Fine Concert Monday Night.

To-morrow (Monday) night the superb concert of vocal and instrumental music, given in the Opera House on last Tuesday night, will be repeated in Luther Memorial Building. There will be a few slight variations. The same vocalists and instrumentalists will take part, and no doubt the concert will be most highly enjoyable.

The price of admittance is only 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. We hope Luther Memorial Building will be crowded by an appreciative, music-loving audience.

escape from that institution, but the plot was discovered and the escape prevented by the Jailor, Mr. W. W. King, through information given by a white sailor named Tom Ray, whom the negroes tried to induce to join them in their break for liberty. Their plan was to "throw sand in the eyes" of the jailor, from a bucket of this article which is kept in the cage where they are confined, and while the jailor was blinded, to dash past him, lock him in the cell and make their escape from the build-

Information of the intended attempt to escape was given Jailor King several days ago, and he was, consequently, on the lookout for anything that might happen, and was particularly on his guard against the three negroes alleged to be in the plot-Jim Veney, Mack Mc-Kay and Will Bowden-the first-named awaiting trial for assault and battery with a deadly weapon, and the other two for larceny.

Yesterday evening at 8 o'clock, when Jailor King was about to enter the cage to lock the prisoners in their separate cells for the night, he saw three negroes in the cell nearest the door of the cage. He immediately covered them with his revolver and ordered them out. Realizing that their plot was discovered they obeyed the order, and after handcuffs were placed upon them and each was in his cell they admitted that they had determined to put their plans for escape into execution yesterday evening.

Jailor King displayed commendable coolness and promptness in the emer-

This Order has been established in Wilmington but a few months, and is already coming to the front. It has excellent and attractive features, and a great record. It is in the eleventh year of its existence, and has 53,000 members; and has paid in benefits, $4,685,757.50.

The Order is a fraternal and benevolent society, paying sick benefits, and at the end of seven years, an endowment not to exceed $1,000, less the amount previously paid as sick benefits.

Mr. W. B. Scattergood, manager of the Postal Telegraph Co., in this city, who has been a member of this order for seven years, received his draft for final payment Friday and it was cashed at the First National Bank. The gross amount for his benefit was $1,000. Mr. Scattergood was a member of this order before he came to Wilmington, and through his exertions a branch of it was established here last December.

Another difficulty confronts Italy in that New Orleans "massacre" business. Those "Italian subjects" had so many names that it isn't easy to identify them. The names they wore in this country were different from the names they went by at home, so it isn't quite certain from a legal stand point whether the citizens of New Orleans who slew Giovanni Stiletto, the Mafia, for instance, also slew Guiseppe Poniard, the Italian subject refugee from justice. In this case the Italian Consul thinks the family of Guiseppe Poniard would have difficulty in claiming indemnity for the killing of Giovanni Stiletto, but still the coroner was not accommodating
