When Premier Rudini reads the report of the New Orleans grand jury he will probably want to have the jury system in this country abolished or built over again.

Kate Field has come to the conclusion that good resolutions are fragile things that can't bear too great a strain. That's some other people's experience, too.

A Georgia editor is booming his section by advertising that he gets oysters out of his well. An editor who gets oysters out of his well can look delinquent subscribers in the face placidly and scorn to take cold victuals on subscription.

Miss Mollie Pomeroy, a rich girl of New York, is making a break on the coachman-marrying business by marrying a waiter in the hotel where she boarded, which interesting event comes off on the 10th inst. All things come to him who waits.

Major Jones, the U. S. consul at Cardiff, Wales, who has resigned the consulship to run for Parliament, is a Wisconsin man. When an ordinary Wisconsin man can loom up that way over there what might happen if Uncle Jerry Rusk went over.

That Brooklyn preacher who preached that the temperature of the climate to which sinners go is not red hot has discovered that a congregation which does not like to be be deprived of a red hot hell can make his position very hot for the moderate temperature preacher.

Judging by the record which the New Orleans grand jury present of the performances of detective O'Malley, the people of New Orleans must have been a very patient people to have tolerated such a scoundrel so long. The wonder is they didn't send him to keep company with the gang they exterminated on the 14th of March.

Baron Hirsch is looming up as a big-hearted humanitarian and a generous giver. In addition to the three or four millions he has given to aid the banished Russian Jews to find homes in Brazil and elsewhere in South and Central America, he now proposes to subscribe $15,000,000 to establish a colony of them in Australia. That man's money is doing somebody some good.

Mr. John Russell Young, Rep., of the New York Press, also Rep., don't take much stock in Mr. Harrison and rises to remark that "Mr. Harrison cannot depend for re-election upon the influences which gave him office. The next campaign will not be Frost at Raleigh; tobacco and cotton in | carried by money." And Bill Dudley who did it before is out of politics. John who is a Blaine man don't propose, if he can help it, to have the Harrisons, Benjamin and Russell, side-track his man.

> Gov. Hill, of New York, who is a bald-headed bachelor, will be surprised to learn that he has two sons sloshing around in Buffalo, borrowing money on the strength of their relationship to the old man, and that unsophisticated citizen of Nebraska whom they struck for $1,700 was both surprised and disgusted when he learned that it was some other man's sons who had been unloading him of his cash.

The Graniteville Cotton Mills, in Georgia, cleared $96,000 last year. How many cotton mills in the North could show up that well? It now has a surplus of earnings to fall back on of $674,029.

LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted.

- There was a hailstorm Tuesday night, about ten o'clock, on the Sound, but no damage therefrom is reported.

- A special meeting of the Wilmington Light Infantry is called for this evening at 8 o'clock at the Armory.

- An excursion from Bennettsville, S. C., over the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad, is due here to-day. - The designer of the steamer Wilmington evidently had an eye to speed. Her prow is as sharp as a country barber's razor. -- Mr. H. W. Collins has been elected to represent Clarendon Lodge, K. of P., at the meeting of the Grand Lodge to be held in Asheville next month.

- Among the curiosities on exhibition yesterday was a four-legged chicken from the poultry yard of Henry McRae, a colored man in the employ of Mr. F. A. Newbury.

- The juvenile base ball clubs-"Golden Champions," Capt. Bellamy Harriss, and the "Juniors," Capt. Leon Southerland, played a game yesterday; the "Juniors" winning.

- "Death and taxes" are said to be dead certainties. And now "the trouble begins," as you will see by reference to the announcement of Mr. S. P. Collier, City Tax Lister.

-- Under the new schedule, to go into effect on the 10th, the STAR will reach its subscribers on the Carolina Central railroad one hour and twenty minutes earlier than at present.

the season to Carolina Beach will be given by Stonewall Lodge, K. of P., May 19th. It is needless to say that the steamer Wilmington will be "in it."

- The public is invited to attend the reception or welcome services to be held to-night at Grace M. E. Church. The speeches of welcome will be made by Rev. Dr. Creasy and Rev. F. D.

- A large flock of sheep, galloping up Front street yesterday, created fun for the small boy. They had been driven here from the Little River section, and the effects of the journey were plainly visible in their tired appearance and attenuated forms.

- Storekeepers and citizens generally will be glad to know that a 400barrel street-sprinkler has been ordered by Alderman Fishblate, Chairman of the Street Department Committee, and will be put at work as soon as received. If this is not sufficient to keep down the dust, one or two more will be ordered.

THE WEATHER.

The Temperature Yesterday-The Forecasts for To-day.

The weather records of the Signal Office give the following report of the range of temperature, etc., yesterday: At 8 a. m., 51°; 8 p. m., 55°; maximum temperature, 61°; minimum,43°; average 52; prevailing wind, north. Total rain-

The area of high pressure advanced rapidly eastward, and in its passage caused severe local storms. The temperature fell 15° to 20° at all places east of the Mississippi river. The rain was confined mostly to the South Atlantic and Gulf coasts, with the exception of a little in the lower Lake region. Fresh to brisk northwest to northeast winds prevailed along the Atlantic coast.

The following are the weather forecasts for to-day: For Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, fair weather on Thursday and Friday; continued low temperature, except slightly warmer in extreme west portions, north winds; warmer Friday.

Mutual Insurance and Aid Society.

The Mutual Insurance and Aid Society of Wilmington, N. C., has opened an office for the transaction of business at the northeast corner of Front and Princess streets, up-stairs. In addition to doing an industrial insurance business the society makes a specialty of paying weekly sick benefits. Its officers are all well known citizens of WilmingHAIL-STORMS.

