The trial of A. D. McDougald, for the murder of Simeon Conoley, will be continued in the court at Fayetteville tomorrow. Intense excitement prevails at Guerdon, Ark., between whites and blacks; the former go armed, expecting momentary attack by the latter; in Thursday's rioting Marshal Huffman was slashed with a knife, and shot his assailant in the chest. Trinity College, N. C., beat the University of Virginia in a game of foot-ball for the championship of the South, at Richmond, Va. Suspicion that the failed firm of Field Lindley & Co., N. Y., had rehypothecated one million dollars of bonds has been confirmed; Field is said to be insane. The cotton crop in sight is 4,576,379 bales. In a riot at Yorkville, Ohio, between train men and Italian laborers, three of the latter were fatally wounded and two train men were hurt. The fastest time ever made by a railroad train between New York and Washington was accomplished yesterday over the Pennsylvania Railroad; the run was made in 240 minutes, the distance being 238 miles. New York markets: Money quoted easy; no loans, closing offered at 3 per cent. cotton easy; middling uplands 8 1-16, cents; middling Orleans 8 7-16 cents; Southern flour dull and weak; wheat weaker and dull for export; No. 3 red $1.05@1.05 1/4 in store and at elevator; corn weak, dull and 3c lower; No. 2, 75 cents at elevator; rosin dull, strained, common to good $1.35@1.40; spirits turpentine dull and weak at 34 1/2@35c.

Carmencita, the Spanish dancer, who has been making lots of money in this country cutting the light-fantastic, is thrifty. She has reduced expenses by marrying her boss fiddler.

T. C. Weeks, of Boston, who failed recently for $423,000, has compromised with his creditors at one mill on the dollar. After this transaction he ought to rank with the millionaires.

A man named Besezkenvoitz was arraigned in Philadelphia the other day for breaking his wife's jaw. With a jawbreaking fist Mr. Besezkenvoitz was a success.

Senator Ransom will be the senior Senator in the 52d Congress, having served continuously from April 24, 1872. Senators Jones, of Nevada, and Allison, of Iowa, come next, their service having begun March 4, 1873.

Minneapolis is long on wheat but she is short on coal. All the railroad cars that can be secured are loaded with grain, and there's no way of getting coal supplies. If this thing keeps up they will have to fall back on corn, Kansas fashion.

The St. Louis Republic says "one of the great conundrums in the West is why did the East Texas editors in their recent reunion return a basket of champagne unopened to the donor?" When Texas editors go away from home they like to vary their drinks, and they are not given much to shams anyway.

A mob of female Ohio people who destroyed an obnoxious house and nearly killed four of the inmates, we are informed by the local chronicler, "was composed of the best ladies of the town. If the 'best ladies' could get in their work in that state what would the plain, untutored Ohio feminine do if she spread herself and went out on the war-path?"

Ex-Senator Edmunds congratulates himself that he is "enjoying the full pleasures of the inalienable rights of American citizenship, untrammelled by the servitude of public station." It may be remarked, however, that the venerable gentleman hung on to the "servitude of public station" a "pretty smart" while and it never seemed to make him very sick.

Two young fellows in Kansas who were rivals for the hand of a girl decided that they would settle the rivalry by a fist and skull sociable, the whipped man to retire. The girl got a hint of it, slipped around where she could see the mill, and when one got the other down and was making pulp out of him, she appeared on the scene, ordered a cessation of hostilities, tongue-lashed the victor for a brute, and woman-like patched up the mashed fellow and married him.

LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted.

