A. B. Butler, of Fresno, California, owns a 610 acre raisin-vineyard, said to be largest in the world. It brings an income of $300,000 a year. This is a nice way of raisin' cash. The New York Advertiser says that out of five thousand citizens drawn last quarter for jury service, but two hundred and twelve were found duly qualified to serve. What's the matter with the citizens of Gotham? That Illinois bad man who eloped, not only with his neighbor's wife, but also with his four children and his furniture, should not be encouraged, lest he come back and elope with the man and his house.

There is a Chattanooga Judge who don't believe in wasting time with divorces. He waits till he gets a hatful or so of cases and then dispatches them as a job lot. He granted thirty-two in three hours the other day. Richard Croker, Tammany Chief Sachem, does not hesitate to announce that Mr. Harrison's successor will be a Democrat, and that no matter what may turn up, Tammany will support the nominee of the Convention. Well, that's all right.

The coffin manufacturers of the country in meeting at Cincinnati, have formed a combine. This was a grave proceeding on their part. If they will follow this up by getting a combine on the cemeteries they may persuade people who are in a hurry "to shuffle off this mortal coil" that it would be cheaper to tug along with the coil.

A conference of the leading colored people in the black belt of Alabama has been called to meet at Tuskegee, on the 23rd inst., to consider the industrial, moral and educational condition of the masses, and the means of betterment. No politics will be allowed, which is sensible, as politics hasn't done the colored sovereign much good.

The Italian is not equipped with a hip-pocket attachment, and he don't need it as long as he can get in his work so effectually with the more reliable little stiletto, which seems to be the case if reliance is to be placed in the statistics which show that there are eight times as many murders committed in Italy as in any other European country.

A $300,000 tramp has been picked up in Indiana almost frozen to death because he was too penurious to buy clothes enough to keep him warm. He is 97 years old, and has been a tramp from boyhood. All his property has been accumulated from the proceeds of begging. An effort is being made to have a guardian appointed for him, but he has retained lawyers to fight it in the courts.

In a letter to the Department of State Minister Smith, of Russia, says there are thirteen provinces in European Russia where the famine generally prevails, and five more where it partially prevails. The thirteen provinces cover an area equal to the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Kentucky, with a population of 27,000,000. The other five provinces equal in area Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and half of Ohio. The population of these five provinces is nearly double that of the eleven States named. The destitution in any of the provinces is not universal, as many have the wherewith to support themselves, but he estimates the number actually suffering at 14,000,000, if not more.

S. V. White, grain speculator in New York, who broke some time ago in the attempt to corner the corn market, because he lacked just 500,000 bushels of being able to corner, has been readmitted to the Stock Exchange. He compromised with his Chicago creditors at fifty cents on the dollar; but his New York creditors, to whom he owed $1,000,000, released him on his word that he would pay them, with interest, when he got on his feet again.

At last accounts Mr. Callahan was holding the fort in the Nutmeg State. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. SOL BEAR—Liquors and wines. BANK NEW HANOVER—Div'd notice. BANK NEW HANOVER—Stockholders meeting.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Pertinent Paragraphs Pertaining Principally to People and Pointedly Printed. — Mr. J. G. Finley, of Greensboro, is in the city on business. — Mr. A. G. Hankins, who has been sick for some time, was able to be out yesterday. — Mr. W. B. Jordan, of Rocky Mount, the STAR's special agent, was in the city yesterday. — Mr. D. J. Aaron, of the Mount Olive Telegram, was in the city yesterday on business. — Mr. W. W. Larkins, a prominent merchant of Long Creek, was in the city yesterday on business. — Mr. Jno. G. Oldenbittel, who has been confined to his room for three months, was able to be out again yesterday. — Mr. B. F. Lee, travelling salesman for Messrs. W. E. Springer & Co., returned yesterday from a business trip over the Wilmington & Weldon railroad.