Their Nature and Formation-What the Signal Service People Say of Them. The Signal Service observers give some points about hail-storms that will be read with interest:

When several strata of black and grayish clouds are flying through the atmosphere, and when the thunderstorm has burst forth, millions of pounds of hailstones are launched from the clouds as if precipitated from the opened cataracts of a vast reservoir. For several minutes the hail drives through space, pelting trees and gardens; it then ceases as the wind blows it off in some other direction, and the close sultry temperature which preceded gives place to one much lower. What is the force which produces in the clouds these lumps of ice (often very large,) what bears them up into space. and then launehes them upon the earth? Hail occurs during a thunder storm when the, temperature is very high upon the surface of the ground, but decreases rapidly with elevation. This reduction in temperature is the principal factor in the formation of hail.

The clouds in the upper region of the air are often at a temperature as low as 20° below zero. These clouds are usually moving contrary to the direction of lower clouds which are of much higher temperature, and which consequently contain more water. The different strata of clouds coming in contact, the moisture in the warmer cloud is rapidly condensed below the freezing point and its moisture frozen into pellets of ice, which may fall directly to the earth from their own weight or be whirled into a snow cloud which forms the white snowy strata - The first regular excursion of of ten observed in hail storms. They are finally whirled without the vortex of motion and fall the earth. Hail storms are usuof few miles in length and often only a few hundred yards wide. The storm that passed here on the 6th seems to have started a few miles west of the city, around and over which it whirled in a northerly direction, passing off to the southeast. This seems to be verified from the fact that in the southern and Western portions of the city more and larger hail fell, clearly showing that it was nearer the centre.

TUESDAY'S STORM.

Hail and Wind in Bladen County-Cotton Ruined and Young Chickens Killed.

The storm last Tuesday was severe in Brunswick county, but fortunately was of narrow scope. Corn and oats were beaten down by the hail, as was growing rice, but the latter, it is thought, is not much damaged. The storm did not extend as far north as Meares' Bluff, nor was there any sign of it four miles below Brunswick Ferry.

At Mr. W. P. Oldham's place, about three miles south of the city, the storm was severe, and two acres of tomatoes, watermelons and cantaloupes were badly damaged, while at the J. T. Edens farm, two miles southeast of town, there was no hail at all; nor was there any at Masonboro or Wrightsville.

A correspondent of the STAR, writin g from Marlville, Bladen county, says: "This locality was visited yesterday with a severe hail and wind storm. In some places the trees are stripped of their foliage, looking as if caterpillars had eaten all the leaves. All cotton that was up will have to be plowed over and planted again. Gardens were ruined and young chickens killed by the hail. Mr. Sol McNorton had a field of cotton of about twelve or thirteen acres ready to chop out and he is to-day plowing up and planting again. Old men in this locality say they never saw the like

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Mr. S. P. Collier Appointed Tax Collector,

The Board of Aldermen met in called session yesterday afternoon.

Mayor Ricaud stated that the meeting was called at the request of the Finance Committee to consider the matter et appointing a tax lister. There were two applications before the Board -one from Mr. S. P. Collier and the other from Col. Jas. G. Burr.

On motion the Board proceeded to elect a tax-lister by ballot, and Mr. Collier having received a majority of the votes was declared elected.

The Board then adjourned.

Dwelling Burned.

Mr. J. Dickson MacRae's house, at Easy Hill, destroyed by fire last Tuesday, as reported in the STAR yesterday, was insured for $250 with Messrs. Atkinson & Manning, in the North Carolina Home Insurance Co., of Raleigh. The fire caught from a defective flue. A servant was in charge of the house at the time, Mr. and Mrs. MacRae being in the city. The furniture in the building was removed by the servants on the

PENDER COUNTY.

Inter-State Immigration Convention-$100 Contributed for the Columbian

The STAR has received a full account of the proceeding of a convention held Tuesday last in Burgaw which the pressure upon its columns makes it necessary to condense. It was for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State Immigratiou Convention, to be held at Raleigh May 15th. Thomas J. Armstrong was elected permanent chairman, and W. W. Larkins secretary. A committee on resolutions was appointed as follows: Dr. S. S. Satchwell, Rufus W. Collins (President of the Pender County Farmers' Alliance). Jno. W. Rowe, Dr. George F. Lucas, R. J. Durham, J. T. Foy, J. M.

Johnson, C. P. Moore, and others. A resolution was adopted: "That the sum of one hundred dollars, raised by the county, be pledged as a nucleus to which additions are promised, and we call upon our sister counties in the State to aid in exhibiting the State properly in Chicago in 1893."

The following list of delegates were appointed to represent Pender at the State Immigration Convention, to be held in Raleigh on the 13th of May: Hon. Charles W. McClammy, Dr. Walter C. Murphy, Thomas J. Armstrong, John R. Bannerman, E. M. Johnson, R. H. Murphy, Geo. W. Corbett, C. P. Moore, W. W. Larkins, E. A. Hawes, S. S. Satchwell.

- Mr. E. G. Pollev will begin work to-day on the main building of the Industrial Manufacturing Company, which was unroofed by the cyclonette Tuesday. The contract is for an entirely new tin roof, and the work is to be pushed with all possible despatch.

DIED, SPRINGER—On Wednesday night at 10 o'clock May 6, 1891, MISS H. THORPE SPRINGER, daughter of Mrs. Clara W. Springer, No. 716 Market street, this city. The funeral notice will be announced to-morrow.
