A MURDERER AT BAY.

A Sensational Affair at Hanover, New Hampshire. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HANOVER, N. H., Aug. 20,-Frank C. Almy, the murderer of Christie Warden, was discovered in Warden's barn this morning. Almy fired fifteen shots at his pursuers and killed Azra Turner, of Norwich, Vermont. The barn has been burned, but whether Almy was shot or is in the ruins is not known at this writing.

LATER.—The first report that Warden's barn was burned was erroneous. Smoke from Almy's revolver gave the impression that the barn was on fire. Chas. E. Stewart, a student at the State College, located Almy in the hay by probing with a long-handled shovel. When he punched the hidden man a bullet was fired up at him through the hay on which he stood. The concealed man continued firing, at the same time digging himself out of the hay, and fired at least fifteen shots at the searchers, driving them from the barn. Turner was not killed, as before reported, but only slightly injured. A council of war is now being held as to the best means of dislodging the murderer, whose trial it is safe to say will not cost the county a cent, as Almy will be shot at sight, Hanover is again wild with excitement.

LATEST—Frank Almy has been taken alive, after one of the most exciting days that can be conceived of. He is confined in the upper story of the Whellock House. Half a dozen officers Conviction and Sentence of a Gang of Thieves Who Have Given Government Detectives Much Trouble.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 .- The Postoffice Department is advised from Farmville, Va., that Thos. Fon, alias Dennis Grunnell, and James Haley have been sent up for ten years, each upon the naving entered a plea of not guilty Their crime was robbing the postoffice at Farmville, and their conviction and sentence is a source of much gratification to officers of the Inspectors' Division of the Postoffice Department. They have given the inspectors a great deal of trouble by reason of their numerous depredations on postoffices in small towns. These men, it is said, are members of a gang that robbed the postoffices at Charleston W. Va., and Berryville, Quicksburgh, Sheridan, and Waynesboro, Va. Members of the gang are also connected with the robbery of the post-offices and private establishments at Basic City and Grottoes, Va. Their depredations have not been confined to Virginia and West Virginia, but have extended to various parts of Pennsylvania. Several other members are still under arrest, awaiting trial, two of them are in Philadelphia and the others are

RICHMOND TERMINAL.

Forced to Make Loans to Pay September

Coupons.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.-Reports were current to-day that the Richmond Terminal Co. had been compelled to make fresh loans to meet maturing obligations. Later it was stated and the statement was confirmed by President Inman that the Company had arranged with bankers for any money it may require and that the money would be put in the banks to day to pay coupons September 1st on Collateral Trust bonds. Among other bankers it was stated that Dextrell, Morgan & Co. had arranged to furnish the Terminal road from $100,000 to $300,000.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

The "Holy Coat" Exposed to View in the Cathedral at Treves-Horrible Scenes at the Execution of a Murderer at Liv-

By Cable to the Morning Star. . LIVERPOOL, August 20.—John Conway, the steamship fireman who was convicted of and sentenced to death for the murder of the boy Nicholas Martin, whose body was found May 9th last, floating in a sailor's bag in Harden dock, this city, was hanged this morning. A sensational scene occurred on the scaffold. As Berry, the hangman, was drawing the black cap over Conway's head the latter shouted: "Hold on, I want to say something!" This request being replied to, "You cannot speak now," a priest, who was in attendance upon the criminal upon the scaffold. hastily interposed, pushed the hangman aside, and held Conway's hand while the condemned man in broken tones asked forgiveness for his sins. Only when the unfortunate wretch had done speaking and when the priest had replied to his plea for forgiveness did the latter permit the hangman to proceed. This incident caused intense excitement among those present at the hanging, but it was as nothing compared to the horrible scene which was to follow. In due course of time the drop fell and Conway disappeared from view. Almost immediately afterwards the priest began to read the confession of the hanging man. In this confession Conway said that he was intoxicated when he murdered the boy and that the reason for taking the boy's life was that he had a morbid curiosity to observe the process

While the priest was reading Conway's confession, a streaming sound was heard from the scaffold, as it a quantity off water was falling. Hurried investigation was made by the hangman and by prison officials and to their horror they found that the sound was caused by blood which was pouring upon the prison floor from Conway's neck. The fall, it appears, had been so severe that the oriminal's head had been practically torn from his body; in fact, the head was only held on by the muscles of the neck.

PARIS, August 20 .- A dispatch received here confirms the report that all vessels at Martinique were lost during the hurricane there. The dispatch makes no reference to loss of life among ship's crews, and there is great anxiety among families of officers and crews.

