OUTLINES.

The Senate and House were in session yesterday; confirmation of Jno. W. Foster as Secretary of State; appropriation bills in both houses...

Ex-Speaker Keifer, of Ohio, came out from his hole to offer himself as a candidate for Congress...

We do not expect to see the Republican vote of Iowa very largely increased in the next election...

A French prophet predicts that by the year 2000 there will be no more poets. This is sad, but it is not so bad as those other fellows who insist upon knocking the world all to pieces...

The next meeting of the North Carolina Press Association will be held in Charlotte July 27th and 28th. That hustling burg will give the knights of the pencil, paste-pot and shears a royal time...

The oil wells of this country yield 130,000 barrels a day. It will take about that much to lubricate the Republican party machine in the next campaign...

It is said that Frederick Schwatka experienced a temperature of 71 degrees below zero, up in the Arctic regions. This isn't half as cool as it will be to Benjamin Harrison when he gets the returns from the November election...

Judge Gresham was altogether too thrifty and level-headed to throw up a $6,000 a year life job for the doubtful honor of becoming the Presidential standard-bearer of the t. p. and the certainty of being soundly walloped...

The New York Herald, which believes in keeping cool, will invest $5,000 in ice for the poor this summer. If the Herald could prevail on John Sherman to take up his summer residence in New York, it might cut down this ice bill...

A woman may not know how to throw a brick but that's no proof that she don't know how to throw a ginger cake. An old woman fired one at Mr. Gladstone the other day in Chester, a hard one, and came very near knocking his eye out...

Congressman Oates, of Alabama, was too gallant to oppose the bill to pension army nurses. If all who drew them were as deserving of pensions as the army nurses are there would be less ground for complaint among the people who foot the bill...

A new industry has put in an appearance in New York. An enterprising citizen goes around hunting for defective sidewalks, gets his leg broke and sues the city for damages. This industry is too much of an infant yet to claim the benefit of the protective tariff...

If you be puzzled over the way to pronounce Adlai, the given name of our candidate for Vice-President, it may help you out to know that Gen. Stevenson's intimate friends pronounce it "Adley." If he adds Illinois to the Democratic column perhaps the Democracy of the country may become sufficiently familiar with him to abbreviate this into Ad., as we do our Zebulon into Zeb.

Election campaigning in Ireland has nothing monotonous in it, although it must be confessed that cobble-stones, sticks, fists, smashed heads and hats figure somewhat too conspicuously. The rival factions may enjoy it but they are not furnishing thereby a convincing illustration of their eminent qualifications for Home Rule...

"Mr. Cleveland was nominated in Chicago by the votes of Territorial delegates."—New York Advertiser. Say, you fellow, do the Territories cast 617 votes? How about Harrison, who beat your man Blaine with Territorial delegates and office-holders from the South?

When Andrew Carnegie has his live wire fence, all fixed around his Pittsburgh steel works, he may hire some fellows to go inside and make faces at the strikers, while he keeps at a safe distance and notes the effect. Andrew is one of the highly protected.

Disappointed Truckers. The following extract from the Charleston News and Courier indicates that the early hopes of the truckers and fruit growers in that section were not fully realized:

"This has been a season in which every crop grown in this section showed up with unusual promise during its early stages, and then steadily lost ground until the harvest was over. The various kinds of truck followed this rule as a unit, and the fruit crop bids fair to follow suit. Three weeks ago it was confidently predicted by growers that this year's peach crop would be the finest which had been known in years. There was only one fear to menace it—too much rain, or enough rain to rot the fruit before it came to maturity. The early spring had been so dry that the vegetable crop in many instances had been seriously affected, and it was hoped that the drought would continue to hold until the peaches had reached a safe stage. But recently the rain has been coming down pretty steadily, scarcely a day passing without a shower, and many growers fear that the peach crop has been or will be seriously affected in consequence."

Paste This in Your Hat. The following practical suggestions may save some valuable life, and will be especially useful in a case of drowning when no physician is near, which is the general rule:

The body when recovered should be laid face downwards with a bundle of clothes, very often those belonging to the patient, placed under the forehead, another under the pit of the stomach, when a steady pressure in the back will eject all the water. Then turn the body over, face up, taking both the arms work them slowly from the body till they touch together over the head. At the same time let another person in unison press on the stomach immediately below the ribs. This is to produce an artificial respiration. Keep fanning and do not let a crowd gather around. While this treatment can be applied by anyone, a doctor should be sent for immediately. If the person does not come to immediately do not become discouraged, but continue this until hope is gone or until successful. The body should not be rolled on a barrel as the little vitality left will be shaken out by this.

By the method here given, aided later by a physician, a person can be resuscitated after being under water for five minutes.

RAILROAD NOTES.

President H. R. Duval and Traffic Manager Pennington, of the Florida Central and Peninsular Railroad, left yesterday for the North over the South Bound Railroad, after spending two days in Savannah in conference with the officials and directors of the South Bound. It is believed that the Florida Central and Peninsular Railroad people are fixed in their determination to secure a direct route from Jacksonville to Savannah and to form a through line from Tampa to Savannah, to compete with the Plant system. They are believed to have met with encouragement there.

The bid of the Finance Company of Philadelphia for the Three C's road in Tennessee has been confirmed, and the road goes into the hands of the company for $300,000. The company will seek early foreclosures on the portions of the road in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky, so as to get possession of the entire line, and then it will begin to improve the same. The road will then be completed to the point contemplated in the charter. The first work will be to build a branch line from Johnson City, Tenn., to Minneapolis, Va. This will be a direct line to the famous Pocahontas coal fields in Virginia, and the coal will be brought into this section at much cheaper rates than heretofore. One hundred and seventy-five miles of the road have been completed and in operation in South Carolina, thirty miles in Tennessee and a few miles in Virginia and Kentucky.

Last night Capt. Kenan received a letter from Senator Vance in which he says:

"Say to the good ladies I cannot be with them on Thursday, because I will not leave here [Washington, D. C.] until Friday morning, and if there, would not be able to attend. I can write no more. God bless you all.

Yours, truly, Z. B. VANCE."

OBITUARY.

James Randolph Corbett, of Bladen County. It is with sincere regret the STAR chronicles the death of Mr. James Randolph Corbett, of Bladen county, in the eighty-fifth year of his age. Mr. Corbett was a man of good physique and temperate habits, and retired Monday night, the 27th inst., in his usual health and spirits, to be found dead in his chamber the following morning. He was a man of sterling integrity, and great excellence of character. A superior farmer, a good Democrat, a pure patriot, a devoted Baptist, and a firm believer of the truth as it is in Jesus.

Another heavy rain fell here Tuesday night; the weather bureau recording 1.12 inches for the twenty-four hours ended at 8 p. m. yesterday. At Goldsboro the record was 2.12 inches. Light rains were reported at other stations in this district of the cotton belt. The maximum temperature at Wilmington was 83 degrees; the average for the district was 84.

I. O. O. F. A correspondent at Fayetteville writes the STAR that a new lodge of Odd Fellows will be instituted there Friday night, July 1st, with some sixty or more members. Grand Master Jno. D. Bellamy, Jr., of Wilmington, and other Grand Lodge officers are expected to be present.
