The Australian ballot may be all right, but the Australian grip isn't.

If Hon. Stephen B. Elkins makes as efficient Secretary of War as he was a political pirate he'll be a daisy.

That Chicago doctor who boasted some time ago of having captured the grip microbe seems to have turned it loose.

special message at Congress. The friends of young Norcross, of Boston, who has been identified as the man who wanted to pulverize Russell Sage, say he was a model young man, with no bad habits. But there is no telling what bean dirt will finally culminate in. Senator Plumb, of Kansas, does not propose to let his Alliance colleague get ahead of him on the pension question, and has therefore introduced a bill to remove the limitation on arrears. He may perhaps follow this up with a bill to turn the keys of the treasury over to the pen-

The treasury has paid out up to date $30,000 as sugar bounties under the McKinley law. But this is only a small part of the $3,000,000 now due the Louisiana planters, and which they are not getting nearly as fast as they would like to, because cash is short in the treasury or for some other unexplained reason.

A New York preacher, with the innocent name of Virgin, wants somebody to take Gov. Hill to the precipices of the world and fling him into the abyss of eternity. This is cruel. A man with such a nice name as that should not make such savage flings as that at a poor unprotected Gover-

Gov. Hill's friends seem to be apprehensive that some one will throw a brick, or a bomb, or something of that sort at him, have him guarded by detectives without his knowledge. When they get to putting detectives behooves him to move with a good deal of circumspection, to protect himself.

The Philadelphia Record, which is one of the best papers in this country, is out early with its almanac for 1892. These almanacs are intended for presentation to the Record subscribers, and are valuable, being compendiums of a good deal of useful information. The illustrations in the almanac for '92 consist of notable landmarks of the early days of Philadelphia.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XLIX.--NO. 75. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1891.

When commenting upon the tragic bomb-throwing incident which occurred in Russell Sage's office in New York, we remarked that we would not be surprised to hear of several imitations in a short while. There have already been three or four in this country, where the bomb, however, has not been called into play. A few days ago a crank walked into a Hartford, Conn., bank with a big satchel and demanded $2,500,000 in large bills to put into it. Some of the employes diverted his attention by pretending to get the money, while others slipped around, pounced upon him, tied him folk, Va., the clever passenger agent of up and sent him to the calaboose. A similar case to that in New York

Will-making has become such an uncertain business in New York that two half sisters of Mrs. A. T. Stewart who inherited $5,000,000 from her, besides an annuity of $10,000 each, having six nephews and nieces to whom to leave the $5,000,000, to avoid the mishaps of wills have sold the $5,000,000 worth of property to the aforesaid nephews and nieces for the sum of $1, in hand paid, and have made clear titles to the same, the old ladies retaining only the $10,000 on which they think they can scuffle along. Now if some other claimant don't pop up and have them pronounced insane this little trade may stand and deprive the will breaking lawyers of a job.

has just occurred in Berlin, where a

MAILING CHRISTMAS GOODS. Instructions to Senders-Circular from the Post Office People.

The postoffice employes are beginning to feel the movement of the holiday business. It is a little early yet for the rush of gifts, but the mails for the last three weeks have been loaded with Christmas correspondence and orders. The postoffice people and those who use the mails always have a good deal of trouble during the holiday season about letters and packages reaching their destination, and a good deal of this trouble is owing to a lack of proper directions and making up of the packages. The postoffice instructions on this line are very plain. The Department has sent out the following cir-

"The season is approaching when the mails will be filled with holiday presents, and a great many are unnecessarily lost, delayed or damaged each year because of the indifferent manner in which they are prepared for mailing.

'Newspapers or other thin paper should never be used for wrapping, and packages as ordinarily wrapped where purchased are not sufficiently secure for forwarding in the mails.

"Use strong papers, make a solid package that will not crush easily; tie well with good twine; address legibly and correctly with ink on the lower right hand corner, and very few packages will fail to reach destination in good condi-

"It is always advisable to place the name and address of the sender on the upper left hand corner of all packages etc., sent in the mails, so they may be returned in case the addresses cannot be found. Postal statistics show that more delays result from incorrect addresses than from errors in distribution by postal employes.

"In case of loss or delay, report the same to your postmaster with all the information that can be given.'

TYROLESE CONCERT.

Success.

A repitition of the Tyrolese Concert and ladies' entertainment was given yesterday afternoon, and again attracted a large number of visitors. The programme as rendered was as follows: Piano Solo by Miss Eliza Adrian; charmingly rendered and loudly ap-

Solo, by Miss Annie Stolter "Ecstacy;" a song of rare beauty, which elicited much comment. "Symphony," by the Tyrolese Concert Company; one of the grandest features of the concert. "Home, Sweet Home," by Misses Annie Stolter, Elese Bissinger, Maggie

Peschau and Kate Stolter, composing the Tyrolese female quartette. It was beautifully rendered. After the concert the audience rewhere refreshments in great variety were paired to the different dining parlors served at reduced rates, and until nothing was left. This ended the series of Tyrolese Concerts given by the ladies of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, A large sum of money was realized and at each entertainment all who were present seemed well pleased and expressed a desire that another entertainment should be given soon.

OPERA HOUSE.

