An army of locusts recently marched over the Punjab, in India. It was ten miles wide and took five days to march past. There is nothing in this to pun on but maybe after we get our American tin-plate factories in full blast tin will be so cheap that people can can these animals for victuals.

It is said that the break in the Colorado river which turned the water into the Colorado Desert has washed such a channel that the lake made by it is likely to become permanent, and thus a vast amount of land hitherto worthless will be reclaimed. "EVERYTHING WENT."

Another Thrilling Balloon Ascension a

Carolina Beach. A very large crowd gathered at Carolina Beach yesterday afternoon, attracted thither by the many attractions this delightful resort offers, but principally the expectation of seeing Prof. Jewell make his thrilling leap for life from his balloon. The series of surprises the public have been treated to so far put everyone on the quivivi. A variety of opinions were expressed as to what surprise was in store for the afternoon. But in spite of the high wind the daring young aeronaut made an ascension and parachute leap. It was teared at first that the high wind would render it impossible to inflate the monster balloon,but these fears were groundless. The monster tugged at its fastening as the furnace poured hot air into it until it was fully inflated. The fastenings cast off, with 'a cheery "good bye" the balloon sprung upward, carrying the aeronaut who hung by his toes during the ascent. The South wind carried the the balloon to the North. At the distance of about 1,500 feet Prof. Jewell cut loose the parachute. Like a bullet the man and the apparatus shot towards earth, then the parachute slowly unfolded and settled down very gently about three-quarters of a mile from the point where the ascension was

This afternoon Prot. Jewell will give another exhibition which will no doubt attract a large crowd.

The West India Cyclone.

The observer in charge of the Signal station here was instructed yesterday to keep the information signal flying. The Martinique hurricane was reported as just north of Hayti, moving toward southern Florida, and, according to the rate of movement given, it should reach there by this morning. It is regarded as possible, however, that it may recurve northerly, barely reaching further west than the Bahamas. Information signals-yellow pennants-are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Norfolk to Key West.

Advices last night were that there was little probability of the cyclone striking the Florida coast. It is quite likely, however, that the disturbance will cause heavy rain storms all along the South Atlantic coast.

A police officer fired his pistol at a dog on North Front street near Walnut yesterday evening. He missed the dog, but the pistol-ball glancing struck the piazza of a house across the street, much to the consternation of several ladies and children who were seated on the piazza.

The Alleged Murderer of Simeon Conoley -His Arrival Last Night in Charge of the Sheriff of Robeson County. Mr. R. C. Pittman, sheriff of Robeson county, and Mr. E. D. McRae, of that county, arrived here last night with D. A. McDougald, charged with the murder of Simeon Conoley in Robeson county last April. They arrived on the 9.50 train on the Wilmington & Weldon railroad The prisoner was taken from the depot in an omnibus to the Purcell House and was at once placed in a room of the hotel.

McDougald was arrested by Sheriff Scott at Lynn county, Oregon, near Albany, on the 1st day of August. When arrested, he was working as a section hand on the Southern Pacific rallroad, under the assumed name of D. H. Laurin. He denied positively that he was McDougald, but when letters were found in his valise he weakened and said he supposed he was the man needed. Sheriff Pittman was notified of the arrest and on the 6th of August left Robeson county in company with Mr. E. F. Mc-Rae, for Albany, Oregon. Upon their arrival, on the 14th inst., they visited the jail where McDougald was confined and identified the prisoner. McDougald was cordial in his greeting, and told Mr. McRae he was glad to see him. He expressed his readiness to return at once, and the necessary steps being taken they left Albany with the prisoner last Saturday. McDougald gave them no trouble on the trip. He refused to have any conversation in regard to the crime that he is charged with.

Sheriff Pittman and his prisoner will leave this morning on the 8 o'clock train on the Carolina Central for Lumberton, where his trial for murder will take place before the Superior Court the first week in October. A reporter for the STAR went into the room where McDougald was confined. He was in bed and the gaslight was turned down, and refused to hold any conversation with his visitor.

The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry-An Expression of Feeling-General Orders-Visitors Welcomed-The Anniversary-Prizes Upon the Target Shooting.

After breaktast an informal meeting of the officers and members of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry was held and the command. through their commander express sed their thanks for the soulful reception tendered to them on the evening of Thursday, 18th inst., and most especially was the command moved by the magnificent comradeship of the Wilmington Light Infantry, Capt. W. S. Kenan commanding. Were the officers and soldiers of the Favetteville Independent Light Infantry to select, from all the receptions given them on the occasion above mentioned, they would express their grateful recognition of the general assemblage of the people of Wilmington as well as their companions in arms. Acknowledgement of the hospitality of the people of this beautiful and steadily growing seaport of the South Atlantic is simply to give utterance to the heaped made hospitality proverbial. The men are, we are glad to see, kept under strict discipline, some of the command being always on duty. Capt. Jno C. Vann has the roster of the corps divided and detailed for duty with the different releifs.

A large nnmber of ladies graced the occasion with their presence, and many complimentary remarks were made about the soldiery bearing and proficiency of the command.

See About This.

The attention of Wilmington merchants is called to the following from the Charleston News and Courier. The postoffice, "Morgan," should no doubt be Morven:

Messrs. F. W. Wagener & Co. yester-day received the first bale of the new crop of North Carolina cotton. It was shipped to the firm by Mr. G. A. Martin, from Morgan, N. C., and came by express. In his letter of consignment the shipper writes: "I have been buying the first bale in our State for the last three years, sending it to Wilmington, N. C. Last year I was in Charleston, and some of your people told me I could do as well in your city as I could in Wilmington."
