A newspaper correspondent de scribes ex-Senator Ingalls as "a slender symphony in gray." We suppose this is a substitute phrase for an attenuated "statesman out of a job."

The Chicago News don't like the word "electrocution." It is bad enough to have the life shocked out of one by an electric current, but to be electrocuted is horrid. Everyone will object to that.

The Philadelphia committee which has been investigating the Keystone bank bust have discovered some things but they have not yet discovered the hole into which the missing million dollars of State money went.

Mr. Parnell announces that the Carlow defeat doesn't affect him in the least. It would take about four pounds of dynamite, or eighteen hundred volts of electricity to shake up a man so far gone in stolidity as Mr. Parnell.

The New Constitution of Kentucky makes a direct pass at the free pass system, and deposes from office any judge, State officer, or legislator who accepts a pass. But the new constitution hasn't passed

A Canton, Ohio, dispatch says "Maj. McKinley seems to be a very happy man nowadays." The Major is sensible. He should grab all the fun in sight before he starts for that gloomy country of political shades up Salt River.

A ten-pound chunk of "gold" wa picked up in Indiana a few days ago, and the whole country thereabouts is in the wildest excitement. The Hoosiers are grasping at the hope that if they can pick up ten-pound lumps of gold they may weather the McKinley tariff.

The Philadelphia Press, Rep., remarks that "the Republican party does not tolerate thieves, and quickly disposes of them when known." It takes it a mighty long time to become acquainted with some of its distinguished lights, for it seems that there are a good many of them that it doesn't know yet.

The coolest proposition of the season comes from the airy city of Kansas, Mo., where a company proposes to furnish cool and pure air for so much a square foot, and do an honest square business. With this inducement the Republicans should look upon Kansas as the city above all others for their next national convention to meet in.

The Heathen Chinee is no slouch when it comes to catching on to the tricks in the country where he plants himself. One was arrested a few days ago in New York for passing counterfeit money, but the prosecution failed because the principal witness could not distinguish him from a dozen or so other child-like and bland Mongolians who were trotted

The Buffalo, N. Y., Courier says the Germans in that town are against "cheap money." Eastern phrase for silver. There must be some mistake about this. We never saw a German who wouldn't take all the money a mule could haul if he could get it, without making unnecessary objections. They are a good deal like other folks in this respect.

It is said that a hundred thousand Americans have sailed for Europe this summer from the port of New York alone. This means about $100,000,000 of American lucre scattered among the denizens of the effete monarchies, for Americans abroad have the reputation of being very liberal cash squanderers.

A one-wheel cycle, eight feet high, that a greenhorn can learn to ride in a minute, and then write his name in the dust with it in fifteen feet of space, not to mention a speed capacity of two miles in sixty seconds on a good track, is something that is likely to astonish the bicycle riders of Wilmington ere long, The Springfield, Mass., Republican says that it is the invention which Victor Beranger, of Worcester, editor of Le Currier de Worcester, claims to have produced after two years of hard work. Last week, he says, his brother in Montreal rode the phenomenon seventythree miles in one hour on an ordinary highway.

A Venerable Time-Piece.

Mr. E. S. Tennent, of this city, has an English silver watch which is certainly an heirloom to be prized. On the inner case is the inscription, "Edward Tennent, 1718." This shows that the watch is at least one hundred and seventythree years old; and it may be older, as it is by no means certain that the inscription was not made earlier that the year 1718. At all events, it is old enough to stop running, wind up business, and never raise its hands to work again.

Cotton Region Bulletin. The rainfall yesterday at Raleigh was 1.69 inches, the heaviest in the Wilmington district of the cotton belt. Wadesboro reported .75, Weldon .76, New Berne .50, Goldsboro .46, Charlotte .48, Wilmington .18. There was rain throughout the cotton belt, heaviest in the Charleston, Savannah and Wilmington districts. The maximum temperature ranged from 84° to 96°.

Annual Encampment.

THE NORTH CAROLINA STATE GUARD.

All Present and Accounted For-Gen. Cotton Takes Command---General Orders---Preparations to Receive the Virginia Regiment---Col Anthony's Luck-Clergy in Camp-Dress Parade-Lady Visitors, Etc.

