The contending factions in Chili do not seem to be making much havoc with each other but they are everlastingly smashing wharves and such things, which will have a damaging effect on the guano business.

It was considered evidence of insanity in that young Russian who came to Washington to "help Harrison run the Government." But there are thousands of Republicans In this country who are willing and anxious to do that thing whose sanity is never suspected.

The New York Tribune says that the President is "carefully considering" a suggestion that Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland be appointed as a member of the National Immigration Board, which is being urged by various organizations of women. It would improve the Harrison administration very much to have any Cleveland stock even thus remotely connected with it.

The Haytian Secretary of State says Hippolyte was at his devotions in church when the insurgent racket broke out. When he got through with these he came out and on horse back at the head of his forces, he displayed wonderful courage in going for the rebs, amid a shower of shot. These rebs must have been badly scared or miserable poor shots who couldn't hit a big black target like Hippolyte, stuck up on a horse. Hipp has been riding a pretty high horse ever since he's been in.

That Sioux doctor who a few days ago married that New England poetess, Miss Elaine Goodale, may fancy himself in clover now, but when in cool sober earnest she tackles him with a lot of that poetry then the poor child of the forest well discover how fleetnig are the joys of life, and what mighty sorrows sometimes come and settle down over a fellow like a mansard roof. Then in his heart he will wish he had always remained an untutored and uncaptured savage.

Ex-Governor David S. Reid died at his home in Reidsville, Rockingham county, last Friday, in the 79th year of his age. He was a typical Democrat from the time he entered public life in 1835. He served his county in the State Senate from '35 to '40, his district in Congress from '42 to '47. In '48 he was, without his knowledge, nominated for Governor, but was defeated. In 1850 he was re-nominated against his wishes and was elected, the first

Democratic Governor in North Carlina. He was an advocate of free suffrage and on that he made his campaign. Although taking a keen interest in politics and in the success of the Democratic party, he has not figured much since the war. He was a true man and commanded un-

- A grand opening ball and german will be given at the Hotel Townsend, Red Springs, N. C., Tuesday evening, June 30th, under the management of Mr. Phil Wright, proprietor of the hotel.

- Prof. Miller's Band will furnish music for the excursion of the International Association of Machinists to Carolina Beach to-morrow, and Mrs. W. E. Mayo will have charge of the refreshments.

- A sudden squall from the northwest came up about 7 p. m. Sunday. The wind reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour, but no damage resulted. The rainfall that followed the blow amounted to 24-100th of an inch.

- The question is asked it it is not the duty of the Health officers to inspect the "fresh fish" sold in market? There is scarcely a day passes that fish, more or lest tainted, is not on sale at the Front street market house.

- The Wilmington Bicycle Club has some high-flyers among its members who are disposed to dispute the claim of the Raleigh Club to having the best and fastest riders in the State. Why not have a friendly contest for the championship?

- Grace M. E. Church has selected the following delegates to the Wilmington District Conference which convenes at Southport, N. C., on the 9th of July, viz: Thos. C. Craft, Roger Moore, Geo. G. Lewis, W. H. Shaw; and as alternates, James F. Post, Jr., D. H. Walsh, Wm. M. Poisson and E. P. Cov-

- A large excursion conducted by "The 3 Johns" should reach this city from Durham about 6 o'clock to-night. They are coming via Goldsboro and the Weldon road and are expected to follow the regular passenger train due here at 5.50 p. m. as a second section. They will remain here overnight and go to the Sound at noon to-morrow.

- The first watermelons of the season were on the market yesterday. They were from Georgia and looked, as a colored observer remarked, "just good enough to eat." The price was only thirty-five cents each for small ones, but as the STAR reporter had nothing in the way of small change with him, he was saved a bill for paregoric and many painful reflections.

- A number of Wilmington's irresistibly pretty dudes, arrayed in their best "Sunday-go-to-meeting" clothes, delicately perfumed, and with their hair properly soaked with bandoline and parted down the centre, called at the Purcell during Sunday afternoon to make a mash on Mlle. DeGrace. They were presented to the lady in due form, but failed to make an impression.

- Professor Gilbert was busily engaged yesterday in making preparations for a free balloon ascension this morning, to be given at the old base ball grounds. Late in the afternoon he received a telegram announcing the sad intelligence that his wife was dying, and in consequence he stopped all arrangements and left for his home, at Brooklyn, N. Y., by last night's train, accompanied by Miss Bate, the aeronaut.

Put a Stop To It. The STAR published, not long since a synopsis of the city ordinance in regard to hitching teams or animals to the shade trees of the streets. The practice of using the trees for hitchingposts is very common; in fact it is done many times every day, and in consequence many beautiful shade trees are being ruined. Won't the city authorities take action to stop it before it is too

Crops in Robeson-A Cotton Bloom. The editor of the Scottish Chief, Red Springs, N. C., sends the STAR a cotton bloom, which he says "was plucked from a 20-acre field (average size cotton) belonging to J. D. McNeill, a young farmer residing near Red Springs. The recent favorable weather is having a vitalizing effect upon the crops, and our farmers generally are in high spirits."

MORE HELP NEEDED.

The Postoffice Badly in Need of More Clerks-The Business at this Office Has Outgrown the Force Employed to Handle it.