For other local see fourth page. The Germania Band will meet in full dress uniform at Adrian Hall Monday night at 8 o'clock. The Clinton Loan Association was not a building association but a banking institution—a private affair. Mr. John H. Barnard was a guest at the Orton, not the Purcell, as the STAR had him yesterday morning. There were no marriage licenses issued last week in this county for whites but four for colored couples. The Board of Managers of the Produce Exchange will hold their monthly meeting at noon Wednesday next. It is hardly necessary to suggest to the city authorities the importance of having some detectives on duty next week. Messrs. Williams & Murchison cleared the German barge Titan yesterday for Fleetwood, Eng., with 3,850 barrels of rosin valued at $4,899.50. The cemetery records last week were four interments in Oakdale, two adults and two children, and three adults and two children in Pine Forest (colored). The names of West & Co., B. F. Swann, Agent, and B. F. Penny have been handed in to add to the list of those who will have floats in the trade parade. Work on the welcome arch to span Front street at the intersection of Princess, is well under way and when erected will be a thing of beauty, if not a joy forever. The Weather Bureau reports a cold wave moving from the Northwest causing a decrease of several degrees in temperature in Nebraska. Clearing colder weather is predicted here. In the city court yesterday a defendant was required to pay $10 each in two cases, and $4.75 and $2.75 costs, and a case against Chas. Korngay colored, for disorderly conduct was dismissed. Justice Bunting suspended judgment in the case against Jos. Allison for disorderly conduct yesterday and required another defendant to pay the prosecution $30 in installments besides costs. Chief of Police Hall calls attention of all concerned to the city ordinance prohibiting persons obstructing sidewalks with boxes, cases, crates or other obstructions, and which will be rigidly enforced during Welcome Week. The C. F. & Y. V. R. R. will run two special excursion trains to Wilmington on account of Welcome Week—December 2d and 3d—returning at Wilmington at 11.10 a. m. and leaving at 5.00 p. m. on Wednesday and 11 p. m. on Thursday. Baptist Union Meeting. The union meeting of the Eastern Association of the Missionary Baptist church met with the church at Barlow's Chapel, Onslow county, Friday, and had a most successful session, attended by large crowds, who received great spiritual comfort. The hospitality of the section was extended to all with a hearty welcome un-mixed by the good cheer of the noble matrons, so noted for their excellent cuisine and well laden boards. Rev. R. E. Peelle, of the Brooklyn Baptist Church of this city was a recipient of their kindness and assures the reporter that it is one of the best neighborhoods in the State.

Weather Forecasts.

The following are the forecasts for to-day: For Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, decidedly cold, north-west winds, with cold wave, fair weather Sunday, except light rains in extreme southeast portions early Sunday morning; colder and fair Monday; light frosts will occur on the coast Sunday night. For Georgia, decidedly colder, north winds, with cold wave, fair weather Sunday, except light rains Sunday morning in extreme southeast portions; frosts will occur on the coast and in Northern Florida Sunday night; colder and fair Monday.

CONOLEY MURDER TRIAL.

ABLE ARGUMENTS BY DISTINGUISHED COUNSEL.

Court Adjourned Till Monday—Maj. Shaw and Solicitor McNeill Yet to Speak. [Special Star Report.] FAYETTEVILLE, Nov. 28.—Col. W. F. French continued his argument on the reassembling of Court, concluding at 10.30 o'clock. Hon. Alfred Rowland, ex-Congressman from the Sixth district, of counsel for the prosecution, followed Col. French. In this city he is one of the most esteemed of public men in North Carolina; and while it is Fayetteville's busiest day in the week, a very large crowd occupied every available space in the Court room during his exhaustive review of the testimony, and an address which could have emanated only from a well-equipped and thoroughly finished lawyer. Col. Rowland's carriage and presence at the bar are imposing—embodying the dignity that impels respect, with the suavity and affability of manner which persuades a jury, just as they make him so winning among men generally. Adjourned to dinner, and Col. Rowland not yet finished. AFTERNOON SESSION. Special Star Telegram. Able speeches were made in the afternoon. Jno. G. Shaw, a young lawyer of the Fayetteville bar, concluded his argument in a very earnest appeal in behalf of the prisoner. It has given him quite a reputation. The Court adjourned at 5 p. m. till Monday. Maj. Jno. D. Shaw and Solicitor McNeill are still to speak. The case will probably not go to the jury before Monday night or Tuesday morning. A New Industry Started Up. Steam was let on Friday afternoon, the whirl of rapidly revolving machinery resounded through the building, and a new industry was born and full fledged, in Wilmington, in the rice mill of W. P. Oldham & Co. The preliminary work was begun September 22nd; the mill stones and mortars were obtained in New Orleans; five sets of elevators from Chicago, ten grades of wire and belting from New York, the castings, gearing for polisher and blast for chaff from Baltimore, and pulleys from Richmond. The rice before it is ready for market passes up and down from first to third floor five times through the elevators; first into a screen with three grades of wire to separate the false seed, "tadpoles" and sand; the next grade divides the large and small grains and places them in different bins over the mill stones, which hull them, then into the screen, which lets out the "douse" and small grain; the fan then takes it and blows out the chaff, then it is pounded in the three mortars for half an hour and the elevators throw it into screen No. 3, which throws off the "douse" and divides the rice; thence through a fan into the polisher, from which it goes into an elevator and through the separator, making four grades of marketable stuff obtained from rice. The machinery works beautifully and Capt. Oldham showed a STAR representative over the mill with the pride worthy of such an enterprise.

