A SHOOTING AFFAIR

In the Black River Section-Mr. James Potter Seriously Wounded.

An unfortunate shooting affair took place Wednesday afternoon in the Black river section shortly after the pic-nic at Long View, and while the people were returning to their homes from a day of unalloyed pleasure. The parties engaged in the deplorable affair were Mr. James Potter, a young man of eighteen or twenty years of age, and a youth named Squiers, son of Mr. J. W. Squiers, living near Salt Marsh, Bladen county, The two young men were on their return home from the picnic, Potter driving a buggy and young Squiers walking. About two miles from Long View they got into a dispute about some trivial matter. Harsh language was used and Squiers it is alleged cursed Potter, who got out of his buggy and advanced on Squiers. The latter drew a pistol and pointed it at Potter, who knocked the weapon down just as it was discharged, the ball striking Potter in the upper part of the thigh and penetrating to the bone. Parties on the road came up just at this juncture and separated the combatants, and Potter was placed in his buggy and taken to Point Caswell for surgical attendance, and Squiers continued on his

Dr. Lucas was called to attend the wounded man; but the party who brought the news of the difficulty to this city did not know the extent of the

CINCINNATI AND CAPE FEAR.

The Latest News About this Projected Railroad. A reporter for the Charleston News and Courier had an interview in that city with Mr. Morton, vice president of the Cincinnati and Cape Fear Railroad Company, and publishes the following rather confused account of what the Company has done and what it proposes to do. viz:

The Cincinnati and Cape Fear system proposes to equip a line from Charleston to Norfolk, which will be run close in against the coast, making a shorter route than any in existence at present. It has already purchased existing lines from Norfolk to Wilmington, completing that portion of the system, with the exception of two gaps, one of twelve and the other of twenty-eight miles. These gaps are in portions of the country where the tracks can be easily graded, and they will be filled up in a very short time. The road from Norfolk to Wilmington will then be completed, and will be merged with a road recently constructed and now in operation from Wilmington to Southport. The company is now constructing a road from Southport to Conway, which will be completed as early as possible. A very large force is now engaged on it, and no delay will be allowed in pushing it to completion.

When this part of the road is finished, giving a direct through line from Norfolk to Conway, immediate steps will be taken to build a road from Conway to Charleston via Georgetown. It is expected that this part of the line will be commenced early next autumn. It will be pushed from both ends, and a force of engineers and hands will be started at Mount Pleasant just as soon as the weather becomes cool enough to render it safe to live in the malarial districts along the coast above Mount Pleasant. As soon as the line is located, and the plans prepared, the contractors will take hold, and in a short time the track will be laid and the road ready for occupa-

The hands are now actively engaged on the section of the route between Southport and Conway, and it will be completed, in all probability, by the end of this year. Then will come the line to Charleston, over the rivers by magnificent bridges, through the city, and on South. Next the system will begin to reach out in every direction for the West, and, if all the plans are consummated, it will be a system of railroads such as has never been known in this Southern country before.