Now that the Postoffice has been moved to its permanent home in the new government building, with an abundance of room, light and ventilation, and superior fixtures, the public naturally expect a great improvement in the service. In order to properly serve this city, however, Mr. G. Z. French should be given more help, and that at once. The business of this office has been for a long time past, and Street M. E. Church, will be on Wednesis, still steadily increasing; and as there has not been a corresponding increase in the office force, the business has outgrown their capacity for prompt handling, while they are all badly overworked. This is especially true of the late hours of the afternoon and during the evening, when the mails arrive on the various roads. That over the Wilmington & Weldon road arriving lina. at 5.55; that over the C. F. & Y. V. at 6.05 and that over the Carolina Central at 8, o'clock p. m., all with heavy mail for distribution; while at the same time there is to be prepared, the out-going mail for the W., C. & A. road at 6.10 and 10.10 p. m. the Carolina Central at 8 o'clock, p. m. and the W. & W. through Northern mail at 12.20 a. m. This makes a bad rush during the very hours when prompt service is of the utmost is plain to the careful observer that Mr.

French is doing all that is possible with his present force, and in the interest of the better service that is so badly need-

The Blooming Cotton.

Besides the cotton blossom from Red Springs, Robeson county, N. C., mentioned elsewhere in to-day's paper, the STAR received last night by mail the

Mr. J. W. Cannon, of Shallotte, Brunswick county, sends a bloom, plucked from the farm of Solomon Hewett, June 21st, three days later than last year. Cotton, Mr. Cannon says, is larger this year up to date than last year, on Shallotte, Farmers are all in good spirits; but rain is needed.

Mr. J. C. New, Pee Dee, writes enclosing a bloom which he says was plucked the 19th inst. The condition of the crop, he says, is good, having improved wonderfully the last two weeks.

Mr. D. D. Gibson, Gibson's Store, encloses a bloom which he says was gathered on the 20th of June.

Cotton Region Bulletin.

The Signal Service observers report heavy rains in the Middle Atlantic States and Texas and showers of more or less severity in the South Atlantic States. In the Wilmington district yesterday the heaviest rainfall was at Lumberton, Raleigh and Goldsboro. The average for the district was 19-100ths of an inch. The maximum temperature ranged from 98° at Florence to 89° at Wilmington, the average for the district being 92° At Southport the maximum temperature was 87° and the rainfall .64.

FIRST VIRGINIA REGIMENT.

To Join the N. C. State Guard at Wrightsville-A Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Richmond to Accompany the Troops.

A meeting of the Committee on Commerce and Commercial Usages of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce was held last week to consider the communication of Col. H. C. Jones in reference to the encampment of the First Virginia Regiment at Wrightsville, N. C., on the 18th proximo, which was referred to this committee at the annual meeting of the Messrs. W. T. Hancock, William M Bridges, Samuel Register, and H. Wallerstein, of the committee, and Col. H. C. Jones were present, the latter by invitation to explain to the committee the opportunity which this occasion would afford the business men of Richmond for further cultivating and cementing friendly and business relations with merchants from all sections of North Caro-

Colonel Jones explained that the invitation to his regiment from the Governor of North Carolina to encamp with the State Guard of North Carolina at this delightful seashore resort was prompted by the cordial desire on the part of the people of that State to reciprocate some of the courtesies which they had received at Richmond, and that therefore it was important that an appreciation of the honor should be shown by the regiment in going to this encampment with full ranks. In order to accomplish this he desired to enlist the interest of the Chamber and of Richmond's business men generally, and he felt that he could more appropriately do so as the North Carolina troops, which would be gathered at Wrightsville on that ccasion in rank and file, consisted largely of merchants from every section of the State, and as we had experienced the good results derived from business men's excursions, both to and from North Carolina, he hought this would be a most favorable opportunity of again bringing the commercial men of the two States in con-

He therefore hoped not only that the business men of Richmond would in all cases allow their employees, where members of the regiment, a leave of absence to go with the regiment in its encampment, to last one week from the 18th of July, but also that a committee from the Chamber might accompany the regiment on that occasion. The expense of the trip would be very light, he said, as the round-trip ticket was only $5.75 and the location of the place selected for the encampment-immediately upon the coast of North Carolina, just about nine miles from Wilmington-he was assured was a most healthy and pleasant spot in all respects.

The committee unanimously favored the suggestions of Colonel Jones, and decided that a circular-letter should be addressed to all the members of the Chamber embodying his views, and that Colonel Purcell, the president of the Chamber should be asked to appoint upon a committee to visit this encampment such of our business men outside of the regiment as were willing to go at their own expense.

DEATH OF P. N. STANBACK.

One of the Most Prominent Citizens of the Pee Dee Section.

One of our best known and most prominent citizens, Mr. P. N. Stanback, died last Tuesday, aged 79. Prior to the war Mr. Stanback was the model farmer of our county. He was a noble, generous man, full of charity and good deeds to the poor, and his hospitable mansion on the Pee Dee was always filled with friends. No man in our State was more loyal to the Confederate cause, or contributed more, in proportion to his means, to its support than our deceased friend. Always loyal to the South, just and patriotic as a citizen, charitable to the poor and as noblehearted a man as ever breathed is the splendid record made by this "old-time gentleman;" and not one of the smallest legacies left to his sorrowing family. In all that constitutes true patriotism and noble citizenship our county never had his superior.

Enforce the Law.

There is an ordinance, and one not yet so very old, that prohibits the driving around corners at a speed faster than a walk; and that imposes a fine of ten dollars for every violation of the law. We have not heard of a fine yet imposed, yet the law is violated almost hourly. Must we have more sacrifice of innocent life before this law will be en-
