One of the unkindest cuts that Mr. Harrison has yet received is the organization of that crowd of Indiana Republicans to boom Blaine for the Presidency.

Boston is not complaining much of the English sparrow for she has discovered the art of converting the little pest into Boston potpie and pronounces it good.

If Mr. Crisp's qualifications for the Speakership are to be judged from the excellence-brevity and marrow-of his speech on taking the chair, he will be a success.

The Russian grip seems to have got a clinch on the Berliners, and the burgers of Hamburg. From the way it is getting in its work over there, it is nothing to be sneezed at.

The latest fish story comes from Missouri where a fishermen playing for suckers hooked an old coffee pot which contained $670 in gold coin. That was a sort of gold fish haul.

The Chattanooga merchants are levelheaded. A number of them have banded together and secured a rate from the railroads of one and onethird cents a mile to bring the people to that town to do their Christmas trading.

Between the high tariff and the rock salt produced this country ought to be pretty well salted. The output of rock salt is 7,000 tons a day, but with this the salt men want to form a trust and salt us some

The mails in this country are carried over 159,518 miles of railway, and postal clerks are employed on 140,736 miles of road in distributing mails, and reading postal cards. The department has control of 2,891 cars, 2,300 of which are in constant use.

If it be true, as stated, that Mr Gladstone received a check for £10,000 from a London soap maker for endorsing his soap, the old gentleman was pretty well soaped. Eyen as great a man as Gladstone could stand such checks occasionally in his

The New York Advertiser agrees to pay $500 insurance on any one found dead with a copy of the Advertiser of that day on his or her person, whereupon a spiteful Philadelphia paper remarks that $500 would be no equivalent to one found dead with a copy of that paper on him.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XLIX.--NO. 68.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1891.

A Lowell, Mass., man who didn't think he would have much use for his body after he was dead, struck a trade with a doctor by which for ten dollars cash he agreed to let the doctor have his corpse, for anatomical purposes. He afterwards went to South America, got rich, wants to spend the balance of his days at home, enjoy himself, and when he dies be decently buried instead of being carved up by a doctor man. But the doctor sticks to the bargain and will not release him, even at a premium. There is only two things for this man to do, either emigrate or stay alive just to spite the doctor.

Tailors had better be careful how they tool with dudes. An Indianapolis tailor who sued one for a bill of clothes got judgment but couldn't find anything to make it out of, posted it in his show window with a note stating that it could not be collected and would be sold cheap. Then the dude turned the tables by suing for $5,000 damages and got judgment, the Court holding that to advertise a debt was libelous.

If the pupils in the Chicago public schools are to be sent home because they eat onions, what is going to become of the rising generation of that town? If some one does not come along and invent an odorless onion, Chicago will have to employ teachers who run more on sense and less on scent.

A book has just been published in New York entitled "Shall Girls Propose." We don't think there ought to be anything compulsory about it. but that it ought to be left entirely to them. If they did propose they would sometimes help a bashful man powerfully when it comes to talking business.

One of the best evidences of the sanity of the Emperor of Germany is the fact, as alleged, that he is not right sure he isn't somewhat cracked.

W. W. W. Ratification Meeting.

Don't forget the ratification meeting which will be held at the City Court room to-night at 8 o'clock sharp. Every business man is earnestly requested to be present, by the Wilmington Welcome Week Executive Committee.

This meeting, if well attended, will be a great help in making the W. W. W. a grander success next year than was the

For the Foundation. A large number of pine logs, brought down the river by rafts, are being landed at the foot of Orange street. They are to be used as piling, in making a sure foundation for the new court house for the county of New Hanover at the corner of Third and Princess streets, and work upon which will soon be under THE MONEY QUESTION.

A Superabundance of Capital in New York, but a Great Scarcity in the South.

The Savannah News, while evidently realizing the fact that money is very scarce in the South, seems disposed to take a somewhat hopeful view of the general situation, as may be seen by the following:

The banks in New York city have more money than they know what to do with. It is accumulating in that city much more rapidly than is usual at this time of the year, and this fact is a source of considerable anxiety to New York capitalists.

A president of a prominent financial institution on Broadway is quoted in a New York letter to the Philadelphia Times as follows: "During the past few days we have been compelled to do some pretty lively work in they way of drumming up customers to borrow from us our surplus cash. Any person who can give good security need have no difficulty in obtaining loans at a moderate rate of interest. The principal demand for capital at present comes from the South."

It seems a little remarkable that money should be plentiful and so cheap in New York and so scarce in the South. The South had good crops last year and has good crops this year. The amount of cotton that is now finding its way to market is unprecedentedly great, and, although the price received for it is low, it ought to make money easier in all parts of the South. And the rice crop in this State and in Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana is a good one, and Florida will have the biggest orange crop in her

With such a condition of affairs money ought to be more plentiful in the South than it is. Perhaps a little later on, when the greater part of the cotton crop will have been sold, there will be less reason to complain of the scarcity of money. And as confidence in the financial stability of the country becomes firmer New York capitalists will be less averse to investing and loaning their money in the South. There is al ready noticeable a disposition on the part of New York financial institutions to loan money on good real estate security in Southern cities at 6 per cent. The Morning News mentioned one of them the other day that was loaning money in this city at that rate. The outlook for a marked increase in the amount of money in circulation in the South is certainly promising.

