Briefly Stated.

The Wilmington Light Infantry should carry into camp a larger percentage of its muster-roll than any company in the State Guard. Right here, within nine miles of the Encampment, what is there to prevent it? Nothing but the refusal of the employers of some of the members to grant them leave of absence. Kov. Floral College; R. J. Gooding,

The company will not be permitted to enter the Encampment with less than seventy-five per cent. of its active members. If they fail to go into camp they J. J. Wolfenden, Newbern; W. Harris, will forfeit the annual State appropriation of $250.00. It would be a disgrace to the city of Wilmington for this gallant company to be left at home during the Encampment, and it might result in the disbandment of the company under the laws of the State.

Are the people in Wilmington prepared for this? "That is the question."

A Busy Day-Everything in Readiness for the Troops-Arrangement of Tents-The Parade Ground-A Petersburg Company Coming.

The arrangements are steadily going on under the supervision of Quartermaster General Olds, who has been down there for the last week. Everything will be in readiness by 12 o'clock to-day with the exception of grounds for the Virginia regiment, which are being arranged by a special detachment sent down by that regiment. ARRANGEMENT OF TENTS.

A number of changes have been made in the location of the tents and regimental positions. By these changes all the tents are placed in a semi-circle which surrounds a very beautiful court, giving a space for the refreshing and invigorating breezes from the Atlantic which penetrate every nook and corner of the camp. THE PARADE GROUND is in excellent condition. Everything which could possibly detract from it in appearance or convenience, has been removed. The green carpet of Bermuda grass makes it very fine for drilling, and facing the ocean, the cooling sea-breeze will add greatly to the comfort of the Religious Services at Carolina Beach-A New and Popular Feature.

A happy movement inaugurated week or two ago by the summer residents of Carolina Beach was brought to a successful issue last Sunday, when religious services were held at the Oceanic Hotel. The congregation numbered about one hundred. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Weaver, assistant rector of St. James' Episcopal church, of Wilmington, who preached AN ADMIRABLE SERMON, taking for his text the first and second verses of the second chapter of St. John: "Marriage in Cana of Galilee." His hearers were very attentive and were much impressed by his earnestness. Notwithstanding the absence of an organ (one will hereafter be pro-

Taken altogether it was a day long to be remembered; and so well pleased are the residents with the result of the initiatory meeting that services will be held regularly every Sunday hereafter, until the season closes, at the Oceanic Hotel. These meetings will not be denominational in character, and ministers of different churches will be invited to

Death of Mr. Elijah Willis.

Mr. Elijah Willis, one of the oldest druggists in the State of North Carolina, died Sunday last and was buried yesterday in Bellevue cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Creasy and the pall-bearers were Col. E. D. Hall and Messrs. H. L. Fentress, J. F. Rulfs, S. G. Hall, Fred Howland, C. C. Covington, E. Everett and Wm.

Mr. Willis was 72 years of age. He was a native of Newbern, but had resided in Wilmington some thirty-five or forty years. He remained here through the yellow fever epidemic in 1862 and ministered faithfully to the wants of the people.

Drowning Accident. A fifteen year old colored boy named Beatty Jennings was drowned Sunday morning about 10 o'clock in the river near the foot of Harnett street, while bathing. The body of the boy was recovered and Coroner Walton held an inquest at one o'clock, the jury finding that the boy came to his death by accidental drowning. The witnesses were two colored boys who testified that Jennings undressed and jumped into the water where it was very deep and that he could not swim. The drowned boy lived with his step-father on Harnett street near Third. His parents are

A DELIGHTFUL PLACE.

COL. JONES AND SEVERAL OF HIS OF-FICERS VISIT WRIGHTSVILLE, N. C.

They Went to Make Arrangements for the Regiment's Encampment-Greatly Pleased With the Locality. Richmond Dispatch.

Col. Henry C. Jones, Captain Tennant and Commissary Sergeant Moore left Richmond Thursday for Wrightsville, N. C., for the purpose of inspecting the ground upon which the First regiment will camp while in the Old North State. In speaking of the trip last night Col.

Jones said to a Dispatch reporter: "We left Richmond on the fast mail Thursday afternoon and reached Wilmington at 10 o'clock. We were met at the depot by Colonel W. C. Jones, commanding the Second regiment, North Carolina State Guard, and Capt. W. R. Kenan, of Company C of the same regiment. We spent the night at Wilmington and took the morning train for Wrightsville, nine miles distant, where we met Colonel Frederick A. Olds, quartermaster-general and chief of ordnance. He was busily engaged in pitching the tents for the use of the North Carolina brigade. We found Colonel Olds a most courteous and obliging officer, thoroughly posted in all of the details pertaining to the special work which he had in charge. He had already in place the kitchen for the use of the First regiment. It is supplied with stoves and cooking utensils. The floors for tents are also ready. We found that Captain E. W. Manning had been appointed brigade sutler and the contract had been made with him to furnish all supplies for the commissary service at prices which were in every way satisfactory.

EVERYTHING ARRANGED. "In fact, we found every arrangement necessary had been made, so that we can go right into camp and by giving the necessary orders our wants will be "In the afternoon Colonel Jones took us under his care and showed us all of the surrounding places-such as the Island Beach, or Hammocks, as it is sometimes called, which is immediately in front of Wrightsville and about half way across the Sound. On this island is a large hotel, a theatre, a dancing pavilion and a beautiful ground for the accommodation of visitors. Just beyond the Hammocks is a strip of land on which are many cottages, the club house of the Carolina Yacht Club, pavilions, and restaurants. This is called Ocean View, and a grand view of the ocean it is. A magnificent surf was running all day. There is every accommodation for pleasure and comfort.

"We returned to Wrightsville and took supper with Colonel Olds and Captain Manning. The principal dish served was pig-fish, or as we call it in Virginia, hog-fish. Colonel Olds, who is most pleasant company, informed us that he had heard the pig-fish grunting all the afternoon from way over the bar. If our trip is an index of the reception which will be accorded our troops and those who may accompany us, Camp Fowle will long be remembered by the officers and men of the First regiment as marking one of the bright periods in our service.

"Our train will run through without change to Wrightsville and will leave Richmond at 9 o'clock on next Saturday
