FALSE PRETENCE.

Case Against Mr. John C. Davis Con-

The case of false pretence against Mr. John C. Davis, a popular young lawyer of this city, was called for hearing by Justice R. H. Bunting, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his office on Second between Princess and Chesnut streets, Mr. Davis has had many friends, and hence an immense crowd gathered, all anxious to know the result of the arrest. Col. A. M. Waddell appeared in behalf of the State, and Messrs. John D. Bellamy and Thos. W. Strange for the defendant.

The attorney for the prosecution stated that he had just been called in and could not proceed until he had made an examination of all the matters connected with the case. The defence offered affidavit that "he verily believed that he could not obtain justice before his Honor Justice R. H. Bunting and asked that his case be removed for hearing before some other justice of the peace of New Hanover county," whereupon Justice Bunting set the case for hearing at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning before Honerable John J. Fowler, J.

The witnesses present on behalf of the State were Mrs. E. J. Fanning, and her sister, Miss Way, Dr. T. F. Wood, David G. Worth and John Haar, Jr., Register of Deeds, with one of the Record books. There were no witnesses summoned for the defence. The defendant was taken by the Sheriff and kept in custody at his office until after nine p. m., and many opportunities were given him to see different parties in order to secure bond, but upon failure he was committed to jail. The bond required in this case was $750.00, bui another warrant was - The Wilmington Savings and issued later in the evening and placed in case the defendant gave the bond in the first case. The bond in the second case was $500.00.

A great deal of excitement prevails over the arrest of Mr. Davis, as he was a prominent member of Fifth Street M. E. Church South, of this city.

In 1889 he was a delegate to the International Sunday School Convention that met in London; and at that time he made an extended trip through the Old World. Soon after he returned he professed to make large donations of property and money to his church in order to build a new house of worship and provide the same with elegant chairs, a large organ, chimes and other articles of comfort and pleasure.

He led the choir and organized a brass band and other orchestra for furnishing music for worship-he securing the instruments for the same.

He held several offices in the church, including those of trustee, steward and superintendent of the Sunday School, as well as being a teacher of a large class of young ladies.

All the donations he professed to make from his own personal means, aggregated the sum of from $30,000 to $40,000. It was well known that Mr. Davis was a man of small means and many rumors began to float, until at last a committee was appointed by the church to investigate the matter, when it was found that the church was in debt over $30,000, after having been dedicated as free from all incumbrance. Many persons, mostly widows; orphans and laborers, are reported as being sufferers at the hands of Mr. Davis, and claims estimated at $60,000 have been placed in the hands of other attorneys for collection. The principal question now asked about the streets is what has become of the enormous sum of money-near $100,-

The Sheriff's officers in charge of the prisoner, say that he attempted to escape while in their custody, and had reached the street door of the Court house when Deputy Sheriff Sheehan halted him and conducted him back to the Sheriff's office, from whence, a few minutes later, he was taken to jail.

- Savannah Press: Mr. James Barrett, of Richmond county, has furnished to the Press an address adopted by the recent cotton growers' convention in Atlanta to the people of the cotton States. The circular declares that bankruptcy is staring the cotton producer in the face, brought about by overproduction and contraction in all values. It calls upon all cotton exchanges to act with cotton growers. All transportation companies are urged not to receive cotton unless it is well packed or fully covered; factors are called upon to take better care of cotton. The circular does not call for reduction of the acreage below the consumption of the world—such a course would check consumption and stimulate the culture of cotton in other countries, which would bring about a return of low prices.

acted very much of late as though operators were both worked out and talked out. The first idea is suggested by the limited amount of trade accomplished and the latter by the absence of anything really new in the theoretical position of the opposing interests. The bear element has had the assistance of the large stocks of cotton at all points, with a liberal addition appearing at the ports during the week and nothing in the interior movement to indicate a serious check to the amounts coming from the plantations while the actual consuming call, as indicated by a sifting of all reports, although fair, has not been full enough to afford an equitable compensation for the amounts offering. The ruling price, however, and precedents of former years in matter of shrinking supply have prevented much selling for a decline and failed to bring back the short interest eliminated at the close of

STREET FIGHT BETWEEN W. GRIMSLEY AND REV. J. T. ABER-

Both Men Hit-The Preacher Dangerously Wounded-Public Sentiment in Favor of Mr. Abernathy-Grimsley's Escape from Arrest.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Dec. 15 .- W. E. Grimsley, living near Snow Hill, in this county, who on the 8th inst. shot Rev. J. T. Abernathy for kissing his (Grimsley's) wife, made a second assault on Abernathy on the streets of Snow Hill yesterday. Abernathy was on the street for the first time since being shot in the face with a gun. Grimsley saw him and with oaths began firing at him with a pistol. Abernathy drew a pistol and returned the fire. Abernathy was struck on the left cheek with a 36-calibre ball, which passed through and came out back of his neck. It is feared the wound will prove fatal. Grimsley was struck in the leg, but has fled and cannot be found. The sentiment of the community in which these shootings have occurred is strongly on the side of Abernathy, who alleges that he only kissed Mrs. Grimsley good-bye in a fatherly manner, as he was leaving her. The people do not believe there was the slightest criminality between them. Grimsley's father so expresses himself and declares his belief in the entire innocency of Abernathy and Mrs. Grimsley.
