WILMINGTON, N. C.

TURDAY MORNING, JULY 19, 1891

OUR VIRGINIA GUESTS.

As sons of the Mother of States and of Statesmen, and as representatives of the Old Dominion, Wilmington greets the First Regiment of Virginia and gives it cordial welcome, welcome not only for herself but for North Carolina whose honored guests they are.

They come not as strangers, for there is no State to which North Carolina is bound by closer ties than Virginia, and no State with whose people her people have so freely intermingled. The imaginary line which divides the commonwealths does not divide their people, who always have been on close terms of friendship which has grown stronger with the passing years and with the memory of those days when Virginia's and North Carolina's boys in gray camped together marched together, and shoulder to shoulder, fought together, and together laid down their lives on fields where battles were lost or won, under the leadership of one of the greatest of soldiers, and grandest of men, the immortal Virginian, Robt. E. Lee. These are memories, but they are memories which bind the living closer together as inheritors of a common fame won in those days of fiery ordeal, and not the less illustrious because it was not crowned with victory in the end.

But that was nearly a generation ago and thousands of those who participated in those scenes have passed the picket lines, crossed the river and entered the great camping ground on the other side. The boys of that time are the men of to-day, but they are the same Virginians, and the same North Carolinians, inspired by the same patriotic impulses, and bound together by the same fraternal attachment that united their sires a generation ago.

One of the pleasantest anticipations to our boys in coming to the encampment this year was the meeting with the soldiers of Virginia's most distinguished regiment, and the social intercourse with them which they would enjoy during the days of the encampment, and we are sure that nothing will afford them more pleasure than contributing to the pleasure of their Virginia friends and in seeing that they have a right royal time during their stay at Camp Fowle.

Wilmington, which greets them now, hopes that their visit and their sojourn may be as pleasant as their brightest fancies could make them, and that when they break camp to return to their historic city on the James, they may not love Virginia less but North Carolina more.

The Elgin, Ill., Watch Trust has failed to come to time. It collapsed a few days ago.

THE SUGAR BOUNTY GRAB.

It might seem like partisan misrepresentation to charge that the McKinley tariff as a whole is a job put up in the interest of certain classes as against the masses, but that is exactly what it is. There is not a single clause in it that don't favor the rich at the expense of the poor. This is what makes it so monstrous. It robs the poor of the little they have to still further enrich the rich, who have been made rich by plundered others.

legislation that favored them and When this bill was under discussion in Congress Mr. McKinley thought he would try to win some popularity for his party by putting sugar on the free list, and it was done. But under pretence of protecting the sugar growing industry of our States after it came into competition with the free sugar of the islands it was decided to give the sugar planters of this country a bounty of two cents a pound. The Government got about $60,000,000 in income from the tariff on sugar, which was wiped out and in place of it the Government will pay a bounty of about $10,000,000 to rich sugar growers. The sugar bounty, like a great many other clauses in this monstrous bill, is a fraud pure and simple, for under the provisions and requirements of the law the small planters cannot come in for the bounty. The act requires that the sugar made to be entitled to the bounty shall be 90 per cent. saccharine, and the small planters cannot afford to put in the machinery necessary to make sugar which will come up to that standard. The consequence is that they will have to make their sugar in the old way and do without the bounty while the rich planters can put in the machinery, if they have not already got it, and get the bounty. On less than 200 acres it will not pay to put in the necessary expensive ma-plantations, but out of these only 600 applications have been made for the bounty, and some of these will not be entitled to the bounty, because the sugar made up on them will not come up to the require-

Of the applications filed there are thirty-six which will receive $50,000 or more each, aggregating $2,833,-120 bounty. There are thirty-two which will received from $25,000 to $50,000 each, or an aggregate of $1,725,000, making sixty-eight applicants who will get an aggregate of $4,558,120, or near half the bounty paid to all, the others averaging about $9,000 each. If the 600 applicants who have filed their claims got an equal portion they would get $15,000 each out of of the treasury, a clear gain or gift, which of itself would make a handsome profit on one year's crop of an average plantation. There is one of these applicants, a stock company, which will get $240,000, another-a foreign countess-who will get $210,000, another $150,000, another $120,000, and two more $100. 000 each. There are seventeen more which average from $90,000 down to $50,000, and eleven coming in for $50,000 each.

While the sugar bounty holds out sugar growing for the rich man will a paying business in Louisiana, and they will proceed to take in the plantations of the smaller planters who cannot compete with them nor make the same grade of sugar that they can. In that, as in everything else the McKinley tariff touches, the poor man must go the rear and let the rich man take everything in

MINOR MENTION.

