Gov McKinley, of Ohio, says he isn't hankering to run for the Governorship again, but he isn't going to run away from it if the Republicans want to draft him

There is a school teacher in Colorado who expects to go into the dentist business some of these days. One of his modes of punishment is to pull the teeth of refractory scholars.

Doubts as to whether there are any Kentuckians in Idaho were cleared up at the last Presidential election, when in counting the ballots in one county a vote was found for "Old Hickory."

Representative Caldwell, of Ohio, is moving for a 1-cent postage. That is all very well, but what we want down in this country is better 2-cent service. We are not haggling when it comes down to a cent or two.

Ignatius Donnelly, the defeated Populist candidate for Governor of Minnesota, says he will henceforth sympathize with the Republican party. But what is sympathy worth to a corpse? In the case of Ignatius it wouldn't amount to a cipher.

The electrical mode of executing convicts in New York does not give satisfaction and an effort will be made to have capital punishment abolished. It is said that Governor Flower will recommend it. If they can't find a less shocking way of putting an end to convicts they had better abolish it.

The Russian Government thinks it gives education a big boost when it appropriates $2,892,000 a year for that purpose. But the average Russian hasn't much use for education. As soon as he demonstrates the fact that he knows anything and can do any thinking for himself he discovers that some other country is more helpful for him than Russia.

The U. S. Consul to Manila who has embraced Mohammedanism wants his countrymen over here converted, and has started a subscription to send missionaries over to us. So far about 30,000 rupees have been subscribed. Those unsophisticated Mohammedans who are so anxious to convert us had better keep their eyes on that ex-Consul and those rupees.

Col. Shepard, of the New York Mail and Express, is a truly good man. He hates the South and publishes a verse from the scriptures every day. But according to the evidence of his business manager who is now suing him for breach of contract he isn't above bribery. He bounced his manager because he wouldn't undertake to bribe some Republican officials who had city advertising to give out. The evidence shows that Bro. Shepard knew what he was about when he told his manager to "try them, they are weak and will yield easily."

As an ably edited and an enterprising, reliable newspaper the Baltimore Sun has not its superior in this country. Some of the so-called great papers of the large cities make it a habit to spread out, elaborate, make much out of little, and fill up with sensational matter which goes for a day and is not worth the paper it is printed on. The Sun pursues the opposite method, blue-marks sensation, condenses and gives the news of the day complete in a nutshell. It is a mirror of the events of the day which one can learn without wading through columns of stuff to get at the kernel. It is in the best sense a newspaper and with this is ably and tersely edited.

Private Dalzell, who announced some time ago that he was going to quit playing the soldier racket, has discovered that the demand for pension reform is "a rebel attack on the pensions." He has called a "business" meeting of the pensioners to be held at Caldwell, Ohio, June 22, 1893, to consider the situation. The pension agents will doubtless be there in force in person or by proxy.

The Chicago Tribune has discovered since the election that: "The Republican party is exceedingly dull if it has not learned from the last two elections that the less it has to do with the wool business the better it will get along." The game of pulling the wool over the people's eyes played out and that's what's the matter with the Republican party.

The work upon the tunnels by which the water-power of Niagara river is to be utilized has progressed so far that the first of August next is the time fixed for putting in the new motive-power in Buffalo. The motive power will be electricity generated at the Falls and transmitted by wire.

St. Matthew's Lutheran Church. Rev. Dr. Bernheim returned home last Thursday night, after an absence of nearly five weeks, and will preach at St. Matthew's English Lutheran Church to-morrow as usual.

The Doctor collected over four hundred dollars while at the North towards liquidating the church debt still resting on St. Matthew's.

The Christmas entertainment of the Sunday school of St. Matthew's English Lutheran Church will be given in that church on Tuesday evening next, the 27th of December.

LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted.

—George Lumford was fined five dollars in the Mayor's Court yesterday for throwing stones.

—The "young folks" had a german at Hibernian Hall last night. About twenty-five couples were on the floor.

—Those who are "short" on advertisements should try the new department of the STAR headed "Business Locals."

—The young man in knee-breeches is now praying for snow. That is all he needs to make his Christmas delightful.

—Get your tickets to-day for the Columbian Glee Club Concert Monday night. The box sheet is open at W. H. Green & Co.'s drug store.

—The Rev. F. D. Swindell, D. D., will preach at Grace Church to-morrow (Sunday) at 11 a. m., and at Market Street Church at 7.30 p. m.

—Our neighbors of the Express office had a busy time yesterday. The Christmas goods were piled "mountain high," or words to that effect.

—Dr. W. H. Green is still confined to his home with a severe attack of rheumatism, but he is improving and hopes to be out in a day or two.

—Rev. D. W. Herring is announced to preach at Brooklyn Baptist Church to-morrow night. His subject will be "New Plans for Missions."

—The K. K. Monogram Club gave their Christmas german last night at Germania Hall, with about thirty couples participating in the dancing.

