In answer to the assertion by Republican papers and Congressmen who in their effort to defend the McKinley tariff, say that goods are cheaper now than they were before that tariff went into effect, the New York Times says: "There is not a store in New York in which dress goods are not selling at higher prices than similar goods have heretofore been sold at; not one in which dress goods are not commanding higher prices than they would have been marked at had the old tariff been | follows: continued in force."

AN IMPORTANT POINT.

The Appropriations for Sewerage and Street Improvements -- A Majority of the Registered Vote Necessary to Adopt.

Those who favor the appropriations A joint meeting of the Board of Magfor sewerage and street improvements should not overlook the important fact that it requires a majority of the "qualified voters" (which means the registered voters) in their favor to make the issue of bonds legal. For example: Suppose there should be 2,400 registered voters. It would then be necessary to poll at least 1,201 votes in their favor in order to insure the success of the appropriations. It would make no difference if there were not a single vote cast against these measures. An affirmative vote of 1,200 without one vote in the negative would mean their

It will be seen from the above explanation how important it is for all who favor the appropriations to cast their votes. Carelessness and indifference on the part of those who oppose them will amount to nothing. It is the affirmative side that must vote.

Touching Incident in the Lutheran Church The Lutheran Church was crowded from end to end last Sunday night at the English services, to witness the confession of faith of a class of eighteen catchumens. The eighteen children made confession of their holy faith in an earnest, intelligent and impressive manner. After seventeen of them had performed their high and holy duty, a touching incident, that is perhaps unparalleled in our city's history, occurred when Miss Josephine Boecher, an almost speechless and deaf child, gave expression to her faith in God. In the letters and signs of the dumb alphabet she gave the Lord's Prayer in a manner that was not only profoundly touching, but moved many to tears. Her humble look of mingled faith and true devotion, her raised and motioning speechless hands, imploringly rendering the Lord's Prayer, was indeed a touching sight. She also wrote Scripture passages, etc., faultlessly. She is the daughter of our