BERLIN, August 20.—A garment known as the "Holy Coat" was exposed to view this morning in the Cathedral at Treves. Two Knights of Malta, in full costume, with drawn swords in their hands stood on either side of the shrine pleas of guilty, and that George Clark | enclosing the "Holy Coat" case, which had been sent up for fifteen years, after | was surrounded by tall lighted candles or handsome candlesticks and sur mounted by a large cross. There was an impressive scene in the sanctuary. over one hundred priests assisting in the ceremonies, which were grand in the ex-

The Cathedral was richly decorated for the occasion and was packed to the doors with people. Bishop Korum, during the course of his address to the assembled multitude, earnestly urged the faithful to unite in venerating the garment from which power and virtue proceed. The dave of the Cathedral was then cleared so as to enable the municipal authorities and parochial societies to march up to the shrine of the "Holy Coat," and venerate the relic. Much comment has been caused by the remarks of Bishop Korum in his opening address, when he referred pointedly to the spiritual significance of the "Holy Coat" as being a seamless vesture and symbol of the unity of the church. There were many Roman Catholic members of the Reichstag present and it is said that the Bishop particularly and in a manner not to be mistaken, addressed his remarks to those members.

The "Holy Coat" is distinctly visible in the body of the cathedral, and is much more plainly seen than upon the former occasion of its exhibition, the old silken covering being almost entirely worn away, it appeared to-day to be of a brownish yellow color.

The scene in the Cathedral was a motley one. English tourists in light tweed suits and Prussian officers in uniform, stubbornly refusing to knell before the relic, and bourgeoise citizens, in evening dress were prominent in the crowd. Many persons were overpower-ed by their feelings, and several women fainted. The procession of pilgrims past the shrine, most of whom handed a rosary or crucifix to the attendant priests for contact with the relic, was accompanied by a low hum of pater nosters. Among the pilgrims are aged cripples and sufferers from almost every complaint. There were some scenes of disorder, owing to the somewhat violent attempts made to gain early access to the Cathedral. At 10 o'clock to-night pilgrims were still filing in to behold the relic, and an eager throng was beseiging the doors of the Cathedral. Police had some trouble to preserve order. The whole town is in commotion. Pickpockets are rampant and several have been arrested.

A CHICAGO SUICIDE.

A Wealthy Grain Speculator Found Dead in His Bed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHICAGO, August 20 .- The dead body of Clark Woodman one of the wealthiest citizens of Omaha, Neb., and an influential director in the Linseed Oil Trust, was found this afternoon in his room at the Grand Pacific Hotel. General supposition is that the death was that of suicide. Woodman was a member of the Grain Commission firm of Woodman & Harriss. Current rumor this afternoon was that Woodman whose esti-mated wealth is in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, had lost a large part of his fortune during the recent rise in prices of grain on the Board of Trade. No one could be found to confirm this ru-

The Southern Lumber Company of Atlanta,

Ga.-Liabilities $125,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. ATLANTA, GA., Aug. 20-The Southern Lumber Company, a corporation stocked at $150,000 and worth about $200,000, with two large mills in South Georgia, and owning about 2,500 acres of timber land in that section of the State, is now in the hands of a receiver; liabilities estimated at $125,000. Stringency in the lumber market prevented the company from paying its laborers and consequently about $15,000 in laborers' leins were about to be taken out.

MARTINIQUE'S CYCLONE.

ALMOST UNEQUALED IN THE HIS-TORY OF THE ISLAND.

Sixty Deaths or More and Many Persons Injured-Enormous Damage to Shipping and Other Property.

By Cable to the Morning Star. Parts, Aug. 20 .- Later official advices received here this afternoon announce that the calamity which has visited Martinique is the most severe since the year 1817. The disaster is said to over the island of Antigua in 1871. So far as can be learned, there have been sixty deaths or more, and it will be some time before the full extent of the disaster is known. At Fort De France alone, there have been twelve lives lost. At St. Pierre, five persons are known to have been killed. Communication with different parts of the island was never an easy matter, and it is exceedingly difficult to get detailed news at present. As reports from the various sections reach St. Pierre, it becomes evident that the extent of the hurricane's devastations has not been exaggerated. The destruction of property and loss of life is reported from all parts of the coast.

At Lamentin ten lives were lost. At Francois sixteen were killed and large numbers injured, and at Riviere Pilote two or more deaths; and so on, from all parts of the island, comes the tale of woe and desolation.

La Trinite sends in the list of its dead at ten, and numbers of more or less severely injured. The damage done to shipping and property may sately be classed as stupendous. About two-fifths of the island was under cultivation, and the mountain slopes were covered with forests. All cultivation and all forests in the path of the hurricane appear to have been swept away. Numerous sugar, coffee, cotton and cocoa plantations which felt the tornado seem to have been utterly destroyed. Houses and barns, storehouses and stables, have been crushed out of existence and a considerable period must elapse before the island recovers from its terrible visitation. Every hour adds to the list of horror. already long enough to startle any body. Some of the poorer of the people have lost their all and the same may be said of a number of richer planters.