—The pile of mail sacks received at the Postoffice last night was immense, and when their contents are distributed to-day many hearts will be made glad.

—The pupils of the Cape Fear Academy had a tin-horn parade yesterday and created a sensation. The blow was almost equal to the gale of last Tuesday.

—Mayor Ricaud gives notice that the ordinance prohibiting the firing of cannon crackers or other fireworks will be suspended from to-day until the 1st of January, inclusive.

—Prayer and experience meeting of working and business men as usual at 7.45 o'clock to-night at the Seamen's Bethel. Seafaring men and ladies are also invited to attend.

—Police officer Wood assisted officer Turlington in working up the case and making the arrests of the colored men now in jail charged with robbing J. O. Nixon's store.

—Reserved seats for the Columbia College Glee Clubs' concert at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Tuesday evening, will be on sale to-day at Messrs. W. H. Green & Co.'s drug store, Market street.

—The pastor of Fifth Street Methodist Church, Rev. L. L. Nash, D. D., will preach a sermon on the night of Christ to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The public is specially invited to this service.

—Lovers of music should not miss the concerts to be given by the Glee Clubs of Columbia College, Monday and Tuesday evenings next. The programmes embrace admirable selections, and will be rendered most excellently.

—Mr. R. H. Murphy, of Pender county, has sent to the STAR office a package of pecan nuts grown on his farm near Atkinson. Though not so large as some grown in Mississippi, they are of fair average size, and show that the nut can be profitably grown in this section.

OPERA HOUSE.

Harry Lacy in "The Planter's Wife."

One of the best plays of the season was presented at the Opera House last night by Harry Lacy and his troupe of artists. From the beginning the attention of the audience was intensely engaged and the intensity steadily increased as the play progressed.

Mr. Lacy is an actor of great ability and his support was all good, beyond comparison. Emily Rigel, as Edith Gray, the planter's wife, is one of the most artistic emotional actresses that a Wilmington audience has had the pleasure of seeing for some time, and applause greeted her frequently during each act.

Lizzie DuRoy, as Aunt Susan, Katie Hawthorne as Angie Gordon and Marion Keith as Dora Graham were all so good that to criticize each separately would consume too much time and space. Harold Hartsee, as the treacherous friend, played the villain to perfection.

Walter Walker, as a prisoner of war, showed himself to be a splendid actor, and George Hager, the historian, furnished fun so good that the audience was kept in a roar whenever he was on the stage.

Every one present seemed to be highly pleased and praise was lavishly bestowed. To say the least of the play, would be to say that it was great.

There will be no matinee performance to-day.

RAILROAD NOTES.

—Philadelphia Record: With the enormous expansion of railway traffic and the extension of local service on the great lines of travel there has arisen an imperious necessity for a block signal system that shall be substantially automatic. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is to make a thorough test of such a system between this city and Holmesburg station, and between Jersey City and Perth Amboy. The signaling under the new method will be done by the wheels of the locomotives as they pass over the tracks, and accidents due to the negligence of operators will be rendered impossible. In this branch of railroad engineering there is vast room for improvement, and the results of the experiment to be undertaken on the crowded local lines of the Pennsylvania system will be noted with interest by the public.

For the purpose of discovering what kind of machine would best be adapted for hauling fast trains to the World's Fair next year, four locomotives of the Pennsylvania railroad recently raced a mile on the Jersey meadows. The engines were from different parts of the system between New York and Pittsburg. Each engine drew two cars. They started from the terminal station at Jersey City. The "Baldwin compound" and the "Johnny Bull," an English engine, had demonstrated their utility as drawers of heavy trains, but did not show up so well on speed for a mile, as they covered the distance in sixty-three and sixty-five seconds, respectively. The Schenectady engine did the mile in just fifty-three seconds, which is equal to seventy-two miles an hour. This was considered good time, but the Pennsylvania's own No. 340, made in her own shops, did better, doing the mile in forty-seven seconds.

PRESENTATION TO REV. DR. PRITCHARD.

Ladies of the congregation of the First Baptist Church, last Thursday evening after prayer meeting, presented to Rev. Dr. Pritchard, their pastor, a handsome set of Bible Commentaries, as a token of their esteem and appreciation of his labors for the past nine years in this community. The commentaries number thirty-nine volumes, published and edited by Rev. Cannon H. D. Spence, M. A. The presentation was made through Mr. J. C. Stevenson in behalf of the ladies. Mr. Stevenson said it was an expression of the women's devotion to Dr. Pritchard as their pastor for the last 9 years, and this gift was given by them without any aid from the male members of the congregation. Dr. Pritchard replied with some appreciative and tender words, thanking them for this most valuable gift.

RIVER AND MARINE.

Arrival of a Schooner at Southport in Distress.

