Colored Man Shot in the Leg. A shooting affair took place at Ocean View yesterday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock. Three men were sent up to bring him down, and as soon as the door was opened, the negro drew a pistol and began firing. The men on the shed and those on the ground also fired several shots. No one was hurt except the negro, who received flesh wound in the calf of the leg. He was arrested and carried over to camp, where his wound was dressed, and he was turned over to a detective named Hunt, who brought Larkins to the city. Justice Bunting recognized the negro to appear before him this morning, and issued warrants for the arrest of the

GOVERNOR'S DAY AT CAMP FOWLE

A Great Crowd on the Grounds-Review of the Troops by Governor Holt-An Important Meeting of the Officers of the State Guard-Resolutions Adopted-Dress Parade, Fire Works, Etc.

There was no rain in camp yesterday morning and the soldiers were more than thankful. The regular routine of camp duty was carried out to the letter, and after the morning drill the Fourth Regiment did some very fine battalion shooting. One or two mistakes were made, but as a whole it was exceptionally good. This being concluded, Company A, of Winston, of the Third Regiment, gave a very fine exhibition of a skirmish drill, using blank cartridges in the firing. It was witpaling on the head, giving a flesh wound. I nessed by Gov. Holt, who was much

The number of visitors in camp was greatly in excess of any previous day especially in the afternoon, when every train was loaded with passengers eager to see the evening dress parade and the grand review by Gov. This committee submitted the following report, which was unanimously

WHEREAS, It is greatly desired that the highest possible efficiency of the North Carolina State Guard shall be attained, and as such improvement may be secured by more systematic, thorough general organization; therefore,

Resolved, That the State Guard of North Carolina be organized into "The State Guard Association of North Carolina," as a part of the "National Guard Association of the United States." Resolved, That this organization shall be composed of the commissioned officers of every branch of the service. Resolved, That the officers of this Association shall be a president, two vice presidents, secretary and an executive committee of eight members, all of whom shall be elected annually at the Encampments, the president and vice presidents shall be ex-officio members of the executive committee. Revolved, That four delegates shall be elected to represent this Association, with the Adjutant General, in the next session of the National Guard Association at Washington City, alternate representatives to be appointed by the Adjutant General. Resolved, That the executive committee shall elect, biennally, a committee on legislation.

On motion of Lieut. Col. S. H. Smith, the Association proceeded to elect the officers for the current year, and the following were chosen unanimously by acclamation:

FAYETTEVILLE INDEPENDENT LIGHT INFANTRY.

Capt. W. R. Kenan, stated that there was a certain military company in the State which had disobeyed all laws and regulations of the State Guard, and had been dismissed from the service of the State; yet, notwithstanding that action, the company had been given an appropriation of $250 by the Legislature, which was not only an injustice, but a reflection, upon the entire State Guard, It was a matter that could not be sllently submitted to by the other com-Col. J. T. Anthony endorsed the opinpanies of the State Guard. ions expressed by Capt. Kenan, and he further urged that it was the duty of the military authorities of the State Guard to require the Fayetteville Light Infantry, on account of its resistance of the regulations of the State Guard, to return to the Quartermaster General all guns, ammunition and other supplies, which are now held by this company.

Adjutant General Glenn stated that he loved the gray as much as any one: that though he was too young himself, to be in the late war, his father gave his life for the cause; but we are now citizens of the United States, and the commander-in-chief had ordered him to wear the blue, and he obeyed orders most cheerfully. He thought when the Fayetteville company refused to obey orders and asked to be withdrawn from the Guard that they should receive no aid from the State whatever; that it was an insult to the State Guard, who did obey orders, that this company should, by special act, be given $250 for doing nothing when there was a company in the Guard that complied fully with the regulations and got nothing.

The matter was further discussed very spiritedly and the following committee was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions upon the subject: Maj. W. A. Bobbitt, Maj. Robert S. Young, Col. J. T. Anthony, Lieut. Col. E. G. Harrell, Capt. W. B. Rodman, Jr., Lieut. J. W. Albertson, Jr., Brig. Gen. J. W.

On motion adjourned.

Immediately after adjournment the last committee appointed met and prepared the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adop-

WHEREAS, The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry has refused to comply with and obey the laws and regulations governing the North Carolina State Guard and has, moreover, withdrawn from the State Guard.

WHEREAS, Notwithstanding such insubordination and disobedience to the highest military authority of the State, which tends to disrupt the entire State Guard, the Legislature of 1891 has made an appropriation of $250 from the taxes of the State for the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, and, WHEREAS, All regular companies in the State Guard are required to pass frequent thorough inspections by the Inspector General, and comply strictly with all regulations governing drill, in order to obtain an appropriation from the State, which amount does not exceed the special appropiation made the Fayetteville company; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the North Carolina State Guard Association, consider such action by the General Assembly as a direct insult and gross injustice to our Commander-in-Chief and all the officers and members of the State Guard.

Resolved, That the persistent efforts made by the present Judge Advocate General of the State Guard, who was a member of the Legislature of 1891, to secure such an unjust appropriation, was manifestly inconsistent with his position as an honored officer of the State

Resolved, That we petition our Commander-in-Chief to direct the Adjutant General to withdraw from the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry all arms, accoutrements and other property now in its possession, as such supplies are greatly needed by companies now belonging to the State Guard, some of the guns belonging to these companies having been five times condemned by the Inspector General as worthless and unfit for service.

[Signed] W. A. Bobbitt, Chairman; J. T. Anthony, Robert S. Young, J. F. Bruton, W. B. Rodman, Jr., J. W. Albertson, John W. Cotton, E. G. Harrell. The ollowing resolutions were also

Resolved, That the sincere thanks of the North Carolina State Guard Association be tendered to Mrs. Frederick Poisson and Mr. Edward Latimer, the owners of "Kenmore" for the use of this beautiful properto for the annual Encampment.

Resolved, That the visit of the First Virginia Brigade to North Carolina as comrades of our Encampment of 1891, officer among the Guards.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE GRAND REVIEW. At precisely 5 p. m. the troops march ed out by regiments, and took their places in line preparatory to the Grand Review and dress parade. Gen. Cotton and his two aides-decamp were mounted, the horses having been kindly loaned for the occasion by Chief of the Fire Department, M. Newman, Mr. E. Kuhblank, of Portner's Brewing Co., and Mrs. T. J. Southerland. The music was furnished by the Second Regiment Band, the Newton Band and the Gold Hill Band, and to avoid anything that might seem like an invidious comparison, they all played very finely, considering the numbers in the different organizations. The review was a splendid success in every particular, and was the universal theme of admiration by admiring crowd, as they passed the reviewing stand in column of companies.

DRESS PARADE.

The Brigade dress parade after the passing review was a brilliant success. Gen. Cotton commanded, and like everything Gen. Cotton does, he did well. In his handsome uniform and mounted on a beautiful dashing horse he presented a fine soldierly appearance. He managed the brigade with marked skill. The First Virginia Regiment made a fine show and did some fine drilling. The line of troops reached across the paradefield, there being about 1.200 men in it.

THE WALTER'S TROPHY was won by Company B, Fourth Regiment-the Lincolnton Light Infantrywho made the highest average of the whole brigade in the target contest. Special mention was made of Company A. Third Regiment, who made the second best score. The trophy, which is a very magnificent one, was presented to the successful company by Gov. Holt in a very appropriate and happy speech, which was heartily applauded. The fortunate company received many congratulations on its brilliant record. This contest will be a very interesting and important feature of every encamp-