Brigadier General John W. Cotten, having arrived in camp late on Friday night, did not assume command until yesterday morning, when he took entire control of Camp Fowle, and issued the following orders for the government of the troops of the brigade:

HEADQUARTERS FIRST BRIGADE, N. C. STATE GUARD, CAMP FOWLE, WRIGHTSVILLE, N. C., July 17th, 1891.

General Orders, No. 1.] Until further orders the hours of service and duties will be: Reveille, 0.40 a. m.; assembly, 0.00 a. m.; surgeon's call, 6.10 a. m.; battalion drill, 6.15 a. m.; recall from drill, 7.15 a. m.; breakfast, 7.30 a. m.; guard mounting, 8.30 a. m.; adjutant's call, 9.30 a. m.; dinner call, 1 p. m.; instruction of officers and non-commissioned officers, 3.00 p. m.; battalion drill; 4.30 p. m.; recall from drill, 5.80 p. m.; supper, 6.00 p. m.; dress parade, 7.00 p. m.; retreat, sunset; tattoo. 10.00 p. m.; taps, 11.00

11. Regimental commanders will see that the calls are promptly sounded at the time designated, and that all formations are made without delay, By command of Brigadier General John W. Cotton.

J. W. WOOD, Capt. and A. A. General.

CAMP FOWLE, N. C., July 18, 1891. General Order No. 2.] Being in full command of this camp, all orders governing the same will be issued from, and all official reports and communications must be forwarded to these headquarters.

All reports must be in writing and forwarded through their proper chan-By order of John W. Cotton. Briga-

H. W. JACKSON, Acting A. A. G,

CAMP FOWLE, N. C., July 18, 1891.

General Orders No. 3.] Each soldier in this camp must conduct himself in a manner becoming a soldier. No noisy or disorderly conduct, or the discharge of any firearms will be permitted in or about the camp at any time.

After taps absolute quiet must prevail throughout the camp. Sentinels will not be permitted to challenge or call the number of their posts in so loud a manner as to disturb the camp. Permission to leave the camp up to 11 o'clock will be granted by regimental When longer leave of absence is desired application must be made to brigade headquarters. All officers must cause the arrest and immediate return to camp [of] any soldier who shall conduct himself in any mproper manner, or be guilty of any disorderly conduct either in or out of he camp. All commanding officers will imme liately instruct the men under their command as to these orders, By order of John W. Cotten, Briga-dier General, H. W. Jackson, A. A. A. G.

These are the orders, that have thus far been issued by Gen. Cotton, and he seems determined that they shall be faithfully executed. He, as well as all the members of his staff, are active and vigilant in their oversight, of even the most minor details and the camp has been brought to as high a degree of discipline as could reasonably be expected from a citizen soldiery who, in a great majority of instances, look upon it all as a holiday pastime, instead of as a training school to prepare them for future possibilities. However, there is but little vulgarity or rowdyism in camp, and if the present condition of things continues Camp Fowle may be well set down as a model for future encampments

We are sorry to hear, however, that out of camp some of the men have behaved in a reprehensible manner. Gen. Cotton has, however, heard of this unseemly conduct, and will at once take effectual steps to put a stop to it.

BRIGADE STAFF. The brigade staff is composed of the following officers: Assistant Adjutant General, Capt. J. W. Wood; Assistant Inspector General, Capt. W. E. Newland; Assistant Quartermaster, Maj. C. W.

Jeffries; Assistant Commissary of Subsistence, Maj. W. W. Hall; Aid-de-camp. Lieut. H. W. Jackson; Aid-de-camp, Lieut, Wm. Landis; Orderly to Brigade

During the forenoon Adjutant General Glenn, of the Governor's stoff, issued the following

Headquarters, W. S. Howard.

SPECIAL ORDER:

CAMP FOWLB, N. C., July 18th, 1891. [Special Order No. 2.] Major Robert S. Young, Assistant In-spector General, is hereby detailed on special duly as instructor and inspector of guard duty. He will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

By order of the commander in chief, JAS. T. GLENN, Adjutant General.

