A. K. Allison, Jr., was fatally shot in an altercation in Quincy, Fla., by Dr. C. A. Gee. — Mrs. Mary Richardson and her two children were knocked from a bridge by a locomotive near Nicholasville, Ky., and instantly killed. — Forty-one bodies have been recovered from the ruins at Park Place, New York city; it is believed the dead will number close to one hundred. — The disabled steamer El Dorado was captured on the 17th inst., by negro pirates from the Bahamas. — A decisive battle is believed to have been fought near Valparaiso, between the contending Chilean factions. — Advances from Russia show that in some of the provinces famine prevails and many of the people are starving. — N. The summer tourist business is a great industry in New Hampshire. It furnishes a home market for eggs, chickens and garden truck and pans out about $5,000,000 a year.

The indications are that the Republicans of Indiana are getting ready for the election. The Indianapolis Sentinel notes that they have begun to import negro voters.

Miss Kate Field considers Edison the greatest intellect of the age. Miss Kate might have swept a wider field and pronounced him one of the greatest intellects of all the ages, although he is not very aged.

John Wanamaker, it is said, carries $1,000,000 of insurance on his life. This gives him the assurance that whether posterity remembers him or not the insurance companies will not be apt to forget him when he migrates to the other shore.

Miller Purvis, the State Alliance lecturer for Ohio, an old-line Republican, says there are 50,000 Republicans in that State who believe that "a tariff for revenue is all anybody should ask." That's what we've been trying these many years to drive into 'em, but it seems that it took 'em a long time to catch on.

It won't always do to judge from appearances. Senator Hoar is one of the nicest, most good-natured looking grandpas in public life, with benevolence fairly oozing out of him, but he has as much "pizen" in him to the cubic inch as any man of his dimensions, enough of it to stock a first-class tarantula ranch with a rattlesnake annex. But he is very fond of codfish balls when they are built right.

The convicts in the Auburn, N. Y., State Prison, have been put to work to compete with the "pauper labor" of Europe in making buttons. With a duty ranging from 340 to 1,400 per cent, they ought to be able to compete. But perhaps they are only making these buttons to put on the shirts the convicts make in the Clinton Prison, where the convicts are competing with the poor women, who have to earn their living with their needles.

Foraker, of Ohio, thinks Blaine is the man for Presidential candidate, "the model American statesman and the idol of the American people" as he calls him. The American people showed how much of an "idol" he was when they paid their respects to him at the ballot box in 1884. Mr. Foraker forgets in his enthusiasm for Mr. B. that there is a considerable of a sprinkling of Democrats among the American people. There are some, too, who are not Democrats who are not worshipping that idol much.

The new Japanese Minister in passing through San Francisco on his way to Washington gave a select lay out to a number of the nabobs. They had a high time, the banquet being given away up stairs. The Minister felt so good that he freely tipped the colored gentlemen who had done the honors at the festive board. But when he counted the change he had left he discovered that in his impulsiveness, boosted somewhat by free libations of the seductive grape juice of the Pacific slope, he had been giving them twenty dollar gold pieces instead of silver dollars, and then there was a bustling around and some broken remarks in Japanese, for he wanted those golden coins back. He got most of them and now he thinks he knows the difference between a twenty dollar gold piece and the dollar of our daddies, but the sable citizens who had to unload wouldn't vote for the new Minister for town constable.

AFFRAY ON WATER STREET.

Two Negro Draymen Have a Brush—Nobody Hurt.

An affray took place yesterday afternoon at Princess street dock between two colored draymen—Henry Anderson and Henry Watson. The difficulty between the two men grew out of a dispute as to the right of way to a wood-laying in the dock. After a short tussle in the middle of the streets, in which neither was hurt, Anderson seized a small stick of cord-wood and made a determined assault on Watson. The latter ran and dodged among the crowd of negroes congregated on the street and Anderson succeeded in striking only two or three blows, the last just as Watson disappeared in the doorway of Messrs. Mitchell & Son's office. Col. John L. Cantwell, a justice of the peace, stopped the affray, and a telephone message was sent to police headquarters, when Col. Hall came down and arrested Watson; Anderson in the meantime had walked off.

