The Italian government demands of the United States that the New Orleans henchmen be punished, and an indemnity paid to the families of the slain. Barque Ada P. Gould foundered at sea; crew rescued and brought to Norfolk. Peanut growers are alarmed at the prospect of war between Italy and the United States.

Prince Bismarck celebrated the 25th anniversary of his birth-day yesterday. He didn't invite William Kaiser to his party.

People who believe in a strict vegetable diet may be interested to learn that the grip germ is not a thing of flesh but a plant.

What a daisy auxiliary to the newspaper office that South Carolina wild cat would be when the spring poetry battle or the exchange fiend comes along.

It is said that Mr. Parnell will marry Mrs. O'Shea in June, and will set up an establishment in Brighton. It will not be equipped with fire escapes.

They have got that old worm-eaten hulk, the Gaena, afloat, and now there will be a chance to spend another hundred thousand or so fixing her up so she will continue to float some more.

According to Chinese authority this world of ours is now 7,910,341 years old. As the Chinaman put in an appearance pretty soon after the creation, he ought to know something about it, and we can't very well dispute his figures.

It is said of the late Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby, of New York, as an illustration of his remarkable vitality, that when he graduated from college forty-five years ago, physicians told him he couldn't live a year, as one of his lungs was destroyed and he would soon die of consumption.

Those Republican journals on the other side of the line which have been finding so much fault with the State of Mississippi for incorporating an educational qualification in her constitution as a requisite to the right of franchise, are invited to turn their attention to the Legislature of the State of Maine which has passed a law prohibiting any person from voting who cannot read or write.

Pittsburg is a civilized town, and yet it has within its limits fifteen hundred savages who broke into a Chinese cemetery on the suburbs while the corpse of a Chinaman was being buried, trampled over the grave, attacked the funeral party, and seized and carried off the "joss sticks," bits of paper money, printed prayers, &c., used in Chinese burial ceremonies.

The attention of patriot Shepard, of the New York Mail and Express, is called to that South Carolina wild cat which can chaw up an able-bodied, fully-equipped bull dog before breakfast, and half a dozen more before noon, without grinding his claws or wetting his teeth. With such a wild cat as this in active operation South Carolina can never be considered fully reconstructed.

A Chicago doctor set a trap and captured a half dozen of the grip microbes. But from the way the little varmint is getting in his work on the denizens of that town and other Western burghs, there must be several thousand millions of them still at large. He says they come from some other planet, and that the earth with the Chicago side in front is passing through swarms of them, and catches 'em on the fly.

A lawsuit over one cent has just been closed at Chicago which cost the man who didn't win it $400 in court costs and lawyers' fees. An Englishman bought a stamp at the post office, stuck it on his letter and offered a Canadian penny in pay, which the postmaster refused to take. The Britisher got mad, talked "sassy," postmaster got his Chicago dander up, talked "sassy" too, then lawsuit in which the Britisher was floored with the above result, and a sovereign contempt for Chicago justice.

A goose egg, that is the plain, matter-of-fact, orthodox goose egg, is a perfectly harmless invention, but when three times loaded with forty-rod whiskey, the man who tackles and rashly undertakes to absorb it will stand a pretty good chance of coming to grief. This was the experience of one McKee, a denizen of Philadelphia, who undertook a few days ago to get on the outside of three goose eggs full of red liquor on a wager. He won the wager and was found next morning dead and twisted up into a knot.

Mr. Jas. Yopp and Mr. A. L. Scott claim the fastest time on record for bicycles; having made the trip to Capt. Manning's place on Wrightsville Sound, from Seventeenth and Market streets--a distance of eight miles--in thirty-five minutes.

Don't forget the lawn party and festival to be given by the ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal Church this afternoon and night at Mr. M. S. Willard's, corner Sixth and Orange streets. An elegant crab supper will be furnished those desiring it. Crabs served in any desired style. Proceeds for the benefit of the Sunday school.

The Fayetteville correspondent of the Lumberton Robesonian says: "Not long since Mr. J. W. Atkinson broke a leg while handling oil in barrels, for the Standard Oil Company. Last week he received a check from the agent of the company at Wilmington for seventy-five dollars to help pay the expenses and for the loss of time incident thereto."

The Fayetteville Baptist thus refers to the death of the late Wm. Larkins: "Our deep sympathy is extended to the First Baptist Church, Wilmington, in their loss of brother William Larkins, who for years has been a faithful, consecrated, valuable member of that church. A good man has gone to his reward. May the blessed Comforter gently lead the afflicted ones in their hour of gloom."

Mayor Ricaud was last night tendered a complimentary serenade by the Germania Cornet Band. They played, with much skill, several familiar airs among which was "Dixie," and were liberally cheered by the crowd present. After the serenade Mayor Ricaud delivered a short but appropriate speech. After thanking the band for their appreciation of the result of the election for Mayor he invited them to his rooms.

THE TRUCK BUSINESS.

Statistics on the Development of a Great Industry.

For the first time in the history of the country truck farming has been made a subject of inquiry by the Census Office. Statistics have been collected and a preliminary report has been made by Special Agent J. H. Hale.

The South Atlantic District embraces North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, supplying northern markets, east and west. It is the largest in producing area of any. The average value of land per acre in this district is $45.95, the total value of land in the district being $5,042,705.25. The industry employs 18,210 men, 2,716 women, 9,950 children and 6,689 horses and other animals.

