A contemporary remarks that if Gov. Campbell be defeated, no one can take his defeat better. O, yes, McKinley will.

A physician in India announces that he has discovered the microbe of leprosy. They have been discovering any amount of microbes, but what is wanted is to discover something that can get away with the microbes.

Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, who has been taking in the lights and shadows of Boston, expresses the opinion that it is the wickedest city in the Union. We never did have any confidence in beans as a virtue inspiring diet.

Mrs. Helen Cougar has been inspecting McKinley's tin-plate factory at Piqua, Ohio. She says the whole shebang, outside of the kettle, didn't cost $25, and is the most outrageous "fake" ever perpetrated upon the public.

The McKinley machine managers do not expect the female clerks in Washington from that State to go home to vote the Republican ticket, but they do expect them to drop a "contribution" in the hat when it passes around.

There are now eight vacancies in the Congress which meets in December. Four of these are from New York, one by death and three by resignation. One from Virginia, Michigan, South Dakota and Tennesse each from death.

The Louisville Courier-Journal tells of an old colored woman in Kentucky, who was herself a slave, but who was emancipated in 1833. Her great passion was to become a slave-owner, and when the war broke out she was the owner of forty-five.

It is said that Parnell's grandfather and two other members of his family committed suicide, and that there are two persons of unsound mind among his immediate relatives. It will be remembered that for a time in the last year of his life there were a good many people who had doubts as to Parnell's sanity.

Somebody has sent Mr. Harrison a box of tin-plate, genuine, American tin-plate, and Mr. Harrison has returned thanks, genuine, American thanks. Instead of sending the tinplate just so, why didn't that man have it made into tin horns? Mr. Harrison might have used them in tooting for his administration and for a second term?

Chairman Clarkson of the National Republican Committee ventured the remark to a Chicago reporter, that "we have plenty of good men whom we can elect, and President Harrison is one of them." Mr. Clarkson seems to have almost a monopoly of this opinion, judging from the unanimity with which the anxious Republicans are turning to Jas. G. Blaine as the gentleman to lead them out of the morass.

Festival For Second Regiment Band.

On Tuesday evening, November 3d, the ladies of the city, regardless of denominational lines, will hold a festival daughter, Miss Camille, and Miss Lula in the City Hall for the benefit of the Second Regiment Band. It will doubtless be a rare and and radiant affair in length, breadth and thickness, as the bright lexicon of the fair ladies of Wilmington knows no such word as "fail." Added to the exquisite charms of the graceful waiters there will be refreshments of all delectable and innocent kinds; the band, the while, discoursing such sweet strains as to set Cupid aglow and make every man affectionate.

Henry Newman, the grand, high, low and intermediate comedian, is getting himself into a state of perspiring preparation for the occasion. The boys of the band have always been generous with their music; now is the time to show them solid thanks.

GALA WEEK.

Let It be Inaugurated and Pushed to Success-If Not Why Not?

"It is the very thing for Wilmington," said a large merchant to a STAR reporter vesterday.

"Why, you see, sir," said he, "we have nothing especially attractive to draw our country friends here in winter, and it is the very time we want to sell them goods for the holidays; say the last week in November or the first week in December, it would be just at the time they would want to make their orders for the holiday goods and it would pay the business men of the city in good big round dollars and cents.

The reporter then conversed with other merchants, and all regarded the proposition most favorably. The preparation need not be very extensive, nor the expense extravagant. Of course there should be pyrotechnics scattered along through the week. Every important industry should be represented by a flat in the procession showing its peculiar business. While this display might be made very creditable it would serve the purpose of advertising the goods and preparations in the most admirable and remunerative way.

But the first thing to do would be to prevail on all the railroads leading into the city to bring visitors for one cent a mile. The railroads have always met citizens more than half way in intelligent, well-directed liberality in such matters and no obstruction is expected on that score and from that source.

Baltimore has its Orioles with boundng success. Charleston its gala weeks, and Norfolk its big merchants excursions. Why can't Wilmington gather the great benefits of a festive occasion of similar purport?

And, then, there can be no gala week without music, and Wilmington is blessed with several first rate bands, At stated intervals during the day and evening, these bands should render selections from some central thoroughfare, say lower Market street. Now, with the fluttering of bunting from public buildings, conspicuous stores and prominent private residences, you have all the requisite paraphernalia that would round out to perfection the attractions for a gala week. And if the weather is fine what's the matter with a free excursion down the river and out to sea, or over the Seacoast railroad to Ocean View? Doubtless, the boat and railroad companies would come down handsomely to help along the show. Now listen real attentively and inwardly digest. The STAR has been numerously requested to call a meeting of the citizens, especially the business men, at City Hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 27th, for the purpose of discussing this matter and taking such action as its importance demands.

Wilmington cannot afford to be left

Cotton Region Bulletin.

There was no rain in the cotton belt vesterday. Killing frosts occurred at many places, the mercury ranging from 80 to 40 degrees in the Wilmington district. The lowest temperature reported was 30 degrees at Cheraw. There were killing frosts at Lumberston, Wadesboro, Weldon and Cheraw.

SOUND OYSTERS.

Why the Supply is Short and Not Equal to the Demand.