— Messrs. A. Baumlet, New York; C. G. Joyner, Baltimore; J. K. Look, Lancaster; S. M. Teachey, Allensville, Pa.; Dr. J. Y. Watson, Philadelphia, were among the arrivals at The Purcell yesterday. — The following were among the arrivals in the city yesterday: M. H. McBrady, Lurainburg; S. S. Nelson, Thomasville; H. E. Wells, Columbia; J. C. McCaskill, Maxton; J. E. Powell, Whiteville; W. H. Hudgins, Florence; L. M. Cromartie, Folsom; Z. H. Hales, Elizabethtown. — Messrs. J. Fleming, S. Rosenthal, R. M. Neelson, Baltimore; T. H. Pace, Orange, Mass.; E. B. Malone, Philadelphia; J. J. Phillips, T. W. Bush, R. D. Carver, Cincinnati; W. D. Zhuder, Lebanon, Pa.; A. Trunk, G. J. O'Neill, W. A. Lippitt, New York, are registered at the Orton.

Drumming Extraordinary. It looks a little "cheeky" for Raleigh papers to be drumming the insurance agents of Wilmington for the publication of their annual statements. And the heavy "inducements" they offer! Blessed Tony! Wouldn't the "big daddies" of the capital city think "passing strange" for a Raleigh insurance agent to have the statements of his companies advertised in a Wilmington paper?

Magistrate's Court. Wm. H. Love, colored, was tried yesterday before Justice W. McD. Evans, for the larceny of money and a pistol from Wm. Graham, and in default of $200 bond for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court was committed to jail. Love submitted in two other cases—one for malicious injury to property and the other for forcible trespass. Love is said to have been recently discharged from the State penitentiary.

LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted.

— Shad sold in market yesterday afternoon at $1.00 per pair. — The minimum temperature yesterday was 35 degrees, and the maximum 51. — The Bank of New Hanover has declared a dividend of three per cent, payable on the 11th inst. — Rev. Dr. Pritchard will preach at the Baptist Chapel, corner of Fifth and Wooster streets, to-night. — Track-layers on the "Wilson Short-cut," working from Fayetteville, reached Lumber river yesterday morning. — There is a perceptible odor of decomposed mullets about the Bostian Bridge affair as connected with the negro Boyd. What are you betting on, Joe? — Stockholders of the Bank of New Hanover will hold their annual meeting at their banking house in this city on Thursday, the 11th inst., at 12 o'clock noon. — Simon Jones, colored, was charged with embezzlement in Justice Bunting's Court yesterday, but the evidence did not sustain the charge, and the defendant was discharged. — There was a small fire yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, on the roof of a frame house in Wallace's alley. The Fire Department was called out, and the fire was speedily extinguished. The damage was trifling. — The fire-alarm was discovered to be out of order yesterday—caused by a broken wire. The defect was at once remedied, however, and tests were made about 4 o'clock which proved it to be all right again. — There was a very pleasant sociable given last night at the residence of Mr. W. H. Strauss, the occasion being their daughter, Miss Magie's seventeenth birthday. A goodly number of the young folks were out and enjoyed themselves very much.

— Receipts of cotton here yesterday 342 bales; same date last year, 334. — Net receipts at all U. S. ports yesterday 28,908 bales. — Spot cotton dull in New York at 7-7 1/2. — Futures closed steady with sales of 140,000 bales; February opened at 6.95 bid and closed 6.92; March, 7.02 bid and closed 6.97; April, 7.11 and closed 7.09; May, 7.21 and closed 7.17. — N. Y. Bulletin: The receipts now coming out undoubtedly astonish the "bills," and create a sentiment in favor of full crop estimates once more. The most significant feature to many, however, is the condition of Liverpool, which seems to have lost all natural power of resistance to bear attack, and goes off steadily without affording the least assistance as a fair counteracting balance to the swelling arrivals of cotton. In brief, as already noted, the weakness of the consuming end of the market seems to be becoming more and more evident, and private accounts at hand are even less encouraging than the public dispatches, while it may be added, that in addition to the increase of the movement, the pressure to realize upon actual cotton has been felt in a more decided degree, and holders are gradually making a modification of the value line. Altogether, as it stands, the market looks tame.

— The New York Journal of Commerce: The print cloth market was very strong and advanced 1-16c early in the week, making quotations for 64x84 cloths 3 1/2c. The market has since been quiet but firm. Cloths of 58x80 grade continued at 2 3/4c at Fall River and 2 5/8c in other markets. Business in prints was fair this week, though not so active in a duplicate way as might have been expected. Agents are still sold up on leading styles, and when jobbers have entered upon an active distribution of the goods general duplicating will be in order.

