OUTLINES.

Alarming rumors in regard to the health of Emperor William are current in Berlin; it is believed they are spread by speculators. The Russian government has forbidden exportation of rye from that country after August 27th. Yesterday was the hottest August day in New York for twenty years; there were many cases of sunstroke and hundreds of persons overcome by heat. At a colored folks picnic near Cincinnati, Ohio, two women slashed each other with razors, two men were fatally shot and others were seriously injured. Destructive storms of wind and rain occurred in Michigan and Indiana, many buildings were demolished and crops destroyed. A volcanic eruption at Colima, Mexico, began yesterday; the city is covered with ashes and it is feared that a great many lives will be lost. New York markets: Money easy at 1 1/2 per cent; cotton dull and easy; middling 8 1/2c; middling Orleans 9 1/2c; southern flour dull and unchanged; wheat higher No. 3 red $1.00 1/4 at elevator; corn higher, firm and scarce; No. 2, 79 3/4c; rosin steady and quiet; spirits turpentine steady and quiet.

Congressman Lawson, of Georgia, says of Ingalls' speech at Atlanta, although entertaining "there was nothing in it." There was $500 in it to Mr. Ingalls.

The reports about the poor grain crops in Russia are confirmed by an imperial order prohibiting the exportation of cereals. Russia usually exports about 90,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The business agent of the Georgia State Alliance Exchange, Mr. J. O. Wynne seems to be short. It does not appear that he has been taking chances on futures but if so he didn't hold winning numbers.

The Philadelphia Record remarks that few Presidential candidates are newspaper made, or even self-made, but as a rule are accidents. And some of them, Benj. Harrison, for instance, are very bad accidents.

While, generally speaking, the rains in Indiana have been favorable to the crops, there are two districts, inhabited by about 3,000,000 of people, where the drought was so protracted that a famine is threatened.

John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil King, is said to have undermined his health by working too hard. He works harder now than when a boy he picked potatoes for a living, and with all his millions don't have half as much fun.

Fred Douglass has resigned as Minister to Hayti, but gives no reason. About the only reason he had to give was the pretty broad hints that his resignation would not sour the pleasant relations between Mr. Harrison, Mr. Blaine and him.

John J. Ingalls will sail for Europe on 23d inst. While he is away maybe he will pick up something to make a lecture out of as a substitute for the twaddle called The Problems of the Twentieth Century, which he dishes out at $500 a sit.

A financier in the convention of the People's Party, at Springfield, Ohio, hoped "to see the time when money would be just as free as the air we breathe and the water we drink." Judging from his talk he must be one of the delegates who are not in the habit of drinking water.

Corporal Tanner, who is not in love with Mr. Harrison, opened his mouth to the comrades at the Detroit encampment wide enough to say, "President Harrison doesn't seem to be very popular anywhere just now." Yes, he is. Son Russell is still enthusiastic over him, and thinks he is one of the greatest Presidents that ever angled for fish or gouged for crabs at Cape May.

Dr. C. B. Andrews, of Lynn, Mass., now knows what it is to excite the ire of a fighting woman. He was suspected of starting some talk derogatory to the fair fame of Mrs. Dodge. A few days ago she saw him enter a printing office, went for him and tackled him. He tried to dodge her but she caught him on the fly, bounced his head on a brick wall. He ran but she pursued and kicked him clear through the printing office and into the street, when she bolted for home and turned herself over to the police. The other masculine Lynsters will measure their speech when they refer to a woman who carries around with her as much fight and vigorous kick as Mrs. Dodge does.

John Heller, of Philadelphia, nursed an intense antipathy to cats and was never so happy as when mauling them with a club. He went out on the warpath the other night, armed as usual with a club, and hadn't gone far before he got into an altercation with a Mrs. Hewson's tabby, the outcome of which was a cat with a broken back, a club frescoed with cat hair, an arrest and $10 and costs for Heller.