NOT DISCOURAGING.

The City and County and the Suspended First National Bank—The City Sinking Fund Safe, but the County Educational Fund Looked Up.

To allay all fears, so far as the city is concerned in the suspension of the First National Bank, the STAR is glad to be able to state that the sinking fund has never been placed in the custody of that bank. It was published in this paper yesterday that the city had deposited about $4,000 in the bank to meet a note against the city for $5,000 falling due December 1st. This is all the money the city had in the bank. The county, however, had $15,424.62 of the educational fund deposited there and this may cause some delay in the payment of the salaries of the public school teachers. It has been suggested that a loan, or advance, might be secured by hypothecating the certificate of deposit. At all events, the teachers, generally, can ill afford to await the declaration of a dividend to depositors; if some such arrangement can be made, the teachers will rise up and call the authorities blessed. The good to be accomplished would, at least, justify the attempt. It is needless to say the suspension of the First National Bank affects in no way whatever the erection of the proposed new county court house, as it will be built by bonds issued for the purpose. The small difference required to complete the structure, that will be drawn from the general fund, will not retard it, as it is expected the county will realize from the general fund, in dividends, or have other moneys by the time the bond funds are exhausted. On the whole, the outlook is not discouraging.

INJURIOUS GOSSIP AND OFTEN SLANDER.

The thoughtless tongue often bears a sting, though unintentional, more poisonous than that of the fabled asp, and often as fatal in its effects as the bite of the deadly cobra of India. To illustrate, a STAR reporter was informed yesterday that a certain reputable business man had certainly made an assignment, and the informant's information was obtained from very prudent and responsible parties. This man was in no sense a gossipier. The reporter hurried to the county records to ascertain if the report was true. Nothing had been heard of it by the Register of Deeds or his clerk. As it happened, the general attorney of the alleged assignor was in the office and he laughingly stated that his client had visited him several times during the day and on a wholly different business, and this had, doubtless, set the tongues of thoughtless persons assigning, as his client had no idea of assigning. So, a visit to a lawyer, in the way of ordinary business, seems enough to bring down on a man a report that must injure his credit, and possibly, seriously affect his business. Did it ever occur to these imprudent persons, that just at this time, following on the heels of the First National Bank failure, they are damaging the business interests of the entire city? Men should at this time, of all times, be exceedingly prudent in speech, and careful how they help to spread reports of failures. Never was the adage more apposite, than now, that "silence is golden." You cannot hurt a whole without affecting every individual part and not only is the city in its entirety injured by false reports, but each individual has his credit impaired. Let us rebuke gossip and await facts. For the Star.

IMPORTANT OYSTER DECISION.

We notice in the Richmond Dispatch of the 25th instant, under the above caption, the "acquittal of parties accused of taking oysters from the staked off planting grounds of White & Fleming (in the Virginia waters) on the plea that the stakes were on the oyster rocks which belonged to the public. White & Fleming had been paying rent to the State for these lands six years and had expended large sums of money in planting oysters thereon, yet the decision practically throws them out of possession." Mr. Editor, when we remember it is only those well acquainted with the immense profits of the oyster culture who are in planting oysters on grounds that are only rented from the State at the risk of losing all, upon the plea that oysters grew there before, it would seem to suggest to the business men and capitalists of your city, that there must be a big thing in it when the business can be made perfectly safe, as in Onslow county. Here the lands are owned in fee; all questions of natural beds being settled by the shell-fish commissioners of the county and their certificate under oath sent to the Secretary of State, with the plot and entry, before grants are issued for the grounds. There are no finer oyster lands in the world than are found in New River, and no section where public sentiment is as well educated in the cultivation of the oyster on private lands. We want help to develop this mine of wealth. All are welcome and wanted, as every arriving stranger coming among us will testify. ONSLOW.