THE SOLDIER BOYS.

The F. I. L. I. Visit the Hammocks and Ocean View and Spend a Delightful Day.

The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry spent yesterday at Ocean View and the Hammocks, at the invitation of the Seacoast Railroad Company and Mr. Stacey Van Amringe, and had a delightful time, notwithstanding the rain which fell in fierce showers throughout the day.

The company left their pleasant quarters at Carolina Beach at 7 o'clock in the morning, after breakfasting at the Hotel Oceanic, and upon arrival in the city marched to the Princess street station of the Seacoast railroad, where the train to convey them to the Hammocks and Ocean View was in waiting. It was exactly 9:30 o'clock when the train pulled out and it arrived at Ocean View at 9:44, thus making the run, including stoppages at Greenville and the Hammocks in 21 minutes. At Ocean View, everything was placed at their disposal, and the utmost courtesy and attention was shown them. After a dip in the surf, they enjoyed the novelty of riding on the switchback, until half-past 12 o'clock, when the band accompanying the military gave a concert in the pavilion. An excellent dinner was then enjoyed by the company, furnished by Mr. Van Amringe and served at Mr. Hayes' restaurant. The company were also recipients of attentions from Col. B. R. Moore and others, which were highly appreciated.

Shortly after dinner the train pulled out for the Hammocks, where the company spent the time pleasantly until half-past five o'clock, when they left for Wilmington.

Arriving in the city, the company left the train at the Princess street station and marched to the residence of Col. F. W. Kerchner, by special invitation where they were hospitably entertained until the hour came for the departure of the steamer for Carolina Beach.

This morning the command will break camp and the men will take their departure for home, carrying with them it is hoped pleasant recollections of their short sojourn by the sea. Their gentlemanly deportment and pleasant cordiality of manner have strengthened the friendship already existing for them here, and the warmest wishes for their welfare from all of Wilmington will follow them, with the earnest hope that they may come again and again, ever to meet a heartier welcome than the last. "So say we all of us."

Delayed Trains.

The train from the North due here at six o'clock p. m. was delayed several hours by a break north of Richmond, Va. Heavy rains caused a washout on the Northeast railroad, between Florence and Charleston, S. C., which stopped traffic and delayed travel on that branch of the Atlantic Coast Line. The train due in Wilmington at 9 a. m. did not arrive until 1 p. m. yesterday on this account.

Yesterday's Weather.

The records of the Weather Bureau give the following report of the range of temperature, etc., yesterday. At 8 a. m., 83°; 8 p. m., 72°; maximum temperature, 84°; minimum, 71°; average 78°; prevailing wind, north. Total rainfall .00.

TOBACCO CULTURE.

A Pender County Farmer Who Finds It a Good Investment.

That there is hope for the poor farmer yet, is attested by a trip to Mr. E. M. Johnson. His home is a pretty and attractive one, which is evidence that he is a man of energy and taste. His farm and farm houses are all in fine order and the best cultivated crop we have seen this year. His corn and cotton are above the average. We were pleased to find twenty-five acres cultivated in tobacco. It is of the Sterling and Flanagan varieties. Mr. Cooper, of Statesville, N. C., has charge of the crop. He is a man of thirty-five years experience, and expressed himself highly pleased with our lands for tobacco. He said he had never seen finer tobacco in the western part of the State than he is now growing in Pender. He says it is well adapted to the culture of fine grades, and would advise the farmers to engage more in tobacco. We were doubtless a little boring in getting information, but Messrs. Johnson & Cooper are men of genial disposition and took pleasure in giving all the information desired. They are now curing their tobacco.

They are now operating with four barns. We were shown the process of curing and grading which we look upon as the secret of success in a tobacco crop. We find the cost of fertilizers and cultivation about the same as cotton. The yield is estimated at twenty-five thousand pounds, from which they expect to realize at least five thousand dollars.

Now, brother farmer, can you beat that with cotton and peanuts? Just go and see for yourself and be convinced that there is money in tobacco, and that Mr. Johnson is one of the best practical farmers in the county.

Respectfully,
HOLLY SHELTER FARMERS.
