladen and Brunswick, is nearing completion. The framework of the edifice is all finished, and the workmen will begin weatherboarding it next week. The committee, consisting of W. H. Strauss, C. W. Polvogt and S. P. Wright, inform us that the corner-stone will be laid on the 13th of this month, and that the ceremonies will be very fine. This chapel is built for the Lutherans in Brooklyn, as a branch of St. Paul's Evangelical Church.

The Morning Star.

The forty-seventh semi-annual volume of the STAR ends to-day, making it twenty-three years and six months old. It is not only the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, but during all these years it has never missed a regular issue and there has been no change of proprietorship or editorial management. It does not wish to claim too much; but its owner and editor hopes that its efforts to advance the interests of Wilmington and North Carolina have not been altogether in vain.

The correspondence between Mr. Jas. F. Post, Jr., Chairman of the Sanitary Committee, and Mr. Rudolph Hering, the eminent civil engineer who recently visited Wilmington, on the Sewerage question, will be found on page second of to-day's STAR, and will be read with interest.

FRIGHTENED STEEDS.

Two Runaways Yesterday Afternoon.

A runaway horse on Second street yesterday afternoon created a lively sensation. Coming up the street to Market, the frightened animal was confronted by a policeman, and leaving the roadway, he took to the sidewalk on the west side, much to the consternation of people, who were driven to the middle of the street. The horse kept to the sidewalk all the way beyond the postoffice, and many persons narrowly escaped being run over. The horse had "harness on his back" and part of the singletree of a buggy dangling at his heels.

Another runaway took place shortly afterwards on front street, the horse attached to a buggy coming in collision with an omnibus and team standing in front of The Orion. No damage resulted, beyond the loss of a shoe by one of the omnibus horses.

Special Services in the Lutheran Church.

Beginning with to-day (Palm Sunday) special services will be held in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church throughout Passion Week. There will be English services on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, at 3:30 p. m., and on Good Friday at 8 p. m. Rev. Geo. H. Cox, the President of the Lutheran N. C. Synod, will assist Rev. Mr. Peschau in the services of the week.

The church will be appropriately and emblematically decorated on Palm Sunday with living green palm trees, etc., on Good Friday with drooping moss, etc., and on Easter with flowers. The music will be fine. Some members will be added in the German services this morning and in the English services at 7:30 p. m. To-day the largest class of Catechumens the Church has ever had in her history, will give expression to their faith, and be questioned before the congregation. This large class will be confirmed at 8 p. m. Good Friday in the English service.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

Friday's Proceedings at Durham Meeting.

Raleigh News and Observer.

There were the following exercises: Testimony meeting by S. E. Gidney, of Shelby; reports of associations; bible reading; address by Mr. H. P. Anderson, general secretary, Asheville; how to stimulate Bible study; address by W. A. Wynne, State Secretary of South Carolina, conversational, social and intelligent agencies; promise meeting conducted by J. W. Willard, of Wake Forest; what the association should not do, L. C. Shuey, New York; what can the association do for mechanics and factory operatives, S. H. Boyd, Reidsville; prayer service for State work, Wm. Black, Maxton; report of State committee, Rev. Thomas Hume, D. D., chairman; E. L. Harris, treasurer; L. A. Coulter, State secretary; work of the year, J. H. Southgate, Durham.

— Mr. E. Van Laer, the well known pianist, has moved his piano and organ establishment from his old stand next to the corner of Campbell and Fourth streets, to the store on the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets, formerly occupied by Mr. Schulken. He has built a small frame store next to it, on Fourth street, so as to have enough room for his growing business.