BY RIVER AND RAIL. Receipts of Naval Stores and Cotton Yesterday. Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta R. R.—177 bales cotton, 16 casks spirits turpentine, 289 bbls. rosin, 84 bbls. tar. Wilmington & Weldon R. R.—79 bales cotton, 12 casks spirits turpentine, 154 bbls. rosin, 85 bbls. tar. Carolina Central R. R.—75 bales cotton, 10 casks spirits turpentine, 41 bbls. rosin, 77 bbls. tar. C. F. & Y. V. R. R.—18 bales cotton, 68 casks spirits turpentine, 172 bbls. rosin, 93 bbls. tar. Steamer Cape Fear—3 bales cotton, 5 casks spirits turpentine, 316 bbls. rosin, 151 bbls. tar. Flats and rafts—10 bales cotton, 51 bbls. rosin, 159 bbls. tar. Total receipts—Cotton, 342 bales; spirits turpentine, 111 casks; rosin, 973 bbls.; tar, 869 bbls. A Grand Overture. Ovid Munnis is coming here on February 12th with his splendid company and will play a grand concert in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Don't fail to attend, for you cannot afford to miss it.

THE ALLEGED WRECKER.

The Sheriff's Story of the Prisoner's Confession.

[Charlotte Chronicle.] Jim Boyd is the third noted negro criminal confined in Charlotte jail in less than a year—Brabham and Dawnes being the other two. Boyd, as is known, is accused of wrecking the train at Boston's bridge on the 27th of last August. The incidents of his arrest were told in the Chronicle yesterday morning. The reporter yesterday made a requisition on Sheriff Smith to know as to the correctness of the published reports in regard to his prisoner. "It is true," said the sheriff, "that Boyd made a confession of wrecking the train." "How do you know?" asked the reporter. "I heard him," said the sheriff. The sheriff then went on to tell how that was accomplished. Boyd, with the negro spy employed by the railroad, was allowed to go into the small hallway between the two iron doors that lead into the jail. They were to wait there presumably, while friends came to furnish bond for their release. During the hour the sheriff allowed them to remain there, the confession was drawn from Boyd by the negro spy, and was overheard by the sheriff. Detective Haney and a short-hand writer, all of whom were close by. The confession was to be taken down in short-hand, but the candle in the dark lantern went out, and the listeners dared not move to secure another. The spy gave Boyd his confidence, telling him of several trains he had wrecked and how he managed it. Boyd then told of wrecking the train at Boston's bridge, saying the tools used were a crowbar, spike-lifter and monkey wrench. He told where he hid the two former, which were found in the place designated. The monkey-wrench he said he threw in the creek. The watches and money which he told the negro of stealing and hiding have also been found, says the sheriff. During the confusion, a slight noise from where the listeners were concealed startled Boyd, and he said to the spy, "Some one is listening." The latter assured him that it was only rats, so he proceeded to talk. After sufficient evidence had been gained by the detective, the sheriff turned the negroes back in jail, saying he could not wait any longer for their friend to come. Boyd has been identified, they said, by two of the parties in the wreck at different times, and out of a crowd of seven other prisoners. Sheriff Smith had Mr. Van Ness to take a photograph of the prisoner Monday. He says the negro has learned of the snare he has been caught in, and is dreadfully frightened.

VENUS AND JUPITER ARE SO CLOSE TOGETHER AS TO APPEAR AS ONE. Richmond Times, Feb. 4. Last evening as the orb of day veiled his face in the pink of his dying hues, after filling a cloudless sky with an enticing balm which drew forth the population like the first impulses of verdant spring, three lesser planets assumed control of night's illumination—planets of lesser brilliancy but transcendently beautiful and the cynosure of every eye—the Moon, Jupiter and Venus, a constellation rare in its combination, a celestial chandelier outshining all other heavenly lights and adding greatly to the beauty of the evening sky. Every one who has looked westward at nightfall for the week past must needs have seen the juxtaposition of Jupiter and Venus, as these two brilliant planets have drawn nearer and nearer night by night. During the present week they will continue to approach one another until on Saturday morning they will be so close that to the naked eye they will actually seem blended into one. Unfortunately the hemisphere of the earth with which we inhabit will be turned away from the place they occupy in the sky at that time, so that we shall be unable to witness this interesting conjunction. But on Friday evening the two planets will already have drawn so near together that their aspect will be that of a most splendid double star.