"The Pay Train" on the Boards for Tues day Night,

The beautiful comedy drama "The Pay Train," will be produced at the Opera House on Tuesday, Dec. 22d, and a rare treat is in store for theatre goers. The company is a most excellent one, headed by the charming soubrette Miss Florence Bindley, who is supported by a cast of rare excellence. The scenic effects are marvelous and must be seen to be appreciated; several of the most prominent ones are, the interior of a From Coal Mine in full operation; the Realistic Boiler Explosion and Wreck of the Incline Plane Truck, which dashes to the stage from the dome filling the stage with smoke and debris as natural as the real thing itself; the most phenomenal of all is the Railroad Effect; a full train of cars dashes across the stage at full speed, and is uncoupled in full view of the audience; the Pay Car is immediately lighted up, showing the action in the car; the company carries a full Electric Dynamo for this purpose. This drama is conceded by press and public Florida, will probably cause brisk to to be the most realistic of all mechanihigh northeast winds off the N. C. cal dramas. cal dramas.

National Bank Notes. Mr. Alden, the examiner, will not complete his labors in the First National Bank until some time next week.

A Receiver has, no doubt, been apnointed, and may be daily expected.

This is the construction the STAR places upon the Associated Press telegram printed yesterday: The condition of the bank is such that the interests of creditors require that a Receiver take charge at the earliest possible moment.

The STAR does not share in the opinion now quite general, that creditors will suffer any material loss. In fact, from general information, it seems fair to conclude that, with prudent management, they cannot lose more than 25 per cent., and they have a fair chance of receiving the full amount of their claims.

RAILROAD NOTES.

- A dispatch from Managua, Nicaragua, says that Messrs. Thornton & Strong, of Chicago, have contracted with the Government to build a railroad from Managua to Metagalpa, via the town of Rio Grande, a distance of about 200 miles. The Government cedes 2,000,000 acres of land with the privilege of using the Government railroad tracks from Carinto to Momotomboa. Other valuable concessions are included. The line will run through a rich coffee

- The Department of Transportation of the World's Fair is offered a valuable relic of the early days of railroading in this country and will doubtless secure it for an exhibit. The old locomotive "Sampson," built in England in "the thirties" by the celebrated Timothy Hackworth and brought to this country in 1838, is still in existence and in working order. Accompanying it is a quaint old passenger car built in imitation of a stage coach, both standing on some of the old scolloped or fish belly rails. The engineer who first ran the locomotive is still alive, and if still living at the time of the World's Fair, may accompany the venerable engine.

- President Ashley, of the Wabash Railroad, has the following to say in his annual report: That railways must be permitted to earn a fair rate of interest on the capital invested, or construction of new lines must cease. This result, while beneficial to railway property in the older and densely populated States, would be fatal to the new States and Territories and prejudicial to the interests of the South, where the railway development is comparatively in the early stages of progress. In States where railways are crippled by low rates, whether as the result of competition or of hostile legislation, the prosperity of such State must be checked in the ratio of adverse conditions imposed upon the agencies of transportation. If the railways are forced to economize by unprofitable rates the burden of the economy must be borne by the employes, either in the reduction of wages or in the reduction of the number employed. Inadequate profits, resulting in forced economies on the part of railway companies, will certainly prevent the adoption of improvements which should be constantly added to the safety and comfort of passengers and for the expeditious movement of freight.

COTTON FACTS AND FIGURES.

- Futures closed quiet in New York vesterday at an advance of a few points on opening figures. December opened at 7.50 and closed at 7.54; January 7.61 closed at 7.63: February 7.78, closed at 7.80; March 7.93, closed at 7.96.

- Cotton receipts at Wilmington for the week ended yesterday are 7,507 bales, against 4,956 for corresponding week last year. Receipts for the crop year to Dec. 18th, 125,588, against 139,081 bales to same date last season.

- Charleston News and Courier While the receipts of cotton at this port continue gratifyingly large, prices continue to be very low, and there is but little prospect of their increasing again in the very near future. The principal cause for the depression in the market is unquestionably the heavy receipts not only at this but at all the ports, and while the receipts continue large the farmers can hope for but little improvement in the market it seems. The price for middling has decreased from 71/4 last week to 71%, and it is feared by many that the price will not go up very soon. Many farmers and other sellers are holding their cotton rather than dispose of it at the present figure offered them. How long this condition off affairs can last is a matter of the purest conjecture, and no factor can be found who will pretend to say that prices have now reached bottom figures, or who will attempt to predict when they will again begin to mount upward.

RICE CROP ESTIMATES.

the Circular of Dan Talmage's Sons-Prices Now About One Cent

Below The Foreign Article. Dan Talmage's Sons, of New York, in a circular dated December 10, give a statement of the rice crop and requirments of the United States, showing the annual cousumption in barrels and bags to be 800,000, as follows: North Carolina.....

South Carolina..... 90.000 Georgia...... 40.000 Louisiana..... 350,000 505,000

The circular goes on to say that the history of the rice crop is nearly the same every year. It is an "old, old story," and those of the trade who have a good memory, large head and long purse, profit thereby. As receipts become free and enlarge, stocks gradually accumulate and prices steadily fall

It matters not whether the crop is abundant or scant, planters with maturing liabilities must sell. Low values are thus brought about and prevail un-til January. The advance once begun rarely ceases until the opening of the subsequent crop. December prices of this year are 34 to 1 cent below the foreign article,
