Six lines of hose were run out and the fire was attacked both in front and rear and in a very short space of time the fire was subdued. It was then discovered that the fire had originated on the floor occupied by Mr. S. H. Fishblate's clothing establishment-in the tailoring department, separated from the store by a partition and that the flames had ascended thence to the third floor, where the stairway was burned through.

The damage to the building will not exceed $1,200, upon which there is no insurance.

Mr. Fishblate estimates that his stock of goods was worth $35,000. On this there was insurance for $24,000, divided as follows: With Smith & Boatwright, $3,000 in Liverpool, London & Globe, $2,500 in American Insurance; with Hodges & Taylor, $1,500 in North American, $2,000 in Lancashire, $2,500 in Germania, $3,000 in London & Lancashire, $2,500 in Royal, $2,000 in Westchester, $2,500 in Georgia Home; with Dr. W. W. Harriss, $2,500 in Western. Messrs. F. Rheinstein & Co.'s loss is roughly estimated at from $35,000 to $40,000, entirely by water. It is covered, however, by insurance in the following companies: With Messrs. Smith & Boatwright: $5,000 each in Hamburg-Bremen, Scottish Union, American and Liverpool, London & Globe, on stock, and $3,000 on building in Liverpool, London & Globe; with Atkinson & Manning: $5,000 in Phœnix, of Brooklyn; $4,000 in Imperial; $7,500 in Connecticut; $1,000 in City of London; $2,500 in Queen; $2,500 in North British, on stock; with Messrs. Hodges & Taylor; $9,000 in Home, of New York; $2,500 in Phœnix, of Hartford; $3,000 in North American: $3,500 in Germania; $2,500 in Underwriters'; $4,500 in London Assurance; $2,500 each in London & Lancashire, Royal and Pennsylvania; on building, $2,500 in Phœnix; with Mr. M. S. Willard: $2,500 each, in Niagara and Carolina, and $1,250 each in Guardian and Sun, on stock. Part of the basement of the building was occupied by Messrs. Holmes & Watters as a warehouse for groceries and part by Rheinstein & Co. for storage of domestics, etc. Messrs. Holmes & Watters had insurance with Messrs. Atkinson & Manning for $1,000 in the Imperial and $1,000 in the City of London. They estimate their loss at about half the amount of insurance. The Knights of Pythias hall on the third floor was considerably damaged by smoke and water and the carpeting was ruined. There was insurance on the furniture, etc., for $900, with Messrs. Hodges & Taylor in the Georgia Home. The firemen did good work and deserve credit for saving the building and its contents. They have been criticised for a too lavish use of water, but the problem for them when they tackled the fire, which had been burning for hours, probably, and had gained great headway, was whether fire or water should have the mastery, and it was quickly settled. That good judgment was exercised in the matter was shown by the shutting-off of the water before the fire was finally subdued and bringing a fire-extinguisher into use to complete the work.

That New Jersey Doctor who undertook to restrain a sneezing fit the other day and in doing so 'broke a rib will try some other method next time. The sneeze that can't be squelched without breaking a rib must be pretty well equipped for business.

Senator Wolcott thinks, considering the mental make up of Benj. Harrison he has made about as good a President as could be reasonably expected. When Mr. Wolcott was in Washington he didn't visit the White House often, nor remain long when he went.

The latest from New Hampshire is that during a storm recently lightning entered a hen roost and cut the tails of twenty hens, which so astonished the rooster which superintended the establishment that he has been as dumb as ex-Senator Blair since he heard that China wouldn't have him as minister.

The City Treasurer of Philadelphia got away with $750,000 of the city's funds, and then concluded it was about time to resign. The citizens of the town are disposed to be thankful that he didn't wait till he made it a round million. In treasury-looting accomplishments, these Republican officials generally excel.

It is said that Hon. John G. Carlisle is indebted, in a great measure, for the strong hold he has on the people of Kentucky to his popular wife, and that John Young Brown, the Democratic nominee for Governor, owes his nomination to his fascinating daughter, who is a power among the Kentuckians. This may be, but there must be the right kind of stuff in the men that can come to the front with such wives and such daughters. John G. Carlisle demonstrated that long ago, and John Young Brown did, also, when as a Congressman in the 41st Congress he peeled the hide off Ben Butler.

A couple of sharpers at Omaha, Neb., played a bold trick on the denizens of that burg a few days ago. They advertised that the Chicago air ship would scoot around the fair grounds, ascend into the sweet music for the occasion.