Senator Pfeffer has discovered 9,000,000 of mortgaged homes in this country. Allowing an average of five people to each home that would make 45,000,000 out of the 63,000,000 people living under mortgaged roofs. We don't know how Pfeffer got his information, but he must have had some extra facilities as he found nearly four times as many as the census men who went around looking for them.

Distressing Accident.

Down in the Stump Sound section, last Saturday a most unfortunate accident occurred, resulting in the death of the infant child of Mr. Willoughby Hansley. It seems that Mrs. Hansley, the mother of the child, was compelled to leave it for a short time in the house by itself, and to keep it from tumbling out of doors or getting into mischief secured it with a cord, one end of which was tied around the infant's waist and the other end to a bed-post. On returning to the house Mrs. Hansley was horrified to find her child was strangled to death with the cord, that in some way had become wrapped tightly around its neck.

Southern Carolina's Rice Crop.

From the Charleston News and Courier: A gentleman who has something to do with rice said yesterday that he had conversed with three or four rice planters, men who plant on Cooper, Combahee and Pon-Pon rivers, and who in all usually raise each season about seventy thousand bushels of rough rice, and was surprised to learn from them that notwithstanding it is a fact that the growing crop of Carolina rice is in an extremely healthy condition, the yield per acre is by them and their neighbors also expected to be, and is sure to be, a light one, below the average. They mention that the fields do not present a thick and velvety appearance when looked down on, but instead the water now turned on the fields shows through the growing rice. All interested have been expecting a large crop, and this information leads him to fear a disappointment. Last season's crop was short, and this now growing may prove no larger.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Of Capt. R. H. Tomlinson of the Steamer Cape Fear.

Maj. T. D. Love received a telegram from Fayetteville yesterday morning announcing the death in that city very suddenly on Monday night, of Capt. R. H. Tomlinson, well known in this city as the master of the steamer Cape Fear. His death is said to have resulted from congestion of the lungs. Capt. Tomlinson's wife and three children who were spending the summer at Carolina Beach, were at once informed of the distressing event, and came up to this city and left for Fayetteville by train on the C. F. & Y. V. railroad yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Tomlinson had been suffering for some months past with rheumatism, and had not been running regularly on the steamer Cape Fear recently. He was about 38 years of age, a native of Fayetteville, and enjoyed the respect and esteem of a large circle of acquaintances, and the warm friendship of many who deeply sympathize with his family in their sad bereavement.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Fast Mail on the Atlantic Coast Line—The Fayetteville Short Cut.

The Weldon, N. C., correspondent of the Richmond Times says: The report which was current a short time ago that the fast mail train over the Atlantic Coast Line would soon be discontinued seems to be without foundation. A gentleman well informed in this matter, by virtue of his official connection with the road, informed your correspondent the sole reason why the Postoffice Department ever considered the advisability of discontinuing this mail service was that the depleted Treasury demanded the curtailment of every possible expense. There is no truth in the report that the Richmond and Danville system had underbid the Atlantic Coast Line. The train will be run until Congress meets. The department has reduced the subsidy to the Coast Line by one-third, and showed a disposition to make a still further reduction, but has not yet done so.

It is reported here now that the Coast Line will not begin to run its through trains over the Fayetteville short-cut in two years. It was at one time expected that the connecting link of road would be completed this month, but owing to the scarcity of labor the work is almost at a standstill.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Chief Engineer Pavie of the Fire Department of Newbern.

NEWBERN, N. C., August 11.—E. N. Pavie, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of this city, a prominent contractor and builder, was found dead in his bed this morning. Mr. Pavie was in his usual good health up to Sunday. On Monday he was complaining and went to a physician, who apprehended no serious trouble; but on Tuesday morning he was found in his bed a lifeless corpse. Fatty degeneration of the heart was the disease which took him off so suddenly. He had hosts of friends in this community and his death casts a gloom over the whole city. He was a native of New York and came down here during the war. His wife had preceded him to the better world, and he leaves no children but an adopted daughter and an aged mother here, who are prostrated in grief.