Stop It, Boys.

Some of the boys have already begun their Christmas deviltry. Families on Fifth street were much annoyed Tuesday night by having their door-bells rung; but, worse still, their houses were bombarded with stones and other missiles. Every boy engaged in this mode of amusement is old enough to know that his conduct is reprehensible, and some steps should be taken to abate the nuisance, or it may end in something the boys and their parents will never cease to regret. Not every householder will sit quietly down and permit bad boys to smash his doors and windows, and it may be well for the youngsters to be warned in time.

The best preventive, probably, will be for parents to keep the small boys at home at night, unless they are accompanied by some one who can control

Southport Items

The surveyor for the Brunswick. Western & Southern Railroad has completed the survey from Wilmington to Southport and General Manager Dougherty of the road tells the Leader "that if the county votes the bonds for the railroad, Southporters will see lively work in their town in a few weeks."

Large numbers of ducks are reported in the marshes back of Oak Island. The canning company are making large shipments of clams, oysters and clam juices nearly every day. The application of the Cape Fear &

Cincinnati Railroad Company for a subscription to its stock, of $100,000 by the county, was formally withdrawn by the vice president, Geo. B. Morton.

Ladies' Exchange.

The "Ladies' Exchange," on Fourth between Market and Dock streets, is attracting a good many customers, but the number should be increased. As its name indicates, it is a place where articles of many varieties are sold on commission. In addition to this, orders or lunches, ice cream, cakes and other delicacies are promptly filled. The Exchange is managed by some of the ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and all the profits are devoted to charitable La Grippe." The doctors have their time and attention pretty much occupied just now with the many cases of influenza or "la grippe," in the city. The disease yields readily to treatment, and patients are generally confined to the house but a few days. An attack of "la grippe" is not to be sneezed at, however, for it leaves the sufferer weak and debilitated. Its first symptom, generally, is a severe chill, followed by high and continued fever, with intense aching pains in the head, back and limbs.

- Cotton receipts here yesterday were 995 bales, against receipts of 633 bales the same date last year.

The Ice and Snow Carnival.

The entertainment given by the Ladies' Concordia Society was concluded last night. Throughout it was a most successful affair, the attendance being large each evening, and the visitors well pleased with the enjoyment afforded. The committee having matters in charge are exceedingly well pleased with the results-both socially and financially. At ten o'clock nearly all the articles remaining on hand were raffled for and many handsome prizes were secured, among them being a valuable gold ring, a handsome sofa cushion, an exquisite lambrequin, a silver pin, a beautiful doll, table covers and

The evening's entertainment closed with a grand hop, participated in by all present, about fifty couples being upon the floor at one time. Prof. Miller's orchestra furnished the music.

In yesterday's report of the entertainment given the previous evening the names of Mrs. Sam Bear and Miss Kate Westermann, who presided with others at the tables, were inadvertantly omitted.

RIVER AND MARINE.

The New York Maratime Register reports the following: "Captain Davis, of the British steamship North Angelia, reports to Ensign French, United States Navy, in charge of the branch hydrographic office at Baltimore, a peculiarity of the sea of which there has been no similar record made. The steamer arrived at Baltimore November 21 from Tybee, S. C. On the 19th, off Hatteras, in the Gulf Stream, while the ship's bow was in smooth water there was a strong northeast gale blowing off the vessel's starboard quarter. There was no disagreement in barometers, which is cited as another phenomena."

The Industrial Works,

The Industrial Manufacturing Company are having the biggest sort of a boom. The works are now run to their full capacity, having orders for their products sufficient to keep them constantly engaged for several months. They are filling orders now principally for tinned butter dishes, orange boxes, banana crates and fish boxes. An enlargement of the plant seems to be a necessity.

Entirely Successful. The Favetteville Observer says of Wilmington's Welcome Week: "We are glad to know that Wilmington's 'Welcome Week' was attended with the most gratifying success, creditably illustrating the enterprise and good taste of its citizens, and delightfully emphasizing its wonted generous hospitality. The Favetteville people who went down, were, without exception, delighted with all that they saw and enjoyed during their

COTTON FACTS AND FIGURES.

- Net receipts at all U. S. ports yesterday 43,646 bales.

- Middling cotton is quoted in Wadesboro at 71/2 cents. - Spot cotton was quiet in New York; middling 8 1-16c per pound. - The crop of Anson county is reported nearly all gathered and sold.

- Middling cotton quiet on the Wilmington market at 71/4c per pound. Quotations, same date last year, 8 1-16

-Mr. Alfred B. Shepperson, the statistician, well known in Wilmington, says. in his new edition of "Cotton Facts." that "it is probable the actual American cotton crop or 1890-91 was fully 8,900,-000 bales."

- Cotton futures in New York closed dull but steady on a few points decline from the opening, December opened dull at 7.73 and closed at 7.72: January 7.87 and closed at 7.84; February 8.04 and closed at 8.01; March 8.20 and closed at 8.16.

- New York Bulletin: No one is willing to sell to any extent at ruling rates, because of the belief that on basis of present values there would be considerable flurry upon evidence of shrinking tendency of receipts, but an idea prevails that by the time the movement does commence to show signs of falling away, there will be so many shorts and so many longs that the pressure to' realize is likely to put values on the weak schedule instead of generating the general boom so many have calculated upon.