The net income per acre on the various products varies in the different sections. In the South Atlantic States the net income from the various products is as follows: Asparagus $93 63, beets $91, snap beans $42 94, cabbage $113 61, cucumbers $175, watermelons $32 06, other melons $55, peas $57 37, Irish potatoes $101 60, sweet potatoes $106 50, spinach $70, tomatoes $94 72. While these figures are a good deal higher than for the Peninsular, Norfolk and Baltimore districts, they are lower than for the other truck growing sections.

The gross income on truck farm products for 1889, after deducting commissions and charges for transportation, was $76,517,155; the cost of labor $9,474,825.89, and the cost of seeds $1,419,633.50 being deducted, the net income is shown to be $65,622,705.66, leaving a difference between the gross and net income of $3,794,422.97 more than is accounted for. This difference is caused by various local expenses, but is nearly all for shipping packages.

The figures upon which the Census Bureau based its report were for 1889, since when there has been a great development of the industry.

THE "RACCOON OYSTER."

Trouble Among the "Sounders"--But They are All Right Under the New Law.

Some of the people on the Sounds near Wilmington are in trouble, being under the impression that the oyster law passed by the Legislature prohibits the taking of oysters by hand. Some have abandoned the business, fearful that they were violating the law. Many of these people are very poor, and depend almost entirely on "oystering" for a living. The STAR, therefore, is glad to inform them that they may pursue their old occupation "without let or hindrance," and without violating the law which, as we understand it, applies only to dredging and to the oyster grounds owned by the State. It would be a real hardship to the people of Masonboro, Wrightsville and adjacent Sounds if it were otherwise.

The oystermen and the oysterwomen, too--for the latter really outnumber the former--may, therefore, continue to bag the little bivalvular "raccoons," and thus keep the "wolf from the door."

MARCH WEATHER.

Summary of Reports from the Signal Office.

The monthly meteorological summary for the Wilmington station, furnished by Mr. F. P. Chaffee, Signal Service Observer, makes the following exhibit: The mean barometer was 30.07; highest, 30.56, on the 15th; lowest, 29.53, on the 21st.

Mean temperature, 52°; highest, 72°, on the 8th; lowest, 30°, on the 15th; The mean temperature for this month since 1871 ranged from 48° in 1872 to 58° in 1884. The total deficiency in temperature during the past month was 46°.

The prevailing direction of wind was northeast; the total movement 7,023 miles; extreme velocity, 41 miles from the northwest on the 22d.

The total rainfall was 5.15 inches. Total excess in precipitation during the month, .98 of an inch. There were three cloudless days, 13 partly cloudy and 15 cloudy. There were thunder storms on the 8th and 21st; a solar halo on the 20th, and a lunar halo on the 19th.

Postal Department Ruling. The Savannah News announces that by the latest Postal Department ruling trainmen may now carry newspaper "copy" without fear of incurring a penalty since the department has decided that the $50 fine for delivering letters without stamps does not apply to letters intended for publication in newspapers. This is a matter of no light importance to county newspapers all over the country, as many of them solely rely upon friendly trainmen to collect their news for them from distant points.

Yesterday's Weather. The weather records of the Signal Office give the following report of the range of temperature, etc., yesterday: At 8 a. m., 54°; 8 p. m., 55°; maximum temperature, 68°; minimum, 52°; average 58°. Prevailing wind, southeast. Total rainfall, .00.

The opening of the new Fifth Ward Hook and Ladder hall was celebrated last night by a "hop" and a supper, given by members of the company. The hall was tastily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting, and brilliantly lighted. The tables, filled with an abundance of everything, were spread in the room below the hall. NAVAL STORES.

End of the Crop Year--Increased Receipts.

The statement of the movement of naval stores at this port for the year ended March 31st, as bulletined at the Produce Exchange, shows an increase in the receipts of spirits turpentine and rosin--the two most important articles. The figures given show the total receipts, as compared with those of last season, as follows: Spirits turpentine, 67,785 casks; last year, 66,962. Rosin, 366,503 barrels; last year, 287,901. Tar, 66,321 barrels; last year, 77,479. Crude turpentine, 18,201 barrels; last year, 20,027.

The Public Building. Postmaster French informed a STAR reporter, yesterday, that a considerable part of the furniture for the new public building had been received and placed in position. The furniture for the post-office work has not yet arrived, but is expected soon. The clock, to be placed in the cupola, was looked for yesterday, but it seems to have gone astray in transit, and will have to be traced up. It is said to be a very large and handsome clock, but there is nothing striking about it. On the contrary, it will be "Silent as the grave."

Harbor Master's Report. Capt. Price, Harbor Master, reports arrivals during the month as follows: Foreign--One steamer, seven barques, one brig, one schooner; total tonnage, 3,722. American--Seven steamers, fourteen schooners; total tonnage, 9,169. Pilots report soundings at low water. On Bald Head bar, 15 feet; Western bar, 11 feet.

A Most Acceptable Paper. [Goldboro Headlight.]

THE MORNING STAR of Wilmington has entered its forty-eighth volume with brighter prospects than ever. That publication never harrows up the feelings of its readers by gloom, malignity or bitterness of any kind. For this reason it is always pleasant to take up that paper, and it never leaves the reader with uncomfortable feelings. It is a most acceptable paper, both for the purity of its style and excellence of its matter, which is always void of offense to one's finer and better feelings. We are always glad to note its success.
