CAROLINA BEACH.

Yesterday was the day of the excursion of Grace M. E. Church Sunday School to Carolina Beach, and everything seemed to conspire for its success, the day was almost cloudless and the weather just warm enough to make everybody want to take a run to

Of course a Sunday School excursion means that the little folks were largely represented and Carolina Beach is the | tine. CHILDREN'S PARADISE.

They find many ways of amusing themselves, and if you want to see happy childhood exemplified go to Carolina Beach on just such an occasion and watch them; some wading, some clinging to the rope in the surf, while the tiny ones find their chief pleasure with shovel and spade digging in the sand.

But there were hundreds of "grown up" people who enjoyed the magnificent surf. There was a westerly wind, which lessened the force of the waves and made it essentially

A "LADIES' SURF," and many of the fair sex took advantage of such a fine opportunity for a bath unaccompanied by the usual timidity which a rough sea excites.

SO LARGE WAS THE CROWD that Capt. Harper-always concerned for the safety and comfort of his passengers-found it necessary to run an extra boat to convey them back to the city, one leaving at seven o'clock in addition to the advertised service.

and should the popularity of this resort continue to increase we think it will be found necessary to place an additional boat regularly in service. The estimates of the number of persons at the Beach during the day varied FROM 700 TO 1,000.

Probably 800 is a conservative estimate, though there were some who thought the crowd the largest that had ever visited Carolina Beach.

Charlestonians After The Trade of Wilmington-Are Our Wholesale and Cotton Firms Going to Sit Idly by and Submit Without an Effort?

Commenting on the fact of the near completion of the Charleston, Sumter & Northern railroad to a connection with the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad at Bennettsville, and upon the inviting field for new trade, the Charleston News aud Courier of yesterday says:

Mr. A. Ames Howlett, one of the most active workers connected with the Charleston, Sumter and Northern road, was in the city yesterday. He said that the work on the road was getting along in a most satisfactory manner. The management is very much pleased with the progress of the work. With the exception of a distance of four miles between the Pee Dee river and Robbin's Neck the entire line has been completed between Pregnall's and Bennettsville. Mr. Howlett said that the spike connecting the line would be driven on Tuesday. The new stations along the line have not yet all been located. The people of Bennettsville, Mr. Howlett said, are going to give a banquet on the 8th of July, to the officials of the Charleston, Sumter and Northern road, the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley road and the promoters of the line, as well as to those who have been identified with the success of the road. Subsequently a grand al fresco barbecue will be given, to which the business men of Charleston, Greensboro, Fayetteville, Darlington and Sumter will be invited.

Mr. Howlett said that there was no reason why Charleston should not receive at the lowest calculation, from the new territory which is to be opened up by the road at least 50,000 bales of cotton more than is at present received from that territory. He said that the Charleston, Sumter and Northern road would tap as far north as the middle of North Carolina, and would be a superb field for work for the Charleston mer-

The new road would offer every possible inducement for the Charleston merchants to do a big business in this new field. There is no possible reason why Charleston should not this fall get a good proportion of the cotton that has heretofore been shipped to Wilming-

AN EYE ON BENNETTSVILLE. Col. S. B. Pickens, of the South Carolina Railway, on his return from New York will stop in Bennettsville to talk with the business men of that place concerning rates over the Charleston, Sumter and Northern Road.

This territory has in the past, especially since the completion of the C. F. & Y. V. road sent a large number of bales of cotton to Wilmington, and has added not a little to the business of our wholesale houses.

By the time table, under which regular service will begin on July 5th, the passenger trains will make the run. either way, between Bennettsville and Charleston, in about six hours; while freight trains will cover the distance in one day. Under such circumstances it would seem highly proper that the business men of this city should immediately "get a move" on themselves and Depression in the Cotton Market-The Prices Low, but Still Lower Price Cotton is still on the "ragged edge, the old "King" sits very uneasily on his throne. Everybody seems to be afraid of the "fleecy," and we have the sickest market all around that has been known for years. When one asks, "What's the matter with cotton?" the invariable response is, "There's too much of it,"

A SICK OLD "KING."

Cotton "looks low" enough now, but there are few dealers to be found who do not express the opinion that it will be still lower. Predictions that December cotton will be down to 8 cents are "common as pig tracks," and there are many "bears" who talk freely of 71/2 cents for that month. The depression caused by the enormous crop now being marketed is enhanced by the recent improvement rehas been produced this season, the indications now are that the next crop will be at least an average one.
