A newspaper reporter who was present at the joint debate in Ohio between Gov. Campbell . and Mr. McKinley says he don't think either made any converts. It is right hard to convert Republicans when they get hardened in their wickedness and folly.

The Pioneer-Press of St. Paul, Rep., says the Republican party will have to face in the 'next campaign the ugly question, "Why did the census of 1890 cost about three times as much as the census of 1880?" And it may be asked, too, why it is about three times as poor and worthless a job?

The ball given last night by the Hibernian Benevolent-Society was a great success. More people were present than at any preceding ball given by this Society, there being over seventy-five couples, and they all seemed well pleased. The committee deserve great credit for their work, and for the manner and number of different refreshments served. Dancing was kept up until this morning, when all present went home well pleased. The entertainment was a financial success as well, over eighty tickets being sold before the doors were opened.

The Adventist.

Victoria Knight and Maria Pittman colored women, were brought before Justice R. H. Bunting yesterday morning charged with larceny of a number of articles, such as table cloths, napkins and crockery ware from The Orton, Mr. J. E. Montague, the proprietor, suspected these two women, and on Tuesday employed detective Hunt to "hunt 'em up," which he did. A search warrant was served and some of the stolen goods were found in their house. The cas being set for yesterday afternoon, The State witnesses were examined but the defendants waived an examination. They were required to give bond for their appearance at the Criminal Court and failing to furnish bail were sent to jail. Mr. Marsden Bellamy appeared as counsel for Maria Pittman and Mr. John D. Bellamy, Jr., for Victoria Knight.

A STOWAWAY

Trying to Steal Himself Into This Country is Stowed Away in Jail. The British steamer Bramham, Capt. H. Lawson, sailed from West Hartlepool for this port, and after being out two days, a stowaway, Thos. Wales, was discovered aboard. So soon as she arrived here the Custom House authorities were notified that Wales, the stowaway, was neither a passenger nor one of the crew, and they required of the Captain a bond of $1,000 for his return, which was given.

Upon complaint of the Captain, United States Commissioner R. H. Bunting issued a warrant for the stowaway yes terday, and he was arrested and brought before the Commissioner. Upon the admission of Wales that he was a pauper and was thus stealing himself into the country, he was stowed away in jail until the departure of the vessel.

The Oyster Market.

The condition of the Baltimore oyster market is of some importance in the bivalve vineyard. Monday, in that city, the receipts were about 45,000 bushels, most of which were brought in small schooners and bugeyes from the vicinity of Smith's Point, on the Potomac. The first cargo of dredged oysters this season arrived that morning. The cargo. was brought up on the schooner Robert L. Rogers, Capt. Evans, and numbered 507 bushels. The oysters were not very large, but of good flavor, and were soldat eighty cents per bushel. Later in the day the schooner William Somers arrived with 800 bushels of dredged oysters. These, too, were readily sold at eighty cents. The prices about the wharves were: For "scrapes," 50c. to $1.15, according to size; Herring Bay catch, $1.00; Chester river, $1.15; Kent Island, 85c., and for a few steaming stock which were brought up, 40c. was paid.

A Good Institution The Wilmington Library Association is ever active and progressive under the management of its president, Capt. W H. Bixby. The Library now contains 4,100 volumes of current and standard literature, and besides receives regularly 160 magazines, journals and periodicals, It is the finest periodical reading room in the South, and the wonder is that more of our people do not avail themselves of the inestimable opportunities it affords to put good reading matter into the hands of members of their families at so little cost-only $2.00 per household per year for the use of the reading room, which is open day and night.

Yesterday's Weather.

The records of the Weather Bureau give the following report of the range of temperature, etc., yesterday: At 8 a. m., 47°; 8 p. m., 55°; maximum temperature, 66°; minimum, 43°; average 54. Prevailing wind, west. Total

COTTON FACTS AND FIGURES.

- Net receipts of cotton at ail the U. S. ports yesterday were 43,143 bales.

- Cotton receipts at New Orleans are about 90,000 bales ahead of last year. - The killing trosts reported in all parts of the cotton belt have apparently not had much effect on the market. - Receipts of cotton at this port yesterday were 1,298 bales; against 1,553 bales the corresponding day last year. - Middling cotton was quoted on the Wilmington market yesterday quiet at 7%c per pound; quotations same date

-Futures closed steady in New York yesterday with sales of 189,500 bales; October 8.05@8.12; November 8,18@ 8.19; January 8.53@8.54.

last season, 9%c.

- Maxton Union: The heavy rains and cool weather of last week and the week before damaged cotton considerably. It is now estimated that the yield will be one-third less than was calculated on a month ago. Surely the present low price cannot continue much longer.