Capt. W. R. Kegan. Raleigh News and Observer: Having always felt a very warm interest in the military forces of the State and naturally a special interest in those of the Cape Fear section, it is with real and sincere regret that we learn of the resignation of Capt. W. R. Kegan, commanding that distinguished and gallant old company, the "Wilmington Light Infantry." We have known and admired him for many years as a brave soldier of the Confederacy, a useful citizen and a high-toned, honorable man, he has worthily commanded the esteem and confidence of all who know him. As a soldier he has always been noted for his faithful and conscientious discharge of duty, bold and fearless in his advocacy of what he believed to be the right, and untiring in his efforts to advance the best interests of the service. Such men can be ill-spared from the State Guard, and as one of its warm and constant friends, it is with real regret that we note Capt. Kegan's withdrawal from its ranks. Weather Prognostications. Lieut. Francis H. Sherman, U. S. N., in charge of the Branch Hydrographic office in Savannah, Ga., furnishes the STAR with advance sheets of the Pilot Chart for February. The weather forecasts for the month are as follows: Stormy weather is likely to prevail off the American coast and over the Atlantic generally north of the 35th parallel, where fresh to strong gales, principally from the westward, will be encountered about once a week. Northerly winds will occur less frequently in the Gulf of Mexico, but may still be of great violence. Icebergs and field-ice may be encountered off Newfoundland and over the Grand Banks, although the ice-season thus far has been very backward. The regions of frequent fog, as indicated on the chart, are over the Grand Banks and George Shoal.

ARRIVED AT WRIGHTSVILLE.

The Yachts Ferniente and Wanderer. Capt. J. H. Marshall, an old Wilmingtonian, came up to the city last night from Wrightsville, where he arrived with the steam yacht Ferniente, which he commands. Capt. Marshall reports that the yacht lost her rudder off Bogue Inlet, but with the assistance of Capt. Pratt, of the yacht Wanderer, accompanying the Ferniente, they were enabled to reach Swansboro, N. C., where they secured a team and drove across the country nine miles to a blacksmith to have a new rudder made. Having repaired the damage the party left Bogue Inlet Wednesday morning with prospects for a good run, but before reaching Wrightsville the sea got so heavy that they were compelled to run in for a harbor. Both yachts struck on the bar, but succeeded in coming safely to an anchorage at the Hammocks. The Ferniente is owned by Mr. Philip M. Prescott, of Washington, D. C., who will join the yacht here and spend a week gunning and fishing. The yacht Wanderer is commanded by Capt. William Pratt, who is accompanied by his wife and brother. Both yachts will reach Wilmington under the guidance of Capt. Marshall as soon as the weather permits.

SUPERIOR COURT.

In the case of A. D. Puffer & Sons vs. A. F. Lucas, tried Wednesday, the defendant appealed to the Supreme Court. The case of Godfrey Hart vs. Julia Hart, suit for divorce, set for trial yesterday, was continued for the delence until the next term. Maggie Bunting vs. Alfred Bunting, Judgment for plaintiff. Jesse Weeks vs. Emma Weeks. Judgment for plaintiff. Weather Forecasts. The following are the forecasts for to-day: For Virginia, variable winds, becoming slightly warmer, generally fair during the day, but with increasing cloudiness and rain Friday evening or night, cloudy weather with rain or snow on Saturday. For North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, warmer, south winds, fair weather Friday, probably cloudy weather or light rain Saturday. The Louisiana Lottery. The following will be read with interest (even though painful) by many who have been "trying their luck" for long and weary years. But the "L. S. L." has two years more to run, and this will be some consolation to its patrons: NEW ORLEANS, February 2.—John A. Morris, the principal owner and director of the Louisiana Lottery Company, will give notice in the newspapers to-morrow morning that he intends to withdraw his proposition for the re-charter of the company, and that the concern will wind up its affairs and retire from the field when his charter expires in 1894. This action is the result of the decision of the United States Supreme Court, declaring the anti-lottery law constitutional. This ends forever the great lottery war, which has been waging in this State for some time past and which has brought about a rupture in the Democratic party, and the nomination of two Democratic State tickets.
