BRICK PAVEMENTS.

The Cost Per Square Yard in Memphis How the Pavement is Laid.

The experiment of brick pavements in Memphis seems to be meeting with success. Some of these were laid in April, 1889, and have served well under heavy traffic. The figures show that the cost of the pavement, per square yard, ranged between $2.328 and $2.916 the average gross cost, as obtained from - Mr. Hans A. Kure, of this city, six different sections, being $2.621. All the sections were laid on concrete foundations, averaging 9 inches in depth.

On the sub-grade is spread this concrete, composed of hard limestone, clean sand, mixed with fine gravel and fresh cement. Into this is put the macadam. This is spread and rammed with heavy cast iron rammers. On this concrete a bed of clean, sharp sand, 2 inches deep, is laid. Upon this bed of sand the paving bricks are to be laid on edge, at right angles to the line of curbs, in parallel lines, in as close contact as possible on sides and ends-the joints broken one with another by starting at curb lines with half bricks in alternate rows. No half or broken brick shall be laid except at the curb lines in order to make closures. When the bricks have been rammed to a solid bearing and brought to a perfect surface, the interstices shall be thoroughly and completely filled, from bottom to top, with distilled coal tar pitch. Then sand is thrown over the pitch-the aim being to make the pavement one solid mass, which shall be permanent and watertight. The bricks must be thoroughly burned throughout to vitrifaction.

COTTON FACTS AND FIGURES.

-Cotton receipts at Mobile are about he same as last year.

- Receipts of cotton here yesterday 2,415 bales; the corresponding date last - The Governor has appointed year, 1,748 bales.

> - Futures closed steady in New York; sales 84,300 bales; September 8.41 @8.44; October 8.40@8.41; January 8.89 -Spot cotton closed in New York > yesterday at 8% for middling uplands. -Net receipts at all ports yesterday 50,635 balaes. -Leaves are reported falling three weeks earlier than usual in Oglethorpe county, Georgia. This is said to be an intallible sign of an early frost. -New York Journal of Commerce

Orders for replenishments in cotton goods were more moderate in size then two weeks ago, and buying is on a hand to mouth basis. It is not to be inferred from this, however, that trade is light. On the contrary, in popular staples and specialities, demand is greater than the supply. Although jobbers are covering only immediate wants, the movement amounts to a good business in the directions referred to, and customers are constantly pressing agents for the goods bought

- New York Bulletin: The market is still evidently inclined to respond to ball ish sentiment. Crop advices are certainly no worse, yet it is doubtful if any improvement is shown that would tend to increase the magnitude of the yield, and there is less pressure to sell from the South, while the very large receipts are attributed in part to marketing the remainder of the old crop, and in part to dry weather hastening maturity and affording easy facilities for hauling from plantations and shipping.

- Late advices to the Commercial and Financial Chronicle are as follows:

Shreveport, Louisiana-Cotton cannot be benefitted by rain; the top crop has been badly injured by the dry spell. The week's rainfall has been seven hundredths of an inch, on one day. Montgomory, Alabama,-The weather has been hot and dry all the week, and cotton is being picked and marketed rapidly. The crop, however, is reportedshort. No rain has fallen the past twelve days. Auburn, Alabama-Cotton is practically made, and the yield will be small compared with last year. All other crops are doing well. There has been rain all the week. Augusta, Ga .- Accounts continue unfavorable. Present conditions point to a falling off of from twenty-five to thirty per cent. from the prospects of three weeks ago. There has been no rain. Picking is making good progress and cotton is coming in freely. Helena, Arkansas.-There has not been enough rain to lay the dust since the 22d of August, and none at all the past two weeks. Hill crops are drying up. Cotton is opening rapidly, and except in low lands is nearly all open. Memphis, Tenn .- The weather has been hot and dry all the week; no rain since September 10. The drought has caused cotton to open rapidly and to shed forms and small bolls on uplands. The outlook in bottoms and for late cotton has improved Dallas, Texas.-The weather has been dry all the week. Many sections of the State have had equinoctial rains, which seem to have done no harm except interrupting picking. Despite the increased acreage of six to seven per cent., I adhere to my estimate of the cotton crop of the State of Texas, at fifteen to twenty per cent. less than that of last year-inclining towards the latter figure. In many spots throughout the State, not confined to any particular districts, the corn crop is a very poor one-amounting to not more than onehalf of an average yield. In precisely these identical spots, the cotton crop is likewise very poor-both resulting from the same cause-deficient moisture, and consequent stunted growth and imperfect development. Blind Tom.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a large audience gathered at the Opera House last evening to see and hear the renowned and wonderful "Blind Tom" and his performance. The evening's entertainment was opened by his announcement and rendition of several selections from some of the most noted composers, and followed by descriptions, recitations, original songs and many imitations. The most wonderful part of the entertainment was the exhibit of his powers of reproducing or imitating any piano music that he hears, which was shown by his calling on some person in the audience to play a piece of music that he had never heard. This call was responded to by Prof. I. H. Greenewald, and "Tom" reproduced it almost perfectly. Tom was heartily applauded and encored several times, which showed well that the entertainment was much appreciated and enjoyed by the audience.

