Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted. The minimum temperature yesterday was 42 degrees, and the maximum 67. Mayor Ricaud's office at the City Hall is undergoing renovation, and is to be refurbished. Capt. F. M. James, Superintendent, reports twelve interments, all colored, in Oak Grove Cemetery last month. There were three adults and nine children. Mr. George Schnibben, brother of Messrs. Charles and Martin Schnibben, was a passenger on the steamer Pawnee which arrived here Monday night from New York. The Criminal Court will meet on the third Monday in March—the 21st—and not on the 15th of February, as appeared in the published proceedings of the Board of Commissioners. Schooner E. M. Watts, Capt. Stevens, which put in at Southport a few weeks ago in distress, from Cuba, with sugar, cleared yesterday for Delaware Breakwater for orders. A colored man named Cephus Finch was reported as having been cut last evening in Brooklyn. He received a knife cut about two inches long on his right shoulder. It is only a flesh wound. Mr. Martin Rathgen, living on Swan and Sixth streets, was robbed Monday night of eight fine hens. Mr. Rathgen did not close up until 11 o'clock, so they were stolen after that hour. Ed. McDuffy, colored, was arrested yesterday evening on a warrant charging him with stealing a fish from Logan McKoy at Front street market. McDuffy said he only borrowed the fish from Logan. A handsome gold badge was presented to Mr. H. F. Haar, at the regular monthly meeting of Howard Relief F. E. Co. No. 1, Monday night, for efficiency as a member of the company during the year 1891. Schooner Alice J. Crabtree cleared yesterday for Santiago de Cuba, with 311,315 feet lumber and 50,000 shingles, valued at $1,275.32. Cargo by S. & W. H. Northrop, and vessel by Geo. Graves, Baltimore; Miss Lillie Smith, Augusta, were among the arrivals at The Purcell yesterday. Capt. E. W. Kerr, of Clinton, one of the Atlantic Coast Line attorneys, who has been sick for some time past, was able to be out yesterday and came to this city on business. Mr. Huggins, the Sunday school superintendent and a promising merchant of Wheeling, West Virginia, who has been visiting Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, an old time friend of his, returned Monday night much pleased with his visit. The following were among the arrivals in the city yesterday: W. R. McKay, Floral College; F. T. Mills, Whiteville; R. J. House, Greenville; W. Whitely, A. A. Munn, North Carolina; J. J. Howelton, Florence; A. A. James, Laurinburg; G. Finley, J. C. Murchison, Greensboro.

Has the Train Wrecker Been Caught?

A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., says the Richmond & Danville officials are happy over the arrest of a man who had confessed that he threw the heavily laden passenger train off the track of the Western railway of North Carolina, in September last, near Statesville. Twenty lives were lost in the wreck, and the railroad company offered $10,000 for the arrest of the wreckers. The name of the man arrested is given as John Boyd, a convict who had escaped from the North Carolina penitentiary, and who the dispatch says was put in jail in a North Carolina town ten days ago. The Charlotte Chronicle of the 2d inst., alluding to the above, says: The fact is true that John Boyd is in jail in Charlotte, and has been for two months, but he was put there by Mayor Brevard for stealing a cow from Mr. Jno. Morton, and not by the railroad detective, as the Constitution states.

Civil Service Examination.

Mr. F. M. Kiggen, of Washington, D. C., Civil Service Examiner, held the semi-annual Civil Service examination in the United States Court room yesterday for the purpose of examining candidates for the Departmental service. There were twenty candidates examined of whom nine were colored. Six were examined for clerk's positions, eight for railway mail service and six for copyists. One of the copyists was also examined in short-hand and typewriting. The papers of the candidates were forwarded to Washington, D. C., last night, where they will be marked in the course of ten days and each candidate notified as to the result.

ANNUAL MEETING

Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Children and Animals. The annual meeting of this noble, humane and philanthropic Society was held on Monday evening. Although the attendance was not large, the meeting was a highly delightful, pleasant, profitable and enthusiastic one. The election of officers being in order, the following were elected for the year: President—A. S. Heide. First Vice President—Dr. E. A. Anderson. Second Vice President—S. W. Holden. Secretary and Treasurer—F. A. Lord. After the election of officers—which in each case was unanimous—the following Board of Managers was duly elected: Messrs. A. S. Heide, S. W. Holden, F. A. Lord, P. Heinsberger, C. W. Ganger. Suitable resolutions were adopted regarding the members of the Society who died the past year. They are the following: The Society's Dead—T. J. Southernland, L. J. Poisson, Geo. A. Peck. The committee on resolutions consists of Rev. F. W. F. Peschau, D. D., C. H. Ganzer and ex-Mayor J. J. Fowler. After disposing of all business of this character, the Society entered into a lively, earnest and wide-awake discussion of cases of cruelty to children and also to animals. Attention was drawn to the deplorable fact that cruelty is now being shown and has been shown to cows, goats, mules and horses. It was reported that certain parties who deal in cows and who either live here or come from the surrounding country, when desiring to sell cows, sometimes do not milk them for two or three days, to make unsuspecting customers think that they give a great amount of milk. Some not only thus cruelly keep a cow unmilked for several days, but have muzzled young calves by tying small but strong strings around their mouths to keep them from sucking. This kind of cruelty called for many comments, that showed a deep interest in this matter. It was announced that if it were necessary several parties could be named who are guilty of such cruelty, and that some were waiting only for still further proof to put an end to such cruel treatment of innocent and helpless animals. Complaint was also made that some boys drive small goats in wagons entirely too heavy for them, and that some most cruelly beat them, jerk their bits until their mouths bleed, etc. The way many drivers of mules and horses drive them, after they have strained every nerve in pulling a heavy load of wood or coal through the deep sand, was severely criticized. Some hurry them in almost a full run down hill, lashing them severely when tired, worn and jaded, to make up, oftentimes, time lost in useless gossip. Some such cases have been reported to employers, who remedied the matter. The Society watches even more carefully in cases of cruelty to children and expressed its dissatisfaction at the way some children, apparently not more than eight, ten or twelve years of age, are allowed to drive horses in buggies, carriages, wagons, etc., by themselves on our streets. The inexperience of such children makes it dangerous for themselves, for the safety of others, and for the animals they drive. This should not be allowed. Cases of cruel punishment by whipping children too hard were discussed, as some had been reported. The cruel carelessness of so many children's nurses was warmly condemned and quite a number of cases referred to. It was decided that the Society call upon all parents who send their young children out with nurses to be kind enough to mark the baby's carriage with a neat nickel plate badge, with the initials of the father's name on it; so that cases of cruelty can be reported. This would be a great help to the Society and would greatly remedy the carelessness which causes cruelty. Some people think the Society's principal object is to punish evil-doers. This is a mistake; its principal object is to prevent cruelty and thus protect the innocent and helpless. May she be helped in her noble work and encouraged in it!