W. E. SCHENCK, Capt. and A. A. G.

THE VIRGINIANS. Capt. J. R. Tennant, Quartermaster of the First Virginia Regiment, with a detail of six men, the regimental cooks and a colored barber of fully 250 pounds avordupois, together with the regimental camp equipage, arrived at Camp Fowle late Friday night, and were as busy as they well could be yesterday in preparing for the arrival of the regiment this morning. Capt. Tennant spoke in the highest terms of the camp ground which had been assigned his regiment, and also of the open and frank hearted courtesy that had been shown him by our troops, and was sure that the regiment he represented would be pleased with every arrangement that had been made for the comfort and convenience of the regiment. Capt. Tennant we found to be a very clever, courteous gentleman and, although he was up to his eyes in hard work, he found time to respond pleasantly and cheerfully to our questions, which were, of course, very brief and to the point.

A LUCKY OFFICER. Col. J. T. Anthony, of the Fourth Regiment, seems to be as lucky as he is good looking, although he has been to a slight degree a loser thus far. In the floor os his tent there is quite a large hole and "all unbeknownst" to the Colonel an opossum had taken up his residence unperneath the floor, and, on the night of the Colonel's arrival in camp, some luxury in the shape of something to eat had been placed in his tent during his temporary absence for him to eat on his return. His 'possumship, however, smelt the tempting food and without the fear of Col. Anthony, or a trial before a justly constituted and outraged military tribunal, jumped from his hiding place, and gobbled up the food, "quickern scat." It was not known until then that there was such a boarder, beating for a living at headquarters, but investigation demonstrated the fact, and now his marsupial excellence is fed at regular intervals with the best the market affords. It is not from any kindness towards the animal that all this care and regard is shown, but it is the intention of Col. Anthony and his officers to have a feast of fat 'possum about the time the Encampment breaks up, and we hope they will not miss the treat; but "the best laid schemes of mice and men gang oft a gley." We hope that he and his officers may have a pleasurable feast from that 'possum, but would suggest that delays are dangerous, and Mr. Possum may think his food is altogether too good and seek other pastures and a homelier fare. THE CLERGYMEN. Besides the Rev. N. Harding, Episcopal, of Washington, N. C., chaplain of the First Regiment, of whom we made mention yesterday, the following clergyment are either in camp or at Ocean View: Rev. A. G. McManaway, D. D., Baptist, chaplain Hornet's Riflemen, Charlotte, N. C.

Rev. C. E. Todd, Associate Reformed Presbyterian, Charlotte, at Ocean View Rev. W. W. Orr. Associate Reformed Presbyterian, Huntersville, N. C., at Ocean View.

Rev. N. B. Harriss, Episcopal, Reidsville, in camp. Rev. W. R. Ware, Methodist Episcopal, Reidsville, in camp. Rev. James Carmichael, D. D., Epis copal, Wilmington, Chaplain Second Regiment, in camp.

Rev. H. M. Dixon, Presbyterian, Monroe, in camp. Mr. E. L. Harris, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Winston, is also in THE WALTERS' TROPHY.

Col. Benehan Cameron, Inspector of Small Arms Practice, issued a special order yesterday in compliance with section 17 of General Orders No. 6, for colonels of regiments to hold their commands in readiness to begin rifle practice on Monday, the 20th inst., so that each regiment will have a day's practice at the targets during the comiug week, beginning according to lot or agreement, and at the same time competing for the handsome "Walter's trophy," presented to the Guard as a token of its value as a conservator of the peace and a protector of property. The prize is a large silver shield, representing scenes from Milton's "Paradise Lost." The contest will be before a board of judges composed of the four regiment inspectors of small arms practice, under the supervision of the general inspector S. A. P. The trophy will be awarded to the company making the highest score, allowing five rounds to each man at 200 yards from the shoulder, with a maximum score of 25 to each man. The prize is to be held, however, by the winning company only from year to year by a similar exhibition of superior skill and merit in rifle practice. The presentation will be made in due time and form, THE NEW ARRIVALS

on Friday night were nearly all of the First, Third and Fourth Regiments, the Second Regiment having arrived Thursday night and Friday morning. They were soon "tented and contented." The following is a list of those not reported
