On the 31st of December last the Grand Army of the Republic numbered 407,781 members, but since then 6,404 have died and 60,000 have dropped out of the order.

Mr. Grant has sampled the mayoralty of New York until he is satisfied and don't want any more of it. The salary is $10,000 a year and it cost him $30,000 a year to run it in style.

It is said that Mr. Harrison's friends in Washington are privately scoring Blaine and Tom Reed for the slump in Maine, which they regard as a put up job to hurt Harri-

Mr. Blaine says the reason why he didn't register and vote at the last election was because he didn't care to travel and lose time in going from Bar Harbor to his home at Augusta to do it, and he got a Democratic friend to pair with him. THE NEW POSTAL SCHEME.

For a House to House Collection as Well as Delivery of Mails-The Postal Boxes and Their Cost.

The private letter boxes authorized by the Postoffice Department to be put up at house-doors by postmasters in towns that have free delivery at the request of citizens will be a great convenience, particularly if the boxes are large enough to receive newspapers. The petty pilfering of morning newspapers by roguish boys who follow the carriers on their rounds in the early morning hours have long been an annoyance alike to subscribers and publishers in Wilmington, and any arrangement that will put a stop to it would be popular.

This new system of delivery and collection of mails is regarded by postal experts as the most important departure in the free delivery of mails since the beginning of the system under Postmaster General Blair. Under this order letters will be taken from and delivered at the houses of any persons who purchase boxes of the kind prescribed by the department and put them up on their doors or walls.

The boxes vary in price from $1 to $2, and a given route is to be equipped when the postmaster finds that twothirds of the householders desire a new double service. The postoffice officials say that as no loss of time is involved to the carrier force, no extra carriers (except as the service naturally grows) are required, and if the saving of time through carriers not having to wait to deliver letters on given routes is considerable, enough extra deliveries, always a necessity, may be put on with the same force of carriers.

The change means that as fast as patrone of the mails desire them the two new facilities of immediate delivery to safe receptacles, and of collections directly from house-doors, will be within reach, without any expense to the householder except the first cost of the box. and without any departmental outlay at all, past or future, as the expense of the tests resulting in the adoption of the system has been borne by the inventors

It has already been decided to experiment without cost to the department with the house letter-boxes in rural communities, in conjunction with the country free delivery and the long star-routes, and it is believed that if this house collection system comes generally into vogue the robbery of letter-boxes will perforce be done away with.

THE RICE OROP.

Seriously Damaged by Rains in South Carolina and Georgia-The Cape Fear Planters in Luck.

Rice planters in the Cape Fear section have been more fortunate than the planters of South Carolina and Georgia this season. Their crops have sustained no damage so far and with a continuance of the good weather they are now enjoying harvesting will soon be completed Reports from South Carolina and Georgia, however, are of a very discouraging nature. In the Georgetown section much of the rice is becoming over-ripe and the floods in many of the fields have greatly impeded the work of harvesting the crop. What makes this state of affairs all the more annoying is that up to the present time everything pointed to an exceptionally large crop. Nearly every planter in that State has suffered from the protracted rains and floods.

The situation in Georgia is not much f any better. Reports were received in Savannah on Wednesday from the Altamaha and Satilla rivers that the rice fields are flooded, and the rice is float ing about on the water. The prospect is a very gloomy one to planters. Two weeks ago the crop was estimated to be the finest in years, both as to yield and quality. The quantity will be diminished little, if any, by the rains, but the quality will be greatly injured.

Mrs. Landin, wife of Mr. W. H. Landin, who drives the Armour Packing Company's delivery wagon, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon at their residence on Third and Davis streets. A STAR reporter was informed by Mr. Landin that in the afternoon word was sent him that his wife had tried to commit suicide by taking laudanum, and when he reached home he learned that she had taken tour ounces of the drug and had gone to Mr. Turley's house, a near neighbor. He went there and found his wife vomiting. Dr. Schonwald had been summoned and soon arrived and worked on the patient until last night. When the doctor left her he said there was no further danger. Mr. Landin said that he did not know why his wife took the laudanum, and the only reason she didn't die was that she took an over-dose.

To-Morrow Night at the Opera House,

"Killarney and the Rhine," a picturesque comedy drama, interpreted by an excellent company, is the attraction at the Opera House to-morrow evening. It comes highly endorsed as one of the best of this season's new pieces, and if newspaper criticisms are any criterion, the production is undoubtedly a most praiseworthy one. The company carry their own scenery, and all the latest and most popular music is appropriately introduced through the play. The company is headed by John E. Tool, a dialect comedian of national repute. The female contingent is headed by pretty Minnie Jarboe, a charming little creature with a soprano voice as pure as cream. The production has been put together in a most careful manner, the most minute details having been con-

Lieutenant Commanding First Division; G. H. Brockenborough, Junior Lieutenant; C. L. Hunter, Junior Lieutenant; M. P. Pegram, Jr., Ensign. Mr. Wilkes made a speech in which he stated that the company would be kept under strict military rule. During the winter the company will drill twice a month. These facts are gleaned from the Observer, and are given as a prelude to the query, what are the Naval Reserves of Wilmington doing? The division here is composed of excellent material, and there is no reason why it should not be the best in the State,

Pot Hunters, Beware. The usual annual misunderstanding has arisen among sportsmen in regard to the bird law, and it may be well to inform them now that the Legislature of 1891 amended the law and as it now stands the close season extends from March 15th to November 1st. The law makes it a misdemeanor to shoot, trap, net or kill any partridges, doves, robins, larks, mocking birds or wild turkeys between those dates. The penalty is ten dollars, and each bird killed constitutes a separate offence. That is to say, a bag of ten birds will cost you just one hundred dollars. The law should be amended as to mocking birds so that the penalty for killing one at any time shall be twenty-five dollars.