- A letter received at the STAR office from Messrs. H. P. Hubbard & Co., and dated Oct. 10th, states that they their "guess" circular, and the average of four thousand of these guesses is 7.544,221. In their circular of same date they say:

The movement continues in excess of all precedent, and is for the present the controlling influence. Until it lets, up the weakness of the Southern spot markets is likely to effect a further decline here, which would no doubt be sharper were it not that the demand from the public for futures at prices which look attractively cheap continues to absorb a very large quantity of the cotton sold

This demand is more general than we have ever known it, originating in a large measure with that portion of the Southern cotton trade generally distinguished for its conservatism and careful observation. This would seem to be the most conclusive evidence of the theory so often advanced, that the present receipts are no criterion of the crop, unless indeed they are corroborative of small crop estimates.

- Savannah News: The continued

heavy cotton receipts would appear to prohibit any increase in the price of the staple. The receipts at nearly all the other ports, as well as Savannah, have been very heavy for the past two weeks. Yet from the unanimity of the crop reports as to the heavy damage by the unfavorable fall weather seems to preclude the possibility of another such large crop as last year's and to justify the general estimate of a 7,500,000 bale crop. The explanation generally given by the cotton men, and doubtless the true one is that the farmers who held their cotton last year when they should have sold thereby lost millions of dollars, were so badly burned that they will not consider the question of holding back on any condition. They are rushing their cotton to market regardless of price. That the crop is being rapidly marketed is evident. From many points the reports state that the crop is already nearly all harvested and will soon be all marketed. A gentleman who arrived from Bulloch county last night said that the cotton there had been nearly all picked, and that the farmers seemed determined to rush it to market as fast as possible. He said that the cotton was piled up around the railroad stations awaiting shipment, and that in many instances the agents refused to receipt for cotton on account of its unprotected condition. the farmers would only hold their cotton now, with the prospects for a short crop ahead, they might be able to get a cent a pound more for it in January or February.

Telegraph Competition.

A dispatch to the Baltimore Sun from Philadelphia says: "It is far from impossible that a powerful competitor of the Western Union Telegraph Company will soon be started, backed by Philadelphia capital. The Western Union declare that the margin of profit on their business is too small to attempt competition, but outsiders are dubious about this and other statements. The Bell Telephone and Postal Union Companies are said to be about to combine." In the Mayor's Court.

RAILROAD NOTES.

- The report of the board of trustees of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, covering a period of ten years, has just been made public. It shows that the membership increased during that period from 1,300 to 23,000. During the ten years the_total disbursements were $2,704,936, of which $446,-400 was paid on account of the Burlington strike and $1,875,252 was paid in benefits. The report shows that the vote of the 468 lodges throughout the country has resulted in a decision not to erect the headquarters building. A two-third vote was required, but the vote is about even for and against, all but a few of the lodges having been heard from.

- The annusl meeting of the Pullman Palace Car Company was held in Chicago Thursday. The financial statement for the fiscal year ending July 31 showed that the revenue from the earnings of cars, from patents, manufacturing, rentals, dividends; interet, etc. amounted to $9,772,324. The disbursements for the same period were $6.783, 101, leaving a surplus for the year of $2,989,222. The total assets of the company are $45,054,676, and the total liahave received six thousand replies to bilities $26,261,370. The directors report the output of the manufacturing department for the year amounted to $11,906,974 being an increase over the preceding year of $2,890,544. To meet the steady growth of business, and especially the demands incident to the World's Fair in 1893, the directors asked authority to issue 50,000 shares additional stock. The request was granted, the capital stock being increased 20 per cent. to $30,000,000. The number of cars controlled by the company is $2,239. The number of passengers carried during the year was 6,310,812 against 5,023,037 for the preceding year an increase of about 6 per cent. - Charleston News and Courier: The > announcement that the railroad commissioners had decided to maintain the present reduced tariff on cotton was by no means welcome news to the railroad officials. They had hoped that the commissioners would recede from their original position and not insist upon maintaining the rates which went into effect on the 20th of September. The railroad people think that the new cotton rates are without any reason and absolutely unfair to the railroads. They have not yet received official notification of the intention of the commissioners and will not take any action until definitely advised. Should the commission insist upon maintaining the rates now in effect it is very probable that they will seek redress in the Courts. The Richmond & Danville, Atlantic Coast Line and South Carolina Railway counsel have the matter under consideration. Very much will depend upon the decision of the Richmond & Danville people. The Port Royal and Western Carolina division of the Richmond & Danville system will be the heaviest losers by the determination of the commissioners to enforce a rate 20 per cent. lower than has ever existed in this State. The cotton case will very probably be made a test case, and will allow the Courts to say to what extent the commissioners can go in increasing or lowering rates.