The Weather Bureau observer at Southport telegraphed to the Wilmington station yesterday afternoon as follows:

SOUTHPORT, N. C., Dec. 23.—The three-masted American schooner S. F. Davidson, Captain Silas A. Shaw, put in here in a leaking condition at noon to-day. She is bound for New York with a cargo of railroad ties from Satillo river, Georgia. The captain reports having encountered very heavy weather Sunday night about 8 o'clock. The day had been calm, but about the time mentioned a furious gale from the south south-west struck the vessel with tremendous force, causing a bad leak, which has kept the pumps going ever since. The owners of the vessel are Messrs. Hamel & Co., Philadelphia. Capt. Shaw has wired them and is awaiting their instructions.

The King's Daughters.

Mrs. F. D. Swindell, president, requests the STAR to announce that the United Circle of King's Daughters will meet in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian Church Thursday afternoon, December 29th at 8 o'clock. Pastors of churches are requested to make this announcement from their pulpits Sunday morning.

CHRISTMAS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The gymnasium classes under Prof. Clayton, will meet as usual at the Y. M. C. A. next week, except that there will be no class for the business men on Monday.

Any young man who is a resident of the city will, on application at the office, be presented with a ticket which will entitle him until January 1st to full privileges, including the gymnasium and baths.

A yearly membership ticket would be a good present for some young man's Christmas present.

The noonday prayer service continues to increase in interest. It has been decided to hold it as usual on Monday next, and to have it adapted to the season. All men are invited to attend it.

It was thought that the boys might not care to hold their usual prayer meeting to-morrow morning, but when it was suggested to them, they unanimously agreed not to omit it. Their subject for the day is "Salvation."

"The Great Man Parting Words to his Son," is the theme on which Rev. J. T. Jenkins will address the Men's Gospel Meeting at 4.45 Sunday afternoon. Miss Williams will preside at the piano and a gentleman will sing a solo.

"FRITZ IN IRELAND."

J. K. Emmet at the Opera House Next Tuesday Night.

The play of "Fritz in Ireland" will never wear out as long as actors with the genius of J. K. Emmet live to impersonate the jolly rollicking German emigrant. All the old popular songs have been retained and new features added. Emmet will sing the new song composed for him, "Alpine Rover," and Baby Spencer, the little five-year-old tot, who is an infant prodigy, will both sing and dance. And the Irish jaunting cart and its donkey, the infant choristers, the mammoth church organ and the imported chimneys—all go to lend new features to the entertainment. This array of fun and talent has a gorgeous stage setting. The scenery in "Fritz" is entirely new and is carried by the company. It is painted by the best scenic painters in New York. There are five splendid sets; the scene of "Fritz's" home on the banks of the classic Rhine; the moonlit scenes on the Lakes of Killarney; the interior of the ancient baronial castle of Heatford, and an exterior landscape view of the same. The company supporting Emmet is the strongest he has yet had.

COTTON FACTS AND FIGURES.

—Spot cotton quiet and steady in New York at 9 1/2c, and firm in Wilmington at 9 1/2c.

—Receipts of cotton here yesterday 724 bales; same day last year, 883. Receipts for the week ended December 23d, 6,711 bales; same week last year, 5,855. Receipts for the crop year to date, 135,623 bales; for the same time last year, 181,443.

—New York futures closed barely steady and 6 and 7 points higher than closing quotations Thursday; January opened at 9.47, and closed at 9.58; February 9.65 and closed 9.75; March 9.77 and closed 9.82; April 9.86, and closed 9.92; May 9.96, and closed 10.02; June 10.05, and closed 10.11.

—Our advice to the farmers has been to continue their economical habits for another year; to hold down their cotton acreage as they did this year and to carry to a greater extent the resolve to raise food for man and beast on the farm. If our Southern farmers will raise at home all the provisions they need, and not have to buy it all in the West, they will soon be able to snap their fingers at that grim specter "Hard Times." The South could not make a graver mistake than to produce another big cotton crop next year. They are on rising ground now. Let them continue to be economical, and pitch another small cotton crop if they want to be prosperous.

Good for Fayetteville.

There are hundreds of Wilmingtonians who are interested in Fayetteville and who will read with pleasure the following from the Gazette:

A basket factory is the latest addition to the industries of Fayetteville, all the stock for which has been subscribed by Fayetteville and Wilmington people. Operations will begin as soon as the plant can be located and built. Score another victory for Fayetteville. A bent wood factory, saw and planing mills, water works and a basket factory—all new enterprises—will do pretty well for one season, with the outlook promising for another year and blind factory in the near future. Fayetteville enjoys transportation facilities superior to any interior town in North Carolina, and must some day become a great manufacturing centre.

Funeral of Mrs. Jas. Nolan.

The funeral of Mrs. James Nolan took place yesterday forenoon from the residence of Mr. P. Donlan, in this city. Rev. Father Denrin conducted the services. The pall bearers were Messrs. Isaac Bates, M. J. Corbett, D. O'Connor, James Madden, T. Donlan, J. H. Sweeney.

Dr. Russell Bellamy arrived last night from New York, having been granted leave of absence for two weeks from his duties. The STAR feels a real interest in Russell, he having once been one of its special reporters, and is proud of the success he has already won and of the brilliant future before him.