A New York correspondent of the Baltimore Sun quotes an intimate friend of Gov. Hill as saying that Gov. Hill has not the remotest idea of antagonizing Mr. Cleveland, but will do all he can to help him. This friend says Gov. Hill is satisfied with the U.S. Senatorship and that he has now no Presidential aspirations, and that while there are Hill and Cleveland factions in the State they will harmonize before the National Convention meets and will send a solid delegation for Cleveland. This "friend" may be about as well informed and reliable as the numerous "friends" who figure in the interviews and reports these days but there is enough likelihood in what he says to give it credibility. Gov. Hill has been so trusted and honored by the Democracy of his State that it would show a lack of appreciation, if not ingratitude, to force himself upon it for higher honors in the face of an opposition that he himself must recognize and should, under the circumstances, respect. With his Senatorship he can afford to wait, for he his popularity with the Democracy throughout the country, especially while New York is a pivotal State with thirty-six electoral votes, he will always be in line for the Presidency, but not now, because the popular eye is on Cleveland.

With the rapid transportation given by railroads, several of which have put on special melon trains, the growing of watermelons has become a great industry in Georgia, the crop this year being the largest and best ever raised. Shipments are made in all directions, as far Northeast as Boston and Northwest as Kansas City and Minneapolis. Up to the beginning of the past week between 7,000 and 8,000 car-loads had been shipped out of the State. The Northeastern market was overstocked, and while before this the shippers got fair prices and did well, later the prices fell so low that in some instances they did not pay the freight. As a result this the growers will make arrangements by the time the next crop comes on to extend the market Westward, into the interior towns of those States which have good railroad service. An effort will also be made to find a market in England, the first experiment being made a melon grower near Macon, who last week shipped from New York-to London a small lot, the average weight of which was forty pounds. The largest, which weighed forty-seven pounds, was sent to the purveyor for the Queen's table, with the compliments of the grower, for the Queen to sample. If this lot takes well larger shipments will be

In answer to the question, "Does Sheep Raising Pay," the Chatham Record of last week produces some facts and figures, which show pretty conclusively that it does. A Mr. Teague, of that county, in 1890 There are in Louisiana 840 sugar | purchased six sheep for which he paid $5.25. In the spring following he sheared the sheep and got $5 worth of wool, within twenty-five cents of what the sheep cost him. In August he sheared the lambs and got wool enough to make 16 yards of nice jeans. This spring's shearing gave him 28 yards of jeans, and in August he will shear wool enough to make him four good blankets. He lost two sheep, killed three and has fifteen left. He fed his sheep on cotton seed and straw. Putting the cost of feed with purchase price at $25.25, the transaction pans out in the figures of the Record as follows: "First, $5 cash for first shearing, 16 yards of fine jeans, the lowest retail price of which would be not less than 65 cents a yard, or $10.40; next shearing, 28 yards splendid jeans, worth, say, $18.20; two pair fine blankets, say $5 a pair, $10, and 15 head of sheep at 871 cents each (price paid for first lot) $13.12½, making $56.72, a profit of $31.47" on an original investment of $5.25, which does not include the three sheep killed for mutton. But some people seem to think it pays better to raise cur dogs than sheep.

CURRENT COMMENT.

-- Secretary Foster's new style of book-keeping may cover up the facts, but it cannot change them. A juggled balance-sheet will not put one more dollar into the empty treasury .- Chicago Mail, Dem.

- Hayti and its chronic condition of disorder seems to suggest an answer to the question whether the black race can govern itself without the interposition of the white man. It would be an improvement if the race of Soulouques and Hippolytes were replaced by some white fellows. -N. Y. Advertiser, Dem.

- - Speaking of those Welsh tin plate workers and the need of them n this country so greatly, that manufacturers are offering them double wages to come, what are we going to do about that contract labor law? Does it apply to tin plate workers as well as to 'ricksha men, English coachmen, singers, preachers, &c.? - To be improving as fast as some people declare Mr. Blaine to be, it takes him a terrible time to get back to Washington from a few days' visit to New York, begun more than a month ago. It is a pity that the distinguished gentleman is not likely to return to his post of duty, but it is a fact that he is not. he glared at her, she continued: "You talk a great deal about being consistent, John, and say you never find fault except under the greatest provocation. I should like to read you a few extracts from my note book. This is a verbatim report of a brief conversation that took place night before last:

POLITICAL POINTS.

- "Democratic and mugwump lies." That is Mr. Quay's concise and and convenient way of dismissing the charges brought against him. It is not, however, strictly original .- Boston Globe, — The re-election of Senators Walthall and George is assured in Mississippi. The fact is apparent that the farmers of Missippi are opposed to a third party, opposed to the Ocala platform, opposed to the sub-treasury and in favor of the Democratic party.-Augusta Chronicle, Dem.

Republican newspapers are not having much trouble convincing themselves that the tariff ought to be a side issue next year. Past experience has taught them that it makes a lot of trouble when it gets to knocking around in a campaigh. They are not to blame for dodging if they can. It certainly has few hopeful prospects for them. But the democrats intend to see that the issue is kept in full view right along .-Savannah News, Dem.
