THE STREET RAILWAY.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, APRIL 10, 1892.

Progress of Work at the Power House, etc. A STAR reporter, in his usual quest of news, chanced by the power house of the street railway company where the lights indicated that work did not stop at dark. By a route littered with builders and engineer's material and a ladder up the air shaft, the upstairs offices were reached. In contrast with the unfinished portion the office was habitable.

In response to the question as to the progress of the work during the past two weeks, Mr. Barnard replied that it was excellent-so good that he thought he'd better go away again and leave it in the hands of the others in charge.

"We have been most fortunate in the selection of our contractors," he said. "Mr. Garber's progress on the building from the day he signed the contract has been much more surprising than appears on the surface. In this class of work there are many hinderances. The carpenters and masons not only have to plan their work most exactly to prevent interference and delays, but in this case the problem has been complicated by the work of the engine builders. and the preparations necessary for good foundations for the latter. As an example of his management I recall that the contract with him was signed on a Wednesday, his complete bill of lumber was placed that afternoon and the first car-load had been cut in South Carolina, hauled to the mill sawed, shipped and delivered on the site by the following Saturday afternoon. This is only a sample. Every want has been anticipated and the material been at hand when wanted. "The engine contract has also been French nation. well managed. An unfortunate delay of two weeks caused by the breakage of a car on which the boilers were shipped three to ten inches in width, usually made much trouble, but in spite of that from four to six, and so rolls the road. steam could be turned on by Wednesday used. into a completed system. You can imagine that the superintendent, Mr. Hansen, has made good time when I tell you that since the receipt of the boilers, two weeks ago to-day, he has set them, put in a condenser, heater, pumps, and a complete system of piping and has only the small odds and ends yet to attach. "The fact that the track and line work are done is all that I need to say for Mr. Wilson. His has been a task requiring much good management. As you know, the lack of skill pavers has made rapid work a difficult matter. He was forced to stop track laying every block or two to enable them to catch up, and in the meantime work here, there or anywhere to keep the work progressing and to keep up his organized forces. He has been well seconded by Mr. Lassell and his various foremen, and can point with

THE BIBLE CONFERENCE.

Close of a Series of Interesting Meetings. The Needham-Fife Bible Conference closed yesterday at 9 a. m., and these gentlemen left for Oxford, where they begin a similar meeting to-day; thence they will go to Raleigh for a week and afterwards they will hold evangelistic services with the First Baptist church of Columbia, S. C., for a week.

Mr. Needham came South at the in stance of Mr. Fife, and is under his direction, though he is the chief attraction of the conferences, as he does nearly all the talking. He is not only a Christian gentleman of a very Ligh type, but is regarded by those who heard him as the ablest expounder of the Scriptures who has appeared in this city since Mr. Pearson was here four years ago; and, indeed, many think him even superior to Mr. Pearson. These meetings, certainly, were all eminent successes; beginning in the Y. M. C. A. hall, with a fine congregation Monday, at 11 a. m., his audiences steadily increased till they filled to overflowing the last two nights, the First Baptist Church. It was a week of unalloyed delight and great spiritual profit to Christians, and by a rising vote at the last meeting he was solicited to return to Wilmington and hold a similar meeting. When last heard from, the subscription for his benefit had reached about $160, and was probably a little more than that.

> The Predominant Characteristic. Fayetteville Observer.

The other day the Wilmington STAR entered upon its 50th semi-annual volume. In its quarter of a century of life and work it has made up a brilliant and eventful record-the Southern satrapies, bayonet rule at the polls, a Radical ridden State government, a satur-nalia of "scalawags" and "carpet-bag-gers" in high places, the perils and hor-rors of "Reconstruction," the "Holden and Kirk War," the political redemption of North Carolina and the revival of its material prosperity-and its proprietor can fearlessly say: "Our books (embracing this record) are open for public inspection at any and all times." Through all, the STAR has been true to its principles, leal to its convictions, faithful to the South, devoted to its people; and never shone brighter in its astral orbit than to-day. It we were going to pick out the predominant characteristic of the STAR from first to last we should select its level-headedness. Its judgment is admirable, and its sound sense "is there " every time. Brother Bernard, better than any journalist we know pride to some exceptional track and line work. "The part of the plant in which I take particular pride is the power station. The plans of this received the closest attention, and I would not change its arrangement for that of any-road that 1 know, and while many are larger, none contain any better equipments, or are better adapted to their purpose. I feel that the building is a credit to our company, and without conceit, I can say that it is an improvement to the streets on which it fronts."

SPECIAL SERVICES.

Meetings in the First Baptist Church There will be services in the First Baptist Church every night this week, and a prayer meeting every morning at half-past seven.

On Thursday, the 14th inst., the Rev. Geo. H. Simmons, of Ky., will begin an evangelistic series, and he is accompanied by the famous singers, Prof. T. B. Towner and wife. Dr. T. T. Eaton, of Louisville, Ky., writes to Dr. Pritchard of these Christian workers thus: "The Rev. Geo. H. Simmons has all of the excellencies and none of the faults of evangelists. He is every way admirable, pious, well-up in the Scriptures, able, earnest, and level-headed.

You are fortunate in getting him, "Professor and Mrs. Towner are the sweetest and most powerful gospel singers known to me. I was never nearer heaven in the flesh than when I heard them sing 'Old Time Religion." Be sure to have them sing in Wilmington."

They have labored much with Mr. Moody, and in August, 1889, Mr. Moody said: "Towner and his wife are unquestionably the greatest singers now living."

than six inches, and the rear axle is about fourteen inches longer than the fore, so that the rear or hind wheels run in a line about an inch outside of the line rolled by the fore wheels, thus, with a six-inch tire, two feet of road width is rolled by every passing wagon. The varied guage is also observed by cabs, hacks, and other four-wheeled vehicles, so that they become road-makers instead of rut-makers, as in our country. The cost of highway transportation over the properly built roads of France does not exceed one-third the like expense in the United States, it being common in the rural districts of France to haul three tons, and in the cities from three to five tons freight with one horse.

A definition of a volt, which, although somewhat unscientific, may prove suggestive to readers, is given in the Chicago Evening Post, in the following terms: "The volt gives one blow of a specific force. As volts are added together the force of the blow is increased until the endurance limit is reached. It takes about twenty-five volts to make a perceptible tingling sensation. When fifty volts pass through the body the tingling sensation becomes unmistakable, but not strong, while 100 volts feels lively, 200 volts strong, 300 volts powerful, 400 volts titanic, and 500 volts will knock a man flat."

Local Storm Warning.

The northwest signals were displayed yesterday at 5.30 p. m., by order of the observer in charge of the Wilmington station. Winds from that direction increasing in force but moderating by this morning were predicted. At 6.30 p.m. the wind velocity registered at the Signal station was 30 miles from the northwest.

The temperature last night was decidedly cool, and the Weather Bureau observers reported a strong probability of frost this morning.
