The Russian Government has ordered Count Tolstoi, who has been in the famine stricken district working for the relief of the starving and disease smitten people, back to his estate because he wrote a letter describing the situation which was published in England, which the Russian Government says was "unpatriotic." Our friends in Congress seem to this city, left yesterday morning for Athave some trouble in coming to an lanta, Ga., where he will take a position understanding as to the policy to be in the Car Accountant's office of the pursued in the matter of appropriations for public building. The fellows who are already well supplied in that respect are opposed to making any more appropriations, while the other fellows who see a Government house in prospective are opposed to such an absolute shut down. They might compromise by resolving not to appropriate more than $50,000 for a building in any town that didn't have more than 145 inhabitants, two groceries, a blacksmith shop, and a grist mill, within ten miles of the center of the town.

THE PEARSALL MURDER.

Wightman Thompson Convicted and Sentenced to Be Hanged the 14th of

The trial of Wightman Thompson, for the murder of W. W. Pearsall, wife and two children, in Wayne county, near Goldsboro, December 23rd, 1891, took place in Smithfield, Johnston county, this week, and was concluded Thursday, the jury finding the prisoner guilty.

Judge Connor then in an impressive and solmen manner, sentenced him to be hanged Thursday, April 14th, and admonished him to invoke the blessings of the One who alone can deliver him before he met his awful fate. The jury signed a petition to commute his sentenced for imprisonment for life.

Thompson is a white man about 56 years of age, about 6 feet tall, weighs about 150 pounds. He was tried some years ago for killing his wife and was acquitted, was convicted of stealing a coat in Goldsboro and served a term of three years in the penitentiary, and had just been released about three weeks before the house of Pearsall was burned. He belongs to a good family in Wayne county, and at one time owned considerable property. He was said to be a kind of a quack doctor. Had several bottles of medicine, a hypodermic needle and a fever thermometer in his possession. All the evidence against him was circumstantial. No one saw the house when it was burned. Witnesses testified that Thompson said he had stayed at Pearsall's all night the night be-fore the fire, and went with Pearsall to Bob Ham's Wednesday morning. Pearsall left for home; he stayed at Ham's till 4 o'clock in the evening and then went to Goldsboro, arriving there early in the night. Witnesses testified that he was not seen in Goldsboro until 2 o'clock in the morning. Thompson went into the woods and got a valise. The value was more than a mile and a half out of the way, going from Bob Ham's to Goldsboro. The valise contained a coat and vest and pair of susenders which were recognized by witness as belonging to Pearsall, the deceased. Thompson had given a pair of ear-rings to a lady after the house was burned, which were recognized as be-longing to Mrs. Pearsall. The above are the material points of the evidence. W. T. Dortch, Esq., of Goldsboro, assisted Solicitor Pou in the prosecution, and made a fine speech. Messrs. Aycock & Daniels, of Goldsboro, and I. H. Pou appeared for the prisoner, and made able speeches.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW. The Meeting Last Night at St. James' Church.

According to the notice before given the commission of St. Andrew's Brotherhood held a public meeting at St. James' Church last night.

Mr. Wood gave an interesting account of the history and work of the Brotherhood. Rev. Mr. Lloyd followed in an earnest appeal for greater consecration, for more practical Christianity, for a truer appreciation of the character and life of Mr. Nash, as a practical man of business, urged the necessity of Christian work by men for men. After the public service, an interesting meeting was held in the transept, to ask questions of the commission and to talk over details. The commission left on the train for the North at 2:10 this morning, carrying with them the thanks of all who heard them, and the prayers of many for God's blessing on their work.