Yesterday's Weather. -

The records of the Weather Bureau give the following report of the range of temperature, etc., yesterday. At 8 a. m., 70°; 8 p. m., 71°; maximum temperature, 78°; minimum, 66°; prevailing wind, south. Total rainfall .93.

We trust the friends of the Association work will give him a hearty welcome as he presents the claims of this worthy object.

GREAT IS CHARLOTTE.

An Artillery Company Organized to Form Part of the Naval Reserve of the United

The citizens of Charlotte have taken the initiative for North Carolina in a matter that some of the seaport towns of the State might just as well have undertaken months ago, and has organized an artillery company that will form part of the naval militia of the States, as authorized by act of the last Congress, for the purpose of training men in the handling of heavy guns now used on war-ships of the U.S. Navy. Such companies have been formed in some of the coast towns of New England and there was some talk last winter of the formation of a company at Newbern and one at Southport in this State; but nothing came of it in either instance, and the city of Charlotte now bears the distinguished honor of having the only artillery company in the State, and can besides brag of being the only inland town in the country-from Maine to the Rio Grande-that can boast of a naval militia.

Under the act of Congress referred to, one or more vessels of the Navy will be fitted as training ships, and for a few weeks each summer will be stationed at towns where such companies have been formed, receive them on board, and give the men careful instruction in all the duties of the service.

How they will manage to get one of these war-ships to Charlotte is hard to conceive; but this is a problem for the Navy Department to struggle with, and t will doubtless be readily solved, and in manner satisfactory to all concerned.

It was, perhaps, never contemplated by the framers of the law that inland towns would furnish companies for the naval reserve, but the fact that Charotte, hundreds of miles from the ocean, has done so, is suggestive. It is the country boy, who has never seen a sheet of water broader than his neighbor's mill-pond whose mind is filled with the "poetry of the sea"-its grandeur and beauty; whose first declamatory exercise was "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck," and who can tell you all about Nelson at Trafalgar and Perrys victory on Lake Champlain, who would make almost any reasonable sacrifice of time and money to have it to say that he had trodden the deck of a real war ship and helped to load and fire the big guns, besides being initiated into the art of "splicing the main brace," and sundry other tricks and devices peculiar to life on ship-board. And after all a modern war-ship with its ponderous breech-loaders, its dynamite guns, its intricate machinery, would be as great an object of wonder and amazement to an ordinary salt-water sailor, as to the greenest country boy living.

At all events, Charlotte has "taken the cake," and a newspaper paragraph intorms the public that Adjutant General Glenn, of the N. C. State Guard. has returned to Raleigh from Washington, D. C., where he made arrangements for the equipment of the Charlotte artillery as a company of the naval reserve. It will be armed with Gatling guns, and the small arms will be the Hotchkiss rifle as used in the navy. The company will have seventy-five officers and enlisted men. It is commanded by Stuart W. Cramer, a graduate of the Naval Academy,

CHAMPIONS OF THE DIAMOND.

Probable Pennant Winners in the Great Base Ball Associations.

The end of this week will decide the hardly fought championship in the two great base ball associations. All indications point to Chicago as the winner of the pennant in the National League, although Boston is pushing her closely for the honor. In the American Association Boston will win in all probability, and St. Louis, hitherto the invincible champions, will have to content herself with second place. The record given below will likely remain unchanged in the important positions:

The Peanut Crop.

A leading commission house of Norfolk has issued a circular, based on information received from its correspondents, from which the following extract "The peanut situation, as to the growing crop, can be briefly summed up in the following statement: that with no disaster to happen to it from now, it will be about half as large as last year's, which we will also consider putting it at three-quarters of an average crop. This, we believe, warrants us in hoping for better prices than we have been having. We do not expect these higher prices, though, till the first shipments of damp and inferior stock are over, nor till the distributing merchants throughout the country can be brought to realize the crop is a short one. These causes may tor a time lower prices, but we do not think they will remain down long."

Assignment of Mr. Will Hunter.

The Goldsboro Argus makes announcement of the failure of Mr. Will Hunter, proprietor of the Hotel Greory in that place, and late of the Island Beach Hotel at the Hammocks. The Argus adds:

He has made an assignment to Mr. John F. Southerland for the benefit of his creditors. For two years Mr. Hunter has been more or less dissatisfied with the hotel incumbrances he had entailed upon himself here by the merging of the Arlington-Gregory, but his con-tracts were such that he could not relieve himself until finally he made the above transfer in order to get to a basis of certainty. He hopes to pay his entire indebtedness in full.