COTTON FACTS AND FIGURES.

Receipts of cotton here yesterday, 490 bales; same date last year, 552. Net-receipts of cotton at all United States ports yesterday, 32,696 bales. New York future market closed steady, with sales of 148,200 bales; February opened at 6.97 and closed 7.04; March, 7.07 and closed 7.09; April, 7.16 and closed 7.21; May, 7.27 and closed 7.28. N. O. Picayune: The only relief possible is for each planter to make his own bread, and where the climate will permit, his meat supplies. When these needs are provided for he can devote his surplus energy to the culture of cotton with the assurance that want and starvation will not compel him to sacrifice his cotton without regard to loss. Wisdom is often only gained through the most severe experience. We are ready to believe that the Southern cotton planters have at last learned some lessons about diversifying crops that will last them to the end of their lives. Savannah News: The farmers are very much in earnest in their desire to cut down cotton production, but unfortunately they want their neighbors to do what they do not propose to do themselves. The low price of cotton this season will do more toward reducing the next cotton crop than all the resolutions that have been passed, because thousands of farmers have neither the money nor the credit to plant as much cotton this year as they did last. However, there is no reason why the farmers should not call conventions and adopt resolutions. The resolutions cannot do any harm, and may do some good. The Augusta convention made one suggestion that had not been made by previous conventions. It is that commission merchants of the South who handle food products, assist in making a market for such products from Southern farms. If food crops could be made money crops, there would be less hesitation among Southern farmers in giving attention to them.

RAILROAD NOTES.

For the third week in January the Louisville & Hartsville reports a loss in earnings of $43,490; the East Tennessee reports a loss of $38,193; the Norfolk & Western a loss of $21,404; the Texas & Pacific a loss of $21,143; the Louisville, New Orleans & Texas a loss of $20,927, and the Memphis & Charleston a loss of $11,185. ATLANTA, GA., Jan. 30.—The injunction asked by the Georgia Railroad Co. against the Georgia, Carolina & Northern, which enjoins that road, which is now graded to the city limits, from condemning and using a portion of the right of way of the Georgia road, was granted by Judge Marshall J. Clarke today. It is a case of general interest, involving several points of vital importance to the railroads of the State. Under the special act of the Georgia Legislature incorporating the Georgia, Carolina & Northern, that road was given power to condemn and appropriate part of the terminal facilities of the Georgia road. Proceeding under this authority the new road sought to condemn a strip along the southern side of the Georgia Railroad's right of way about twenty-four feet wide, extending from Hulsey, just outside of the city limits, to Grant street, where the Georgia, Carolina & Northern depot is located temporarily. The injunction was asked for and granted as stated. The interesting point is on the power of the Legislature to grant in a special charter privileges not embraced in the general railroad charter. Judge Clarke's decision in effect declares that such special charters are illegal, and another point that is suggested is that other roads holding special charters granted since the passage of the general railroad law directed by the constitution are operating under void authority. A bill of exceptions is already in preparation, and the case will be carried to the Supreme Court.

A Bear-Skin Man.

The "bear-skin man," mentioned in the STAR some days ago, has been "cutting-up" again, and frightening women and children out of their wits. Last Thursday night, Herbert Paterson, a street car driver, while on his way home, was caught by the man, who grabbed Paterson by the collar, but the latter yelled so lustily that the bear-man ran off. The last of his victims was a colored woman, on the corner of Sixth and Castle streets, night before last. The woman said that while on her way home she was grabbed by the man, who attempted to choke her. She yelled "Murder! fire! police!" and officers Gordon, Woebse and White, hearing the cries ran to the place; but the man had escaped. Wilmington Seacoast Railroad. The annual meeting of stockholders of the Wilmington Seacoast Railroad was held yesterday when the following officers were elected: President—George R. French. Vice President—G. Herbert Smith. Directors—George R. French, G. H. Smith, B. G. Worth, W. H. Chadbourne, James H. Chadbourne, Jr., E. S. Latimer and Oscar Pearsall. It is the old board with the exception of Mr. Pearsall, who was elected in the place of Mr. H. M. Bowden. Capt. J. R. Nolan tendered his resignation as General Manager to take effect March 1st.

Weather Forecasts.

The following are the forecasts for today: For Virginia, cooler, west winds, and generally fair weather Wednesday; fair Thursday. For North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, continued warm, southwest winds and fair weather; fair weather Thursday, with cooler northwest winds.