Famous Festival For Friends.

Wilmington's Welcome Week, beginning next Tuesday, December 1st, will be recorded in the annals for all time, as the most famous festival for friends ever inaugurated within the confines of noble old North Carolina. Every member of every committee has girt his loins for the supreme effort of his life in making such a show that to behold it will be to have an ineradicable impression of the joyous occasion produced upon the mind. It will be a sweet memory in which one will love to revel and luxuriate, only eclipsed by the pleasure of the hope to have it repeated. While the committeemen have "fought like heroes, long and well" to compass the widest scope of success, private citizens are now called upon to rise to the sublimity of supreme patriotism and the magnificent acme of local pride and decorate their dwellings along the line of march, to be admired of visitors by day, and illuminate them to dazzle the enraptured eye at night during the parades. Don't forget, now; let everybody decorate and illuminate who possibly can. Wilmington should don her best holiday attire, and though a little aged, in comparison with some other cities, she will be as sprightly and winsome as the gayest. SUNDAY SERVICES. St. James' Church—First Sunday in Advent—at 11 a. m. Litany, Sermon, Holy Communion; 4:30 p. m., children's service; 7:30 p. m. Evening Prayer and Sermon. Sunday School at 4 p. m. Ushers will be glad to show strangers to seats. At night, seats free. The subject of the morning discourse in the Lutheran church will be "The Unruly Member," and at night "The Christian and Socialism." Both services will be English. The services in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, corner Market and Sixth streets, Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, D. D., pastor, to-day will be in English both at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. All are welcome at the services. Scandinavian services at 3:30 p. m. Services to-day at St. Paul's church, Fourth street, corner of Orange, as follows: First Sunday in advent—Morning service and Holy Communion, 11 o'clock; Evening Prayer and Sermon, 7:30 o'clock; Sunday School, 3:30 p. m. All seats are free. There will be services at the Seamen's Bethel this afternoon, commencing at 3:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. W. Craig. The public are invited, especially are all the masters of vessels and their crews requested to be present. Services in St. John's church to-day—Advent Sunday—Morning Prayer, Sermon and Holy Communion at 11 a. m.; Evening Prayer at 5 p. m. Sunday School at 4 p. m. Services at St. James' Home, corner of Eighth and Orange streets, to-day, as follows: Morning, 11 a. m., Sunday school, 8:30 p. m., Evening Prayer, 7:30 p. m. Seats free and public invited. COLORED CHURCHES. Rev. L. T. Christmas will administer the ordinance of baptism this morning at 8:30 o'clock, at Queen street dock. The Opening Signal. The STAR has been asked to request every owner of every steam whistle, whether on land or water, in or near the city, to sound a loud, lingering blast exactly at 9 a. m., Tuesday, to announce the opening of Wilmington's Welcome Week. It would be well to have a general understanding of a preconcerted signal, some central whistle, by which all others may be governed, as the various time-pieces doubtless vary. The Governor's Guard Not Coming. It will be seen, by reference to the Raleigh letter, published in another column, that the Governor's Guard will not be present next week to contest in the prize drill. This is very much regretted, as the presence of so fine a body of guardsmen would have enhanced the pleasure and glory of the occasion. Special Attention for the Wilmington Welcome Week. All who attended the Raleigh Exposition will remember the sensation of the Galatea entertainment. The people of Wilmington will be given an opportunity to witness this most wonderful exhibition all during the next week at Mr. C. M. Whitlock's old stand on Second street between Market and Princess, beginning to-morrow (Monday) night. Doors open at seven o'clock. Admission to this grand and beautiful entertainment is only 10 cents. MARRIED. EVANS—STRICKLAND—Mr. W. R. EVANS and Mrs. SARAH J. STRICKLAND were married on the 25th inst., at the residence of the bride, 1113 North Fourth street, Rev. R. E. Peelle, officiating.