CHICAGO MARKET REVIEW. Fluctuations in Prices of Grain and Provisions.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHICAGO, Aug. 20.-Wheat and oats continued excited, with occasional spells of dullness, and closed with decided advances. but corn, after opening higher grew dull and weak. This was due to fears of manipulation by the clique, which is said to comprise a number of heavy local houses with Eastern backing, who are supposed to be preparing to corner September. Wheat opened with December quoted at from $1.03@1.05%, against $1.04 at the close yesterday, and sold quickly up to $1.06, followed by an almost as speedy decline to $1.05; it lingered in the neighborhood for a time, then took a dip downward to $1.04¼, rebounded to $1.05¼, and broke to $1.04¾. All of this occurred within the first two hours. Fluctuations later displayed the same nervousness among traders, but prices moved upon a higher plane. About 12 o'clock the price shot up in five minutes from $1.05 1/4 to $1,07, dropped back 1/5c and then jumped up again, touching $1.07%, hesitated for a time and then bounded to $1.08½, but under heavy offerings near the close broke to and closed at $1.06%. Trading became very animated at the higher range of prices, and a repetition of the panicky state of affairs existing on last Saturday and Monday appeared imminent for a moment or two. The day's news was strongly bullish; dealings from the Atlantic seaboard were unprecedently heavy, reaching about 1,200,000 bushels if flour be included, and New Orleans cleared 140,000 bushels for Antwerp. But the great bulge of the day was due to a dispatch to the effect that the Russian Government had issued an order prohibiting the export of wheat containing 8 per cent. of rye, and another cablegram which reported the war and sent prices to the top. The corn market was very nervous and erratic. Commission men with little buying or selling orders had a hard time if orders were limited anywhere within 1-20c of the market. The crowd were all buyers and all sellers at the same moment. Shorts were afraid to trade on account of a supposed corner. Most of September is held here by prominent houses, presumably for Eastern men and shorts fear that to protect it they will go on a bull campaign of the bears, in expectation of large receipts, and begin to sell shorts freely. September in different parts of the pit at the same time, sold at the opening from 65c up to 69c, but very few bought it at higher prices and its tumble was quick, 661/20 being marked in the first half hour's trading. It recovered again to 671/2c very quickly, and later it reached 681/c. It broke later to 661/4c, but the market rallied some with late strength in wheat victualled immediately raised rumors of and closed at 9%c.

Good buying of oats for export, both here and in New York, frightened shorts, who in their efforts to cover forced prices up 1@21/4c. The provision market was rather active and notwithstanding heavy receipts of hogs and lower prices for them, products were inclined to firmness. Fluctuations were narrow and changes from yesterday's closing were small.

NEW YORK, August 20 .- The immense plant and lumber yard of L. H. Mace & Co. was totally destroyed by fire to-night. The loss is total, and as nearly as can be estimated will reach a quarter of a million dollars, upon which the insurance is comparatively small. The Virginia Alliance Convention endorsed in its entirety the plank of the Ocala platform which says, "that the government shall establish sub-treasuries or depositories in the several

ARSON AND SUICIDE.

A Railroad Station Agent Sets Fire to the Depot and Commits Suicide. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LARAMIE, WYOMING, Aug. 20 .- J. Crompton, Union Pacific station agent at Carbon, went on duty yesterday morning while still intoxicated from a spree of the night before. Half an hour later the depot building was in flames and when it was reduced to ashes the charred remains of the agent, with a revolver by his side, was found in the ashes. It is supposed he set the depot equal the famous cyclone which swept on fire and then committed suicide.

The company lose $3,000 on the building and several thousand on freight and express goods. There was a large amount of money in the safe, the door of which was open and the contents had been destroyed. The Beckwith Commercial Company often deposited in the safe, it is said, from $50,000 to $75,000 overnight. The agent did not remit yesterday. Every scrap of the company's books and records was de-ton circular says:

Futures opened at a smart decline, quickly rallied, made some advance, presently declined, and closed quiet and steady at a decline of 1 point on September and October, and other months unchanged from yesterday's closing prices. There was a very unsettled market to-day. The old market disappointed the bulls and the opening decline of 6 to 7 points was the result. Then the Savannah News was found to contain an emanation from Dr. Hunnicutt, of the Georgia Bureau of Agriculture. The cotton crop in that State was declared to be late and its condition 20 per cent below last year's, yet the yield may be 85 or 90 per cent. of a full crop, say 850,-000 bales. These somewhat contradictory figures gave the bulls fresh vigor. Not only was the early decline quickly recovevered, but some further advance was established, January selling at 8.38c; then came a dullness and some selling to realize, under which values weakened a little. The weather at the South was generally fair and cooler.

A local freight train on the -Valley route was wrecked near Cleveland station, Miss., by running over a bull. The engine and fifteen cars were derailed and three white men were killed.