Oyster gatherers-principally colored women-on the Sounds near Wilmingwinter months by gathering and marketing oysters, are very much disturbed. During the past week they say they have been notified by a man claiming to be an officer that they must pay for the privilege of gathering and selling $4,110. ovsters. Also, that they must have their boats marked so as to show that the fee for license has been paid. And further, that additional license must be uaid for each person besides the owner taken into the boat. The effect of the notification to the oyster-gatherers has been to cause many of them to abandon the business, and in consequence the supply of Sound ovsters in the Wilmington market has been considerably decreased.

The law in relation to the taking of oysters passed, by the last General Assembly, provides (section 3) that any boat in the catching or taking of oysters | $2,456.36. from the public grounds of the State, shall first obtain license for said boat from the clerk of the Superior Court of the county such license shall have effect for the period of twelve months next succeeding the first day of October, and no license will be granted for less than twelve months. The license fee for a boat twenty feet or less is $1.50, over twenty teet and not more than twentyfive, $2.00. An individual license is required for any servant or employe of the owner of the boat.

Onslow is the only county exempted from the provisions of the law.

Capt. Fred T. Pennington has reason to be proud of his splendid steamer Croatan, of the Clyde Line, from New York, that reached her dock yesterday at 12 m. She takes the place of the Fanita, of the same line, which is laid up for repairs. The Croatan was built at Paisley, Scotland, in 1881, and is constructed entirely of steel from boiler to masts and her decks are of the same metal, as are her cabins. She has twin screws, with two sets of engines and separate apparatus, of 800 horse-power, and has a steam pressure of eighty pounds to the square inch, and carries

She is a freight boat, but has elegant accommodations for fifteen cabin passengers, and also for four in the steerage. The quarters for the crew, of whom there are nineteen, are all abaft the engines and the cabins are forward, a very nice arrangement. She has six fine state-rooms and sixteen herths. Her hurricane deck, covered with awning, is a delightful resort. Capt. Pennington says the Clydes have recently purchased her from Mexican owners, put her in shape at a heavy outlay and this is her first trip under the new ownership. During her trip to this port she encountered a very ugly gale, but plowed right through it with scarcely a jar. Indeed. marks of salt water can now be seen near the top of her smokestack, but the storm never moved or phased her.

The first mate is Chas. Hale, the second Thos. Brown; the chief engineer J. Nishwitz, and his assistant, Chas. Linguist. The Croatan is decidedly one of the largest and prettiest boats that come to this port, and Wilmington may congratulate herself on the prospective egular trips of this splendid visitor.

Capt. Bixby to Leave Us.

The announcement made in the STAR'S Press dispatches this morning that Capt. W. H. Bixby, U. S. engineer in charge of government work on rivers and harbors in this district, had been ordered to another post of duty, will be heard with profound regret by many of our people. Setting aside the great work he has engineered and accomplished in deepening the water in the river and on the bar until this is now considered one of the most accessible ports on the coast, as a citizen he has closely identified himself with the welfare of the community and has given unstintedly of his time and means for many beneficent purposes. As president of the Wilmington Library Association he has been most persistent and indefatigable in his efforts to bring it to and maintain it upon a high plane of success, and his commendable efforts in this direction will be gratefully remembered and appreciated. Capt. Bixby, it is announced, will be succeeded by Maj. Wm. S. Stanton, now on duty at Boston, Mass.

OPERA HOUSE.

Mrs. General Tom Thumb and the Lilliputians.

The New York World says of this wonderful Company:

The inimitable little artists presented 'The Rivals" with new scenery and several novel innovations, and, as usual, they completely won the esteem of the auditors. There is no troupe of singing actors-big or little actors-that surpass these diminutive players in skill, versatility and savoir faire. They need ask no concessions on the score of stature, but taking that into consideration they are both wonderful and unique. Their hold on the affections of New York play-goers is remarkable.

They will appear at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday next, Oct. 30th and 31st, also at a grand family and school matinee at 3 o'clock. Besides the Lilliputian contingent there is a coterie of European and American refined specialty entertainers and the Imperial Japanese. The News and Courier, Charleston, S. C., Feb. 14th, 1891, says of the matinee:

There never was such a Friday matinee as that which was to be seen at the Grand Opera House yesterday afternoon. The crowd, composed mostly of ladies and children, was so great and the importunities of those who could not attend, principally the school children, were so pressing that Manager O'Neill, at some considerable trouble and expense, engaged Mrs. Gen. Tom Thumb and her company to prolong their engagement and remain in Charleston over to-day.

Clothing Needed.

Mrs. A. H. Holmes, member for this district of the Board of Lady Managers of the Soldier's Home, attended a recent meeting of the Board at Goldsboro. It was unanimously agreed that the most pressing need at present was for clothing and bed covering, and to supply want it was resolved that each lady manager should request the benevolently inclined people of her own district to contribute these articles as early as possible, before the rigors of bitter winter have punished the veteran inmates of the Home. Mrs. Holmes has herself contributed over 150 volumes of books for the library. and too much of this sort of literature cannot be given. Mrs. Holmes is the daughter of that gallant veteran and veterans' friend, Col. E. D. Hall. All contributions should be sent to Mrs. A. H. Holmes, this city.

Well Pleased Thereat. Capt. Nat. Atkinson, who returned last night with Dr. E. Porter, from an inspection of the oyster and fish industries of New River, in Onslow county, favored the STAR with a call. Capt. Atkinson glows with enthusiasm as he relates the wondrous revelations of "that beautiful sheet of water," as he calls New River. He is just fairly in love with everybody and everything in that country, and has shown his faith by inyesting his shekels there. Dr. Porter says the oysters have added considerably to the Captain's circumferential avoirdupois.
