Mrs. Lease. Are two old Republicans like Simpson and Pfeffer, both personal gainers by the new departure, the right kind of men to come into North Carolina to tell the farmers of this State what they ought to do and what political camp they should jump into? And if they did where would these Kansas guides lead them to? Out into the wilderness, so to speak, just long enough to give the Radicals, who are laying low and saying nothing, an opportunity to capture the State Government and the Congressmen from this State. They pretend to believe that they can carry States enough to elect their candidate for President next year when every man who has sense enough to go in out of the rain knows that this is the sheerest nonsense. In carrying Southern States they are counting on the votes of the colored men who belong to the Alliance. And then colored votes, if that were possible, what would they do? tote fair and divide with the negroes, elect negroes to the Legislature, to Congress, &c., usual. or humbug them as the Republicans have done, get their votes and then give-them the cold shoulder? Sump-

son and Pfeffer say no, that the negro must have a fair show and a square chance, which means that if the third party gets a footing in North Carolina it must recognize the negro as the equal of the white man. A number of prominent colored citizens of Indiana who don't believe that the colored man has had a fair show and the recognition due him by the Republican party, met a few days ago at Indianapolis to discuss the situation and see if something couldn't be done to bring the Republican party to taw. They talked and finally resolved that a colored man must be put upon the World's Fair Commission, and that an Indiana colored man must be given the Haytien or Liberian mission, or the Republican party would come up short some colored votes in the election next year. Somebody got wind of this meeting, and tipped a wink at Mr. Harrison and the result was a conciliatory leter from him, which was read in the meeting, in which he promised his colored friends that they would be"properly cared for." With this assurance the colored kickers willp robafter securing a victory by means of | ably be content, proceed to vote the Republican ticket as usual, and Mr. Harrison will see that the colored brother is "properly cared for"-as

As President of the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union Col. Polk also draws a salary, but not so large as the two gentlemen from Kansas, and as he is kept on the go nearly all the time there must be some provision made for his expenses, which would take about all his salary if not more. While the Colonel is not playing the role of a Third Party advocate, always coupling the remarks that point in that direction with an if, he is giving considerable aid and comfort to Jerry by securing audiences for him and endorsing him as he peregrinates through this territory trying to knock the bottom out of the Democratic party, at fifty dollars a speech. That was his business in this State when he held forth at Charlotte, Greensboro and Durham, trying to persuade the farmers that they should knock the stuffing out of the old parties, which means in North Carolina the Democratic party, for that's the party that ninety per cent. of the farmers belong to. Whether Col. Polk believes in a third party with an if or without it he is helping Jerry along all the same, while his paper cheers him up with wood cuts suggestive of the progress of the third party sentiment. ment. to its tickness than the best quality of bar steel. "Such minute figures, however, cannot be dealt with with comprehension. Suppose you draw your quartz fibers to the thickness of one fifteenth-thousandth part of an inch. That is comparatively coarse, but if you were to take 100 of them and twist them into a bundle you would produce a cable of the diameter of a single silk worms thread. I do not mean the silk for sewing that is wound upon a reel, for that is composed of an enormous number of such threads, but of the flber as it is wound from the cocoon.

"It is an interesting experiment to make imitation spider webs from these quartz fibres. The thing is easy enough to do, and it is readily possible to coax a spider from the real web to the false one by the buzzing of a fly. It is not readily practicable to make a fly buzz just so as to produce the result aimed, but the object in view is accomplished in a moment by making an ordinary tuning fork buzz against the webb.Immediately the spider jumps for the imaginary fly, and your purpose is accomplished. Unfortunately Mistress Arachnid is not able to climb about without great difficulty upon the artificial web, because it is so slippery. The web will not catch flies, either; for the reason that it is not sticky, as is that made by a spider, but you can make it sticky by stroking the quartz fibers lightly with a straw wet with castor oil, and then the web will capture flies like a real one.

"If you will examine such fibers inder a microscope you will observe that they exhibit the most beautiful coloring. You can make bubbles out of the quartz, too, which have all the perfection of form and rainbow tinting that is possessed by the soap bubbles blown with a pipe."
